Some area businesses closing

First day of county fair to host community picnic

Special measures have recently been taken in an attempt to make the first full day of the Fayette County Fair a memorable occassion.

The Fayette County Fair Board, in conjunction with the Fayette County Bicentennial Commission, has billed July 26 as "Bicentennial Day at the Fair." Many events have been scheduled for that Monday, and Fair Board Chairman Eddie Kirk hopes that the day will become part of "the biggest fair ever held in the county."

The chairman of the Fayette County commissioners, Robert Mace, noted that his office will close at noon that day.. Letters have been sent to all other Courthouse offices informing them that they may also observe "Bicentennial Day at the Fair" in this manner if they so desire.

According to Kirk, all Washington C.H. banks will be participating in the holiday, and many local businesses will also close for all or part of the day.

It is hoped that a large turnout of area residents will be present on the fairgrounds for a noon picnic on the special day. It is asked that all participants in the picnic dress in old fashioned garb. Those who follow this recommendation will be presented with certificates by the fair board, and a "best dressed" judging will take place later. Prizes will be awarded according to age categories.

A horseshoe pitching contest is slated for later in the afternoon, and then during the evening, an old-fashioned, big-wheel sulky race has been planned. Six of these antique type sulkies will be entered.

To fill an afternoon time gap between the horseshoe contest and sulky race, Kirk has suggested that anyone who has any ideas may contribute by calling him or George Finley. Musical groups, singers, or dancers are a few types of entertainers that Kirk hopes will participate in the open time a slot.

Admission to the fairgrounds is free dailiy until 4 p.m.

WSHS girl captures top state honor in science test

School's first ever, officials believe

Recently released results of the Ohio High School Scholastic Achievement Tests show a Washington Senior High School freshman achieved first place in the general science category.

Kim Elcess, the daughter of Washington Senior High School English teacher Ann Elcess, placed first in the general science individual competition. The test was taken by 1100 high school students statewide.

According to school officials, this is the first time a Washington Senior High School student has gained the state's top spot in a scholastic achievement test. The school has placed student teams in the first position for district achievement test competitions, but has never had a statewide winner.

The fifth annual individual and team awards program tested a total of 22,000 Ohio high school students in 16 subjects. Other categories besides general science were those dealing with English, foreign languages, mathematics, and social sciences.

Although the competition program has gone through many changes in the past, this was the 48th year the Ohio Tests of Scholastic Achievement have been offered to outstanding Ohio high school students.

Other Washington Senior High School students took honors in district competition within the different categories.

Jinnie Harper, 19th in Biology; Debbie Kingery, state honorable mention in general science; Kurt Smith, ninth in general science and 19th in state for this category. Bret Wilson, 19th in American history.

John Walker, 12th in American history.

John Walker, 12th in American history; Becky Wheat, 11th in American history, State honorable mention; Galen Bock, 12th in American government; Andy Merritt, ninth in American government; David Thompson, fifth in American government, state honorable mention.

TOPS IN STATE — Washington Senior High School freshman Kim Elcess placed first in the general science category of the Ohio Scholastic Achievement Tests held recently. She is flanked on the left by her mother, Mrs. Ann Elcess, English teacher at the high school. Ken Higgins, representing the State Department of Education presents Kim with her trophy.

Levi move may bring political heat

Busing may become hot campaign issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi is moving toward a lonely decision that could make school busing a major issue in yet another national political campaign.

But Levi's decision will have no immediate impact on court orders imposing busing in Boston and other cities. It's doubtful that the course Levi is considering could actually lead to any changes in local school districts until next year — after the 1976 elections.

White House and Justice Department officials insisted Wednesday that Levi alone will decide whether to use the Boston school case as a vehicle for the federal government to seek new Supreme Court guidelines limiting the use of busing to integrate schools. His decision is expected this week.

The debate has split the Ford administration and the Justice Department itself as various officials lined up on opposite sides.

Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman, the only black Cabinet member and a former civil rights lawyer, discussed the matter with Levi privately. He declined comment on the discussion, but he has said he supports the Boston school busing order.

The chairman of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, the League of Women Voters, a leader of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and 500 delegates to the National Conference on Desegregation Without Turmoil all urged the department not to seek new busing guidelines, particularly in the Boston case.

The national controversy may push the issue toward the forefront of the political campaign. It's already a major issue in Kentucky, where President Ford faces a primary election on Tuesday.

But department officials insist that Levi will not be swayed by partisan considerations.

And Ford tried to brush off any hint that the timing of the move might be aimed at gaining antibusing support in upcoming primaries. Ford said, "We have made a major effort not to inject busing into the campaign. We hope we can keep this type of matter away from the emotional involvement of this problem and the primary elections."

Ford said he has asked Levi and David Mathews, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, to look for alternatives to busing.

Whatever course Levi takes may change votes, but it won't change court orders imposing busing any time soon, if ever.

If Levi proceeds with the plan he is considering, he would simply file a friend-ofthe-court brief asking the Supreme Court to review the Boston busing order.

Department motions are believed to carry considerable weight with the justices, but there's no guarantee that Levi could persuade the court to take the case.

And if the court should decide to hear the case, there's no guarantee that the justices could be persuaded to accept the Ford administration's proposals on how busing should be limited.

Furthermore, a decision would be unlikely before next year. Until then, court-ordered busing would continue under present rules.

Busing to cut across district

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Some of the 23,000 students in Wilmington's city and suburban school systems will be bused to classes beginning in 1977 under a court-ordered desegregation plan that cuts across school district boundaries.

It wasn't known immediately how many of the pupils in the mostly black city system and the primarily white suburban districts will be affected by the order issued Wednesday by a panel of three federal court judges.

Federal courts in at least two instances have required busing across current school district lines to meet the 1954 U.S. Supreme Court ruling banning separate-but-equal schools systems.

Louisville, Ky., is operating under a court-ordered busing plan which cut across school district boundaries and led to the merger of city and county school systems. A court-ordered desegregation plan for Indianapolis has been stayed for an appeal.

The Supreme Court ruled in 1974 in a case involving Detroit that cross-district busing is a valid tool for integration only when it has been proven that the suburban school districts also were intentionally and illegally segregated. In that case, the court found that only Detroit's school system was illegally segregated.

Other major desegregation plans, ordered for Boston, Denver and Charlotte-Mecklenburg County, N.C., do not cross government boundaries for integration.

In the Wilmington case, the court's order follows by more than a year a decision by the panel that the rights of city school students were violated through a variety of policies which fostered segregated city and suburban New Castle County schools.

Brown: new face, new politics?

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Jerry Brown has been a political mix of liberal and conservative in 16 months as California governor. He has made few sweeping changes in state government, but he has made an impact in areas ranging from sex laws to education spending.

Brown, who put a dent in the Jimmy Carter bandwagon by beating him in Maryland's Democratic presidential primary on Tuesday, rarely affects people in a neutral way. He is often viewed as representing the best or the worst of the "new politics" in the United States.

A leader of people, Brown says, must set a tone. He talks a lot about "lowered expectations" and limits on what government can do for people. "I see nothing wrong with a creative pause," he says.

Many columnists describe the 38-year-old governor as the most interesting politician in the country today. Provocative, flashy, bright, anti-big government, young, on the move, moving up.

But his foes say he has implemented a "politics of drift" in California since he took over from GOP presidential contender Ronald Reagan. They find him ambitious, cold, shallow, sanctimonious.

Much of the debate centers on the record of this tall, thin, animated politician who often tells reporters about his 16-hour-a-day, six-day work week and calls campaigning his idea of "a perfect day."

Brown, a former seminarian who is fond of Biblical quotes and philosophical dialogue, doesn't do much to clarify his record. He says he is not a sixpoint program man.

Brown's stance — offering more questions than answers — gives fuel to his critics. But he has retained his unprecedented high in popularity polls.

Brown, the son of former California Gov. Edmund G. "Pat" Brown, has taken a conservative tack on several grounds: keeping a no-new taxes pledge and signing bills imposing mandatory prison terms for heroin pushers and for the use of a gun in the commission of some crimes.

The state budget, now $11.8 billion, increased by 10.6 per cent in Brown's first year in office. That compares to an average annual increase of 12.2 per cent in the Reagan years. Brown worked with legislators last year to cut a proposed school finance bill from $220 to $115 million, then used his veto power to cut another $27 million. His finance department officials have testified against proposed spending increases for other social services, including Medi-Cal.

At the same time, he signed a bill sought by liberals abolishing a $40 million annual oil depletion allowance for major oil companies. He issued an executive order forbidding state-chartered savings and loan associations from redlining ghetto areas and denying loans to the poor or members of minority groups.

He also pushed for a constitutional amendment, now on the June 8 ballot, which would make it possible to increase bank and corporation taxes on a majority rather than twothirds legislative vote. And he signed bills liberalizing marijuana penalties and repealing sex laws used against homosexuals.

Eye ground bone in meat products

WASHINGTON (AP) — There will be some finely ground chips from pig and cow bones in your hot dogs if the Agriculture Department carries through with its plan to let food processors use machines to gnaw meat closer to the bone.

But those bone chips should not be noticeable and, besides, they are a good source of calcium, the department says.

The plan is to allow deboning machines to scrape the bones of processed livestock carcases. Deboning machines are used now by the industry but not in the final bone scraping manner being urged by the Agriculture Deprtment for processed meat products.

The department's plan would allow processors to include up to one pound of bone chips in every 100 pounds of meat to make such things as pork sausage, canned beef stew and frozen pizza.

Officials say the technique could add nearly one billion pounds of meat a year to the U.S. food supply, about five pounds per American.

The department, explaining the new approach, said, "Under traditional hand deboning methods, loss of meat typically occurs when packing house employees attempt to cut the meat from neck bones, ribs and backbones. Mechanical deboning machines can strip such bones clean of all meat that otherwise would not be gotten by hand deboning."

In the process, however, the department said that "a small amount of very finely ground bone" would be left in the meat. The proposed regulations would allow up to one per cent "calcium content" in mechanically deboned meat for processing.

The plan was criticized by Rodney E. Leonard, director of the private Community Nutrition Institute, who said "there are no microbiological standards" in the proposal and that there is a greater threat of bacterial contamination when such scrapings are processed into food.

Leonard is a former USDA executive who during the 1960s was head of a consumer and marketing agency which included federal meat inspection.

Officials said they recognize the issue is controversial and therefore will hold "consumer briefings" on the proposal, which will be opened for public comment at least through August 25.

The first briefing will be at the department's headquarters on May 26. Others will be in Sacramento, Calif., June 11; New York, June 23; and Chicago, July 8. Anyone wishing to submit written comments can send them in duplicate to the Hearing Clerk, Room 112-A, USDA, Washington, D.C. — 2050.

New Kennedy in politics

BOSTON (AP) — Joseph P. Kennedy III, oldest of the new generation of Kennedy men, is getting his baptism in politics by managing the re-election campaign of his uncle, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

The son of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy says he will use the experience to decide whether to run for office himself someday.

Though only 23, Kennedy emphasizes that he alone directs the statewide campaign for the Democratic senator, whom he calls "Uncle Ted."

"He's let me have a pretty free hand in this," Kennedy said in an interview. "I'm running this operation."

Kennedy, tall and rugged, presides over a small paid staff in a barren suite of offices in a downtown Boston office building.

With his boyish face and bushy hair, he looks so much like his father and uncles that people approach him on the street and ask if he's a Kennedy.

Asked if he would like to seek office, Kennedy said, "Certainly it interests me. That's why I'm involved here.

Intelligence panel has same old faces

WASHINGTON (AP) — A majority of the Senate's new intelligence committee will be members of existing panels whose failure to curb spy agency abuses provided a principal argument for creation of the new committee.

Under terms of a resolution establishing the new panel, at least eight of its 15 members must come from the four Senate panels that traditionally have monitored the CIA, FBI and other spy agencies. The resolution won overwhelming Senate approval Wednesday.

Majority leader Mike Mansfield will pick eight Democrats to serve on the panel and minority leader Hugh Scott will tap seven Republicans.

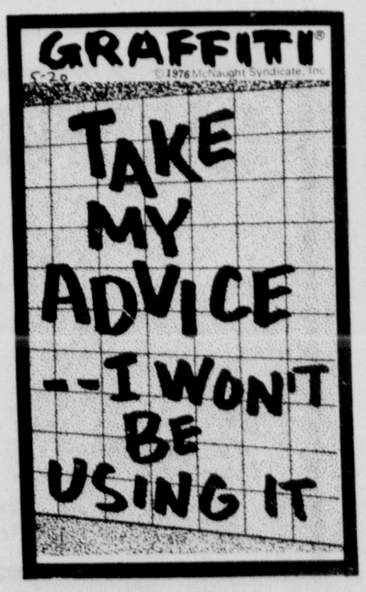

The resolution originally called for a 17-member panel but the number was cut to 15 under an amendment by Sen. Howard Cannon, D-Nev.

Keeping the number at 17 "would not give due representation to the senators who make up the standing committees on Appropriations, Armed Services, Foreign Relations and the Judiciary," which currently oversee the intelligence agencies, Cannon said.

Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., contended reducing the number would put the eight members of existing panels "in the driver's seat" and would represent "a vote of confidence" in their past performance.

"I do not see how the track record is deserving of any vote of confidence by this body in the existing committees," Weicker said. "They have been in the driver's seat and the track record is an unmitigated disaster."

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the current intelligence committee now winding up a 15-month probe of the spy agencies, said the new panel would become the focal point for action on many of the nearly 200 recommendations made by his committee's final report.

Deaths, Funerals

Patrick R. McDermott

JEFFERSONVILLE — Services for Patrick Ryan McDermott, 79, who made his home with a nephew, Marion Gill, 10 Fent St., Jeffersonville, will be held at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Richard Memorial Home, Springfield, with the Rev. Randall Peters, associate pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church officiating.

Mr. McDermott, a retired employe of the Bauer Brothers Co., died at 9 p.m. Tuesday at his residence. Born in Springfield, he had lived here most of his life.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Martha Lacorse, Wyandott, Mich; a son, William of New Orleans, La.; several grandchildren and nieces and nephews. His wife, Mary Frances, died in 1975.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 until 9 p.m. Thursday. Burial will be in Ferncliff Cemetery.

B. WAYNE KELLEY — Services for B. Wayne Kelley, 74, of 125 River Road, were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, Washington C.H., with the Rev. Charles Simmons officiating. Mr. Kelley, a retired farmer, died Sunday.

Mrs. Wayne Dowler sang two hymns, accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Spahr, organist.

Pallbearers for burial in Bloomingburg Cemetery, under the direction of the Porter Funeral Home, Mount Sterling, were Marion Burr, Donald Mace, James Tope, Ed Scharenberg, Kenneth and Foster Kelley, Leonard Miller and Glenn McCoy.

MRS. DON E. GARRISON — Services for Mrs. Ruby Garrison, 61, wife of Don E. Garrison of Clarksburg, were held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Clarksburg United Methodist Church with the Rev. Michael Wright officiating. Mrs. Garrison, owner of Don and Ruby's Restaurant in Clarksburg, died Sunday.

Mrs. George Skinner and Mrs. Glenn E. Ater sang two hymns, accompanied by Mrs. Tom Kern at the organ. Pallbearers for burial in Brown's Chapel Cemetery, near Clarksburg, were Richard, Merton, Oscar, Carl and Robert Garrison and Wayne Delong.

Governor defends side trip

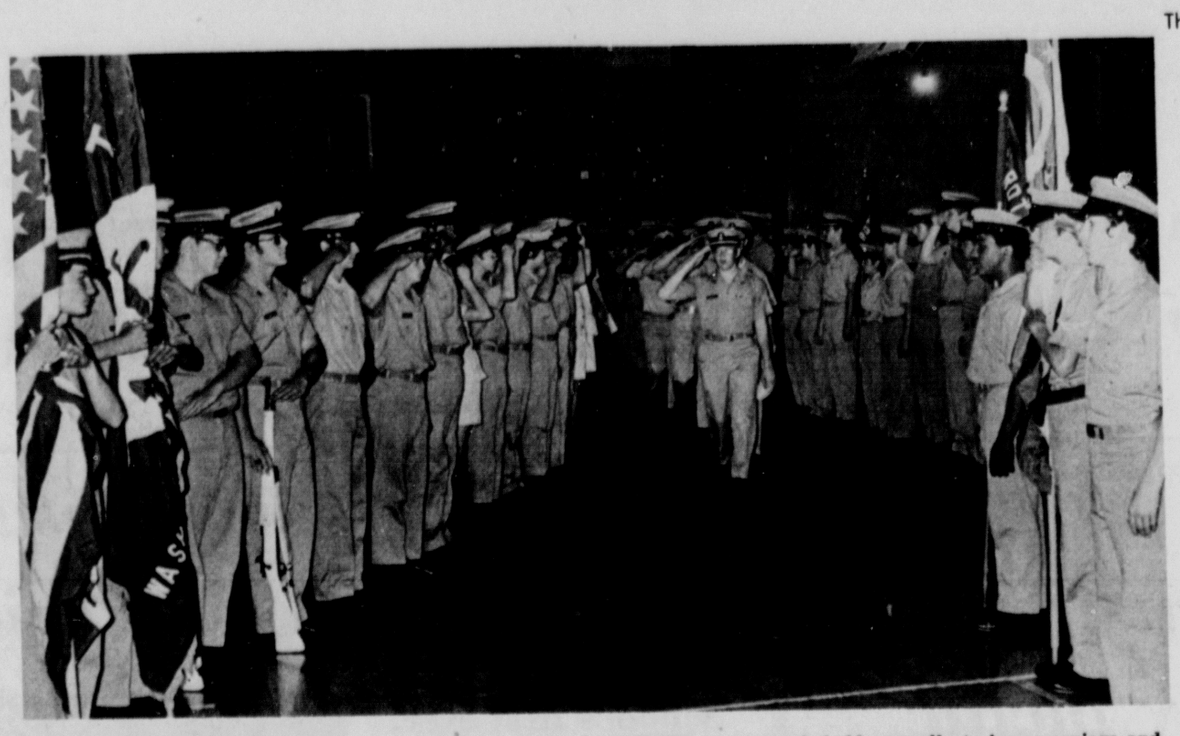

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes' appearance at a Wendy's International Inc. convention in Atlanta was described by the governor Wednesday "a very minor stopover" in a trip devoted to state business.

Rhodes, a Wendy's stockholder and unabashed promoter of the hamburger chain, was questioned about the Tuesday visit during a news conference. He maintained it represented no conflict of interest.

But he also said he has no plans to begin making his travel schedules public. The Atlanta trip was not announced, and Rhodes' office as late as Tuesday morning was saying only that he was in Atlanta regarding "industrial development."

Rhodes said he flew to Atlanta to talk with representatives of Italian manufacturing firms who are exploring the possibility of leaving Italy if the Communist party wins national elections there next month.

He said he met with "six or seven" industrial representatives, whom he declined to identify. Rhodes said he also met with representatives of the federal Energy Research and Development Agency, urging a $2.5 billion addition to the present uranium enrichment plant at Piketon as an option to a new center in Dothan, Ala.

Coldiron named 'Cadet of Year'

NJROTC awards ceremony

Numerous awards were issued Tuesday in Washington Senior High School as students in the Naval Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps (NJROTC) were recognized.

This year's top prize, the "Cadet of the Year" award went to Cadet Commander Russell Coldiron, graduating Company Commander. Some of the qualifications required of the recipient were that Coldiron be "tops in leadership, in personal and military appearance, a service to the unit, and the one cadet involved in the most NJROTC activities."

Twice each year, the Washington Senior High School's NJROTC joins ranks in company formation with all members present.

One of these company-sized formations is the annual NJROTC awards day ceremony held each May to honor graduating cadets and individual cadets who have distinguished themselves within the unit during the course of the school year.

The seventh annual NJROTC awards day was held in the high school gymnasium. The event is always well-attended by parents of the cadets.

The farewell pass-in-review in honor of this year's senior cadets was not one of the Unit's best, according to Senior Chief Petty Officer Ken Hays, the assistant naval science instructor at Washington Senior High School. Plans had been made for the awards day ceremonies to be held on the tennis courts, because of the larger area for troop formations. The instructors' decision to move the formation inside was made reluctantly at the 11th hour.

Also, for the first time ever, Superintendent Edwin Nestor was unable to arrange his busy schedule to allow his active participation in the awards day ceremonies. He has traditionally awarded the Reserve Officers Association Medal to the distinguished second year cadet.

Nestor's presence was sorely missed since he was influential in establishing a NJROTC unit at Washington Senior High School in 1969, and he remains one of the units strongest supporters.

NJROTC cadet commander Russell Coldiron, commanding the company for the last time, called the formation to "attention" as Retired Navy Commander H.W. Vail, naval science instructor at Washington Senior High School, escorted officials to the reviewing area to commence the ceremonies.

The following cadets were singled out for individual recognition—

—Most outstanding in personal appearance, female cadet Rene' Johns and male cadet Phillip Russell.

—Most professional presentation of a platoon by a cadet officer, Devik Hargo.

—Seven special Commendation Certificates for sustained superior performance, Kevin Earp; David Hollar, Rene' Johns; Brance Johnson; Keith McCoy; Gary Penwell; Rick Roberts.

—Distinguished Marksman Medal, cadet Mike Hughes.

—Distinguished first year cadet Richard Humphrey was presented the "Daughters of the American Revolution Medal."

—The Distinguished second year cadet Phillip Russell received the "Reserve Officers Association Medal."

—The Distinguished third year cadet Vicki Straley was presented the "Military Order of the World Wars Medal."

Following presentation of the awards, Commander Vail named Brad Tolle to replace Coldiron as leader of the 100 member Unit for the first semester of the 1976-77 academic year.

After a pass-in-review was conducted by Tolle, the 85 underclass cadets formed a long cordon. As the graduating NJROTC cadets filed through their ranks, they rendered a final "hand salute."

Hays expressed gratitude for the support given to the NJROTC by members of the community, school board officials, school administrators, faculty members, and fellow students. A special thank you was expressed to all cadet parents.

He added, "Without the professional coverage and continuing support of the Record-Herald staff, nearly all the NJROTC activities which take place would go unnoticed by the residents of Washington C.H. and Fayette County."

The chief said, "to the best of my knowledge, the Record-Herald is the only newspaper anywhere in Ohio to be officially commended by Navy Department officials." He was referring to ceremonies in Columbus on Aug. 9, 1972, when the late editor Robert S. Rochester accepted a special award from the Navy "for service to the community, the Navy and country."

Skateboard fever worrying doctors

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — Twelve-year-old Michael Lolla knows how dangerous skateboards can be. His mother broke her leg on one.

But Police Chief Charles McLaughlin hasn't convinced other kids here that skateboarding is dangerous on streets and sidewalks, especially since the town's 51-year-old mayor rides one.

Mayor John Carey, figuring that seeing is believing, stepped on his daughter's red skateboard Wednesday night and zipped several hundred feet down a mild slope, dodging cheering kids.

His form was beautiful — even when he landed on his behind, unscathed and his suit unsmudged.

"All sports are risky," he commented after brushing his hands off.

But some doctors are saying that the sport is too risky.

"There's really no way you can make a skateboard safe," said Dr. James Rector, chief resident in orthopedic surgery at Denver's Childrens Hospital.

"Several years ago skateboards were taken off the market because of the danger, but they supposedly were improved and came back on. But just as many injuries are being reported ...," said Dr. Harvey Kravitz, a Morton Grove, Ill., member of the American Academy of Pediatrics Committee on Accident Prevention.

In Seattle, Dr. Abe Bergman of Children's Orthopedic Hospital, said the accident ratio is much higher than the rate for bicycles or skiing. Doctors said leg, elbow, wrist and arm fractures are the most common injuries from spills or collisions with cars, dogs or pedestrians.

"Young children don't have the developed balance or muscular control to use them. It's not like skiing, for instance, where proper instruction is given and the sport is organized and watched over," added Kravitz.

ELIZABETH FLETCHER

Write-in Democrat

The only person running for the position of committeewoman in Jasper Township, Seldon Precinct, is a write-in candidate. Mrs. Elizabeth Fletcher, who lives at 5770 U.S. 22, will be representing the Democrats in the June primary.

The Republicans have no candidate.

Mrs. Fletcher, who is employed at Colonial Paint Store, is very active in politics. She is also vying for the post of Fayette County Clerk of Courts in the upcoming election.

Abundant sunshine and west to southwest winds will send temperatures into the upper 70s to near 80 over most of Ohio this afternoon.

Skies were mostly clear overnight, with lows ranging from 45 at Cleveland to 55 at Toledo.

Some cloudiness will prevail over extreme northern Ohio today as a cold front moves southeastward across the western sections of the great lakes. The front will continue southeastward across Ohio tonight, possibly setting off some showers or thundershowers over northern sections. There is a chance of thundershowers Friday over the extreme northeast.

Fair and near seasonal temperatures Saturday through Monday. Highs in the upper 60s to mid 70s. Lows in the mid 40s to low 50s.

Stocks open unchanged

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market showed little movement today, as traders failed to react to some favorable economic news from Washington.

The opening Dow Jones industrial average was unchanged, and gainers held 'a slight edge over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

As the market opened, the government reported the growth rate of the Gross National Product in the first quarter was revised upward to 8.5 per cent from 7.5 per cent, and the rate of inflation based on the GNP was revised downward to 3.5 per cent from 3.7 per cent.

In a separate report, the Commerce Department said after-tax corporate profits in the first quarter were up 5.5 per cent.

But traders failed to respond to the news as Wall Street remained preoccupied with the Federal Reserve's credit tightening actions, and the resulting rise in several key interest rates.

Among today's prices, American Telephone & Telegraph declined ¾ to 55½, while McDermott added ¾ to 49, and Schlumberger was up ¾ to 80.

On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average declined 0.55 to 988.90.

Traffic Court

A Washington C.H. man's license was suspended for two years following his conviction of driving while under the influence of alcohol. Acting Judge John P. Case presided in Wednesday's Washington C.H. Municipal Court traffic session.

George T. Alexander, 48, of 118½ W. Market St., was fined $250, sentenced to 10 years in jail, and had his driver's license suspended for two years for driving while under the influence of alcohol. For driving without a license, he was fined $100 and sentenced to 10 days in jail.

John F. Swift, 32, of Laurelville, waived his rights to a trial for speeding and paid $25.

Georgia M. Walker, 23, of Akron, waived her rights to a trial for speeding, and paid $25.

Greenfield man jailed for shooting

HILLSBORO — Frank Beatty Jr., 38, of Greenfield was sentenced to a two-to-five year term at the state penitentary Thursday in connection with a shooting of a Washington C.H. man in January.

Beatty was found guilty Friday of a lesser included charge of aggravated assault in Highland County Common Pleas Court. He was found innocent of an attempted murder charge.

He was charged with the Jan. 5 shooting of James Fillmore, 35, in the Diamond Grill in Greenfield. Fillmore was not seriously injured in the shooting.

The state contended that Beatty had threatened to kill Fillmore and that the shot which struck Fillmore's side was intended to kill. The defense argues that Beatty had acted under extreme emotional stress.

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 1,700 striking NBC technicians, newswriters and other employes vote tonight on a new four-year contract. If they approve it, they'll end their seven-week strike and return to work Monday.

That's the word from Ed Lynch, head of the National Association of Broadcast Employes and Technicians (NABET), whose members at NBC walked off the job April 1 after failing to reach agreement on a new contract.

"I hope they accept it," says Lynch of the proposed contract that would give most of NBC's engineers and newswriters $500 a week in the final year of the pact. Balloting is to end by midnight Friday.

The union, whose members struck NBC facilities here and in Washington, D.C.; Cleveland; Chicago; San Francisco, and Burbank, Calif., has recommended approval of the proposed contract.

But there could be a snag. Lynch says the contract could be turned down for the entire membership if any of NABET's 14 units at NBC facilities vote to reject the proposed agreement.

He said the agreement to which NABET and NBC say they've tentatively agreed "simply says neither party is obliged to sign (the contract) if any unit doesn't ratify it."

The majority of NABET members at NBC are technicians. But the union's jurisdiction also includes all newswriters, as well as building maintenance men here, air conditioning technicians here and in Burbank, and mailroom staffers and messengers in Chicago, Lynch says.

If any NABET unit rejects the proposed contract, he said, the union's negotiators will try to learn why and resolve any differences. Asked what happens if the unit still balks, he only would say, "Anything can happen."

On Wednesday a week ago, NABET members rejected an NBC contract offer on which the union had made no recommendations.

The main issues in the strike have centered around operation of the new light, hand-held TV cameras called "minicams" used in news coverage, additional fees paid NABET crews when they aren't given a full hour for lunch when in the field covering news stories, and work schedules.

However, "in recent weeks it has been money," said Lynch, whose troops are being offered a total increase in pay of 38 per cent over four years.

NBC's technical supervisors and management personnel have filled in for the strikers since the labor dispute began, occasionally with obvious technical difficulties.

But the network says the strike only has forced one program change — postponement of a new daytime game show, "The Fun Factory," scheduled to premiere in mid-April. Its planned time slot currently is being filled with repeats of "Magnificient Marble Machine," which it was to replace.

Opinion And Comment

New funding for LEAA

The Senate Judiciary Committee has opted for investing another 5.4 billion dollars over the next five years in a federal undertaking to bolster state and local attacks on crime. The goal is admirable, but a question must be asked: whether the bill makes adequate provision for reform of the controversial agency that would distribute this money, the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

The LEAA has come under heavy fire. Most recently, the Center for National Security Studies published a report which declared that "the nation is in no better position today than it was when the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 was enacted," and concludes that the LEAA should be abolished.

Legislation authorizing additional LEAA funding deals with some of the objections raised by critics. It provides for stricter LEAA evaluation of state anti-crime plans, and requires greater emphasis on the courts in the agency's allocation of funds. Most importantly, perhaps, it provides for closer oversight of LEAA operations by Congress.

This being the case, there is sound reason to hope that the LEAA can be made to function more effectively in the years ahead. This is something of a gamble — but then, so is the entrustment of large funds to any agency of the government. The Law Enforcement Assistance Administration has not succeeded in reversing the upward trend of crime, but it has had some impact on crime. On balance, it makes sense to give the agency a further chance to show its worth.

EDITOR-RECORD-HERALD:

After the recent death of Bill Dennis prominent pilot, instructor, and airport manager of Fayette, County, the Fayette County Pilots Association proposed that the county commissioners vote to change the name of our county airport. They wish to include Mr. Dennis's name in the name of the airport. Personally, I feel Bill Dennis did more for aviation in Fayette County than the small change would involve.

In a sheer stroke of repressive genius the County Commissioners voted against the change. This move is typical of the 1930's attitude of the political cast of our county. When will we start to honor those who have truly afforded to bring us out ot the dark-ages? Bill stood for better transportation and transportation is progress, and in order to keep this county under mid-Victorian propaganda rule, we ignore progress.

I hope the county commissioners will reconsider their decision and try to see the effort put forth by Mr. Dennis to develop a link with the rest of the world. Is a name all change all that involved?

Have you written your County Commissioners lately?

On behalf of the Washington C.H. Optimist Club I would like to extend my thanks to you and your paper for the fine coverage and support of our first Bicycle Safety Program.

It was mostly due to the paper's publication and generosity that enabled so many youngsters and adults to partake in this program and make it such a huge success.

Again, thanking you and hoping that next year we can count on your support.

EDITOR, Record-Herald:

Another year has passed so very quickly and once again the girls of Alpha Theta of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority are busy getting ready for the Bike Ride to benifit St. Jude Children's Research Hospital for leukemia and other catastrophic diseases.

The members of the Fayette County professional Nurse's Association would like to endorse the bike ride as a worthwhile project. The money realized from the bike rides such as the one held in Washington C.H. enables the doctors at St. Jude Hospital to more effectively treat the children who are stricken with the once fatal leukemias and other allied diseases. The research that has been carried on there has given hope to the parents of these children and enabled many of these children to live to adulthood. This was not the story several years ago. All this has been made possible in part by contributions from individuals just like the one who so graciously and generously donated to the bike ride last year and helped make it so successful.

Since we as nurses are concerned with optimum health for everyone, it is a consolation to know that St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tenn., is available to the children of our community if ever the need should arise. The hospital is nonsectarian and interracial and accepts patients upon referral from their physician without charge.

We would like to ask you to support this worthwhile project in anyway you are able — either by making a cash donation which is tax deductible and sponsoring a rider: or as rider yourself which would be a very healthy way of spending a Sunday afternoon.

Remember our little children and "Ride for the Life of a Child." The date to remember is Sunday, May 23, at 3 p.m. at the Huntington Bank parking lot.

Mrs. Wayne Hidy
President

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

We are writing this letter to show our appreciation to Mr. Malcolm Bloomer and Mr. Arthur Cobb.

For the last nine years, the Washington C.H. kindegartens have visited Mr. Bloomer's farm where he has taken the time to put baby kittens, pigs, ducks, and lambs in special pens, so that each child gets to hold the animals.

Also, each year we have visited the Fair Chance Horse Farm where Mr. Cobb has shown us Adios Butler and impressed the children with his famous racing records. Mr. Cobb also sees that each child gets a close view of many of the newest colts.

We do appreciate this day at the farm. Many thanks to Mr. Bloomer and Mr. Cobb.

Sincerely,

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FRIDAY, MAY 21

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

Tone down your innte agressiveness and self-will now. Certain associates will be oversensitive; will resent interference of any kind.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21)

A good day for dealing with superiors, with persons in authority generally. Any or all should be receptive to your ideas.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

Mecury restrictions lift. A favorable report now gives you the "green light" to go ahead with important plans, decisions.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

Stimulating influences now heighten your ambitions and energies, but don't overtax yourself. Delegate some tasks to associates.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

A more or less routine day, but some slightly unconventional and off-beat activities during the evening hours could be fun.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

A top performance needs only your good management and will power — rarely found wanting in the Virgoan. Don't waste time on nonessentials and, above all, don't underestimate minor gains.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

This could be a livelier day than anticipated, and YOU can meet all situations with grace and agility. Romance favored.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

A fine outlook. Avoid the unconventional, hasty or erratic, however. You have real opportunity to achieve; don't spoil it through indifference or sporadic effort.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Some interesting activities indicated, but certain "dull" matters will require attention nonetheless. Attack with determination and a realistic point of view.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

An appropriate time for reconnaissance. Make sure of all procedures. Review precedents and experiences of others for enlightenment.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

You must recognize your limitations, of course, but DO strive to widen your boundaries, broaden your horizons. Your imagination at a peak now.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

Your intuition is one of the strongest in the zodiacal spectrum. If you get a hunch now, act on it. Stars are on your side.

YOU BORN TODAY, as a Taurus-Gemini cuspal (one born at the change of Signs), are highly competent, extremely verstaile and the possessor of a most engaging personality. Always "on your toes" mentally, you never pass up an opportunity, and your eager enthuriasm for accomplishment is rarely dimmed. Thus you usually achieve eminently high plateaus of success while others are still dawdling along and indulging in wishful thinking. You have a geat love of knowledge and a lively curiosity which usually attracts you to the extraordinary in life. Many scientists, writers, musicians, architects, inventors and physicians have been born in this zodiacal sector.

Ohio Perspective

Rhodes to decide taxes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democratic House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr. says it will be up to GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes to recommend new taxes or say where cuts can be made in state spending in the next biennium.

Riffe, D-89 New Boston, responded Tuesday to comments by the governor's budget director, William W. Wilkins, that $600 million is necessary to continue spending at current levels after the next fiscal period starts July 1, 1977.

A letter from Wilkins to Rhodes, which the governor released to the news media late last week, sparked the controversy 13½ months before the end of the current two-year fiscal period.

The speaker and other majority Democrats said they viewed the letter and its release as continued pressure from the governor for the legislature to raise taxes and face the political consequences.

The governor is under a 1974 campaign pledge not to propose new or additional taxes in his present term which runs until January 1979. However Wilkins said in his letter, which Rhodes released without comment, that the legislature faces "tough decisions" within the next several months.

"They can either reduce their spending to live withtin their income, or they can recommend new and additional taxes to be levied upon the people of Ohio," the letter said.

Riffe's reaction was that "we're going to wait and see what the governor recommends. It's up to him to submit a balanced budget to the legislature." Riffe said that unless Rhodes suggests in his 1977 budget message where new income can be found, he will have to recommend cuts in services.

Wilkins said Tuesday that the speaker is "exactly right." And he acknowledged that the administration will have to go first in making recommendations for cuts. But he said the budget process for the next biennium is just getting under way and "I have no idea what cuts could be made."

The director said Rhodes has told him to put together a budget that doesn't contain any new or increased taxes.

Riffe, who has been mentioned as a possible contender for governor in 1978, is no more anxious than Republicans to be blamed for increased taxes.

The controversy is certain to grow in coming months as the state strains to meet its obligations. Wilkins said this can be accomplished only if spending cuts already implemented by Rhodes are maintained during the remainder of the current biennium.

Even then, he said, July 1977 will arrive with the state "barely in the black."

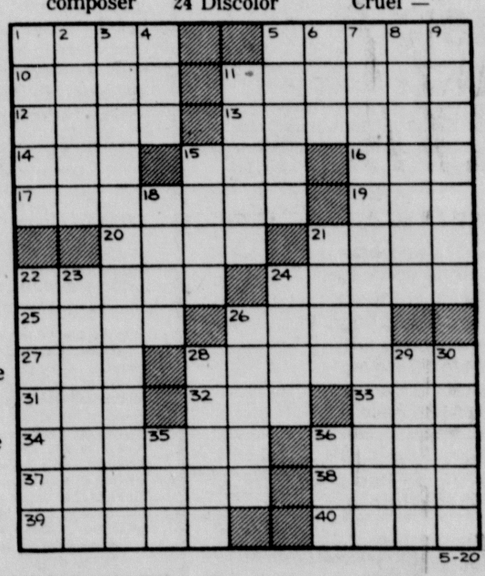

The African Methodist Episcopal Church was founded in 1816. It is the largest of the African Methodist denomination with a membership of 1.2 million.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE – Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Blessed be the backyard playground

DEAR ABBY: Some people seem to think that just because we have a large family, our yard is a public playground.

At this moment I have 16 kids playing ball in my backyard and only seven of them are mine. My problem is that the kids aren't allowed to play in other yards because they ruin the grass and fall in the flowers. I really don't mind, but it wouldn't hurt some of the other parents to let the kids play in their yard once in a while.

At night, the kids ask me to turn on my yard lights so they can play after supper. The yelling and the screaming can be heard for blocks.

When, oh when, will I have peace and quiet again?

MOM WITH PUBLIC PLAYGROUND

DEAR MOM: Too soon. Count your blessings, Mom. You're lucky your children are occupied in a healthy, wholesome sport. You don't have to worry about where they are, what they're doing and with whom. Anybody can raise grass. It takes special people to raise children.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married to a good-looking cross-country truck driver for 10 years. I'm not the suspicious type, but Friday night he came off the road with two long scratches on his left hip. They are fairly deep scratches, yet neither his shorts or his trousers were ripped. Rather peculiar, right?

When I asked him where the scratches came from, he said they were probably from a feather in one of the motel beds.

Now, Abby, I'd like to believe my husband, but do they still have feather bedding in modern motels? And could anybody get scratches like this from a feather?

NOT DUMB

DEAR NOT: It's unlikely that the scratches came from a feather. It was probably the whole chick. Keep your eyes open.

DEAR ABBY: I am 22 and my fiance is 21. Mary (not her real name) was raised from infancy by her aunt, whom she calls Mother." She never explained the reason for this, but Mary's real mother, who is this aunt's sister, has suddenly come into the picture, and she sometimes introduces Mary as "my daughter." Not that it matters, but Mary is the image of her real mother.

However, Mary never calls her real mother "Mother"; she calls her "Aunt," which is very confusing.

When I introduce Mary, her "real" mother and her aunt to my family, how shall I introduce them?

I don't like to lie.

ON THE SPOT

DEAR ON: Mary has the right to address both her mother and her aunt any way she wishes, but you should explain to Mary that the discrepancy is confusing, so she should clarify the relationship.

DEAR ABBY: We have three children, ages 4, 8 and 10. Do you think my wife and I should sleep with our bedroom door closed or not?

YOUNG AT HEART

DEAR YOUNG: If you want company, keep it open. If you want privacy, keep it closed. If you want securty, keep it LOCKED.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, May 20th, the 141 day of 1976. There are 225 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1862, President Abraham Lincoln signed the Homestead Act, providing millions of acres of free land to settlers in the American West.

On this date:

In 1506, Christopher Columbus died in Spain.

In 1861, North Carolina voted to secede from the Union.

In 1834, the French hero of the American Revolution, Marquis de Lafayette, died.

In 1927, Charles Lindbergh began his solo flight across the Atlantic to Paris.

In 1943, during World War II, the U.S. and Britain ratified a treaty abolishing extraterritorial rights in China.

In 1946, Britain's House of Commons passed a bill to nationalize the nation's coal mines.

Ten years ago: Buddhists and labor unions demonstrated in Saigon to protest government action against Buddhist dissidents in Da Nang.

Five years ago: President Richard Nixon announced that the United States and the Soviet Union would try to reach an agreement to limit antiballistic missiles and offense nuclear weapons.

One year ago: President Ford vetoed a bill putting limits on strip-mining, saying it would eliminate jobs and increase dependence on foreign oil.

Today's birthdays: Actor James Stewart is 68. Hockey star Stan Mikita is 36.

Thought for today: The secret of success is constancy of purpose — Benjamin Disraei, British prime minister, 1804-1881.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, two delegates from Georgia were seated in the Continental Congress in Philadelphia. The two, Lyman Hall and Button Gwinnett, had instructions to use their own judgment in voting on any measures.

Ohio mine tragedy forecast

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio is long overdue for a deep mine disaster, a state safety official has advised legislators considering a bill to upgrade a 35-year-old mine safety law.

"We've been fortunate in the last 27 years," mine rescue Supt. Fred Gaskins told a Senate committee Tuesday. "We're going to have these fatalities. We're way, long overdue."

One miner was killed underground this year, continuing a relatively low fatality rate in Ohio since the early 1950s. Twelve miners lost their lives underground in 1953 and 23 perished in 1951, according to the division of mines.

From 1940 to 1950, 548 deep mine deaths were recorded. The death rate tapered off to 91 between 1950 and 1960, 56 between then and 1970, and 23 over the first six years of this decade.

Gaskins said more and better state mine inspectors were need to enforce safety rules.

"It's laying in your fellas' laps to get us good men, experienced men," he told the Senate Energy and Environment Committee. "We can't get them off the streets."

The mine division has been unable to attract its full allotment of 26 inspectors, largely because of the $14,000 annual base pay scale, officials say.

The bill, approved 98-0 last month by the House, would increase the complement of state inspectors to 30 and establish a $17,000 pay scale for some positions.

Dog collars called back

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration today announced a nationwide recall of about 3,000 batterypowered pet collars that shock dogs with 1,800 volts to keep them from barking.

The FDA said electrical charges from the collars have burned holes in the skin of some dogs and could burn children if they are playing with their pets when the collars are activated.

The "Sound-Off Bark Restrainer and Training Collars" were sold nationwide through pet stores and by mail order, the FDA said.

The collars were manufactured by Hal O. Knutson of Chatsworth, Calif., the FDA said.

The agency said Knutson, under threat of court action, sent voluntary recall letters to distributors and wholesalers and to about 150 known purchasers of the collars.

Mini-musical set Friday

Eber School students involved in bicentennial

If success of the bicentennial depends upon interest and involvement by the young people of this community, then the musical program to be presented by the seventh and eighth graders of the Miami Trace School District may make a noteworthy contribution.

A mini-musical, "Tall Tom Jefferson" will be performed at 8 p.m. Friday in the Miami Trace High School auditorium. Many hours of practice have gone into the production of this play.

In conjunction with the vocal program, arts crafts, and books will be on display. The items reflect "A Bicentennial Salute" and represent the work of all Miami Trace elementary school grades from kindergarten through eighth. The youths have been working on the numerous items during the past school year.

Since the vocal program, with the arts festival, is the last program which involves all the elementary schools, the Miami Trace School Board has asked that any person who has any type of "bicentennial garb" to wear it to the play.

Set busing program in Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — About 14,000 students in Dayton are receiving letters this week telling them whether they will be bused next fall in a desegregation plan established under a court order.

The mailing of the letters by school officials is the first step in the Dayton desegregation plan, pairing students in two predominantly white and two all-black high schools to achieve racial balance.

Next week, students who enrolled in 37 elementary schools being paired in September will receive letters telling them which schools they will attend.

The desegregation plan is a result of an agreement between school administrators and a court-appointed master which was approved by a federal judge.

Human relations committees have been formed at the four paired high schools to discuss the program, but representatives say reaction from students and parents has been slight.

One community member of a human relations committee said there was little participation in a meeting scheduled at one of the high schools. A teacher on the committee said he has not heard community reaction for or against the busing program.

The plan is one of a series of court actions brought by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in school systems in Ohio.

Workshop slated on trails plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A workshop will be held Thursday on state plans to form nonmotorized trails on abandoned canal paths and railroad beds.

The Department of Natural Resources is sponsoring the program with the Ohio Parks and Recreation Association and the U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

The workshop will be held in Blacklick Woods Metropolitan Park.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that United Telephone Company of Ohio has filed with The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio an Application stating that the Company is entitled, because of the reasons set forth in said Application, to reasonable and equitable increases and adjustments in its rates and charges for local exchange telephone service, to change the regulations and practices affecting the same, and to cancel and withdraw portions of its existing tariffs, General Exchange Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 3 and Local Exchange Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 4, and to substitute therefore proposed portions of its General Exchange Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 3 and Local Exchange Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 4, to effect such increases, adjustments and changes, all as more fully set forth in the Application on file with the Commission and in the exhibits thereto attached and made a part thereof.

The proposed schedule of rates and charges and the changes and revisions applied for in the Application will, if approved by the Commission, provide the Company approximately $17,500,000 in additional annual gross revenue or a 7.9% rate of return on the Company's rate base. The proposed schedule of rates and charges, if approved, will result in an average 33.7% increase in basic exchange rates for residential services and an average 35.4% increase in basic exchange rates for business services. Certain proposed increases or types of increases are greater or less than such averages. For example, residential one-party service is proposed to be increased 38.2% on the average, while residential four-party service would increase 29.8% on the average. Private branch exchange, key system, and miscellaneous equipment rates are also increased and details are available at any public business office of the Company.

The proposed changes and revisions include classification of certain exchanges under a different rate schedule due to a significant growth in main telephone stations since the last approved classification. In addition, the Company proposes increases and adjustments in many other of its communication services. For example, installation charges are proposed to be increased 17%, and local pay station calls are proposed to be increased from 10 cents to 20 cents per call. The Company also proposes a charge for directory assistance for those customers who use the service more than three times per month, in the amount of 20 cents per call. Listed below are the Company's present rates, proposed rates, and proposed rate increases by rate schedule and class of service, and a classification of exchanges by present and proposed rate schedules.

The proposed tariff revisions will effect increases and adjustments in rates and charges and changes in the regulations and practices affecting the same throughout the territory in which the Company operates.

The prayer of the Application requests the Commission to do the following:

A. Find that the present rates and charges are insufficient to yield reasonable compensation for the service rendered and are unjust and unreasonable;

B. Find that proposed rates and charges and the changes, adjustments and revisions applied for in said Application are just and reasonable and approve the same;

C. Approve the filing of the proposed tariffs in the form attached to and incorporated in the Application, modified to reflect such revisions thereof as may become effective, pursuant to orders of the Commission, during the interim between the filing of this Application and the date upon which said proposed tariffs become effective;

D. Make said proposed tariffs effective as soon as it is practical and lawful to do so; and

E. Grant such other and further relief as Applicant is reasonably entitled to in the premises.

A copy of the Application, including a copy of the present and proposed tariffs, a statement showing the amount of proposed increase or decrease in each changed rate or charge, and a statement describing the proposed changes in regulations and practices affecting rates and charges, may be inspected by any interested party at the offices of the Commission, 111 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio, and at any public business office of the Company.

The form of this notice has been approved by The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

'Memories of the Way We Were' is theme of M-D banquet

"Memories of the Way We Were" was the theme of the South Side Church of Christ Mother-Daughter Banquet held Saturday night in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. Kathy Cool Taylor, Youth Minister of the Loveland Church of Christ in Stubenville, Ohio was the keynote speaker.

As the 200 guests arrived and registered, each one received a sun bonnet or rag doll name tag. Mrs. Paul Pettit, mistress of ceremonies, welcomed everyone and introduced Mrs. John G. Jordan who then gave the Invocation.

The Fellowship Hall was delightfully decorated as a "Memory Garden" with "trees of life" representing the various stages of a woman's maturation as center-pieces. Each place setting was marked by a floral nut cup favor atop a bar of scented soap and a cologne sample. One wall was a mural of "Women's Fashions of Yesteryear." The decoration committee consisted of Mrs. Richard Wade, Mrs. Dan Kelley, Mrs. James Pitzer, Mrs. James Eakins, and Mrs. Eddie Cobb II.

After the dinner was served by the men of the church, Mrs. Pettit lead the group in the song "Gettin to Know You". "Happy Birthday" was sung for Mrs. Jon Creamer, and Mrs. Frank Creamer was the accompanist.

The phases of womanhood was then dipicted in reading and song by "Little Girl" — Little Misses Krista Creamer, Julie Hooks, and Kami Campbell; "Sweet-heart" — Miss Mary Lee Warning; "Wife" — Mrs. James Pitzer; "Mother" — Mrs. Ed Warning; and "Grandmother" — Mrs. Alfred Cornell Jr.

A medley of favorite songs was led by Mrs. Pettit. To set the mood for the speaker, a trio consisting of Mrs. Creamer, Mrs. Kelley, and Mrs. Pettit sang "If My People Will Pray."

Mrs. Taylor stated that it is important that children see their parents love each other. Children need an ideal and the only ideal some children have is a godly woman. There are three points that illustrate a woman's godliness, she said: love and understanding under any and all circumstances, being able to condemn sin without condemning the sinner, and setting the mood of the home by rejoicing in all things.

A woman should teach her children to pray, read the Bible, and love God before they leave home. Mrs. Taylor concluded her talk with this challenge: Your child may be president or first lady. Maybe he or she may be a great religious reformer. What have you done and what will you to do to prepare them for their future?"

Mrs. Richard Wade made and presented articifical planters to the following special guests: Mother of the youngest child, Mrs. Rick Williams (nine month old baby;) mother of four generations present; Mrs. James Blair, Mrs. Warren Marine - Mrs. Phil Campbell and Miss Kami Campbell; Mrs. Margaret Emerick, Mrs. Beryl Smith, Mrs. Keith Osborne and Miss Tracy Osborne; and Mrs. Arminta Chaney (oldest mother present), Mrs. John McDowell, Mrs. James Pitzer, Misses Michell, Melanie and Mindy Pitzer; mother or daughter who came the greatest distance, Mrs. Pat Wisecup of Cambridge.

After the group sang "We Honor Mother", Mrs. Amy Kennedy gave the closing benediction.

Baptist Women have m-d buffet

The Women's Class of Immanuel Baptist Church sponsored the mother-daughter candlelight buffet. Mrs. Arvella Ault was the toastmistress. Her committee was composed of Mrs. Jolene Gregory, Mrs. Ault, Mrs. Faye Underwood and Mrs. Pat Duffy.

Mrs. Gregory presented the prelude and postlude, and Mrs. Una Buecler gave the invocation. Jill and Stacy Gregory greeted each guest with homemade corsages. A yellow and spring green theme prevailed.

Poems and readings were by Mrs. Anna Ruth Baker, Mary Jeffries and Cheryl Duffy. Special music was by Becky Baker, an original solo, Dora Williams, a solo, Janet Duvall, sign language, and Patsy Lively, piano solo.

Corsages were presented to JoAnne McCoy, Millie Jeffries, Maria Donahue, and Immogene Cassell.

Guests came from Chillicothe, Dayton, Cedarville and Columbus, as well as Washington C.H.

Those present were Arvella Ault, Midge Ault, Myrtle Troute, Pat Bennett, Robin Hass, Ruthie VanWinkle, Patti Duffy, Cheryl Duffy, Tricia Duffy, Anna Ruth Baker, Becky Baker, Mildred Duvall, Janet Duvall, Joleen, Stacy, Jill and Leslie Gregory, Una Beucler, Dora, Terri and Trina Williams, Norma Stump, Faye and Rhonda Underwood, Immogene Cassell, Bertha Thomas, JoAnne McCoy, Lisa McCoy, Patsy, Lisa and Tammy Lively, Maria Donahue, Mary, Shannon and Millie Jeffries, and Lee and Teresa Hill.

Mrs. Fred Tracy new president

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the Hickory Lane Church of Christ met at the church, when Mrs. Rusty Bainter gave the opening prayer. Each present gave a Scripture verse containing the word mother,' "My Psalm" was the theme for devotions.

Mrs. Fred Tracy was elected the new president; Mrs. Frank Kinzer, vice president; Mrs. Merlin Kaser, secretary; Mrs. William Briggs, treasurer; and Mrs. Willard Bainter, mission treasurer.

The new project of the ladies is the cupboards in the church kitchen.

Mrs. Victor Slutz, wife of the minister of the New Holland Church of Christ, was guest speaker for the evening. She presented a program concerning hand crafts for all ages of children.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Briggs and Mrs. Kaser to Mrs. Slutz, Mrs. Keith Wooley, Mrs. Robert Johnson and Chris, Mrs. Larry Baker and Tim, Mrs. Kinzer, Mrs. Tom VanDyke, Mrs. Tracy and Lorna, Mrs. Rusty Bainter, Mrs. Willard Bainter, Mrs. George Pierce, Mrs. Bertha Riley, Mrs. Rosa Brannon, Mrs. Ethel Long, Mrs. Margaret DeWeese, Mrs. Eddie Foy and Jenny, Mrs. Paul Keller and Tina Kaser

Class meets at Fergusons

The Kings Daughters Class of First Christian Church met at the lovely Ferguson home at 324 Highland Ave., for the May birthday meeting, which was opened by Mrs. Carl Meriweather, president. Miss Margaret Gibson assistant hostess, gave devotions entitled "Pursuits of Happiness," a hymn, "Come We That Love the Lord," and a prayer.

Mrs. Naomi Helm, class teacher, conducted the lesson concerning Ezekiel, a major prophet. Eleven members answered roll call with a patriotic saying. Mrs. Fannie Maddux was a guest.

Reports were made and future plans for a tea for the choir, a program for a nursing home and a potluck dinner for the next meeting in the home of Mrs. Clark Gossard were made.

Class will honor seniors

The Crusaders Class of Sugar Creek Baptist Church met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ellars, and devotions were based on "Mother's Love, Father's Love and God's Love."

Harry Campbell conducted the meeting and reports were made by Mrs. Ellars and Mrs. Donald Breakfield. Having a church directory was the topic for discussion.

Activities announced were the mother and daughter banquet for May 22, honoring the graduating seniors on May 30, church picnic for June 13, and Bible School from June 21 to 27.

Refreshments were served by the hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Breakfield, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mills Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Olan Bentley, Mrs. Floris Sprague, Mr. and Mrs . Thurman Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carman.

Miss Waterman tells of mission life

The regular meeting of the Good Hope United Methodist Church Women was held in the home of Mrs. Eugene Thompson. Miss Linda Waterman presented slides of her life and experiences as a missionary in Zaire, Africa. Mrs. Pearl Breakfield introduced her.

Mrs. Lee Reisinger conducted the brief business meeting and each answered roll call by naming a favorite spice. Mrs. Earl Russell gave devotions..

It was announced that The Reflections from Oral Roberts University will sing at the church at 8 p.m. May 31. A free-will offering will be taken.

Members were reminded of the reading program, and a donation was presented to Miss Waterman to defray expenses upon her return to Africa in September.

The School of Missions was announced for July 6-9 and 9-11, and a silent auction will be held at the September meeting.

Miss Johnson complimented at bridal shower

A bridal shower was given in honor of Miss Rebecca Sue Johnson, bride-elect of Mike Oyer, by Mrs. Glen D. Mathews.

The bride-elect's table was centered around the colors of green and yellow.

Invited guests were Mrs. Jacqueline Johnson, the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Betty Lundberg, Mrs. Nancy Black, Mrs. Christine Williamson, Mrs. Jack Johnson, Mrs. Terry Johnson, Mrs. Martha Williamson, Mrs. Helen Anderson, Miss Theresa Johnson, Miss Randy Johnson, Miss Linda West, Miss Pam Landrum, Mrs. Frances Perrill, Mrs. DeDe Johnson, Mrs. Helen Perrill and Miss Loraine Newman.

Kingwood Center Iris show set

Some of the best iris grown in Ohio can be seen at the annual Central Ohio Iris Society show at Kingwood Center, Mansfield, Ohio. The show is open free to the public on Saturday, May 29, from 2 to 8:00 p.m. and on Sunday, May 30, from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. It will be held in the air-conditioned Meeting Hall opposite the Kingwood Greenhouses.

This show will be a fine opportunity to see many choice, well-grown varieties of irises in one location, and will feature specimens of all colors of the rainbow. All classes of iris will be on exhibit, including Tall Bearded, Siberian, Spuria, Dutch, Table, and Border Iris. A special division for New Exhibitors and one for Juniors under the age of 19 will be provided.

There will also be a section of the show for artistic arrangements demonstrating the usefulness of these elegant flowers in floral displays. The theme for the Artistic Arrangements Section this year is "America The Beautiful". Everyone is welcome to enter their iris in any of these classes. All entries must be made between 7 and 11 a.m. on Saturday, May 29. Schedules for this iris show are available from Kingwood Center.

Kingwood has over 800 varieties of iris planted in its garden beds this year, which are all accurately labeled. They will provided a colorful and beautiful outdoor display. In addition to the iris there are displays of peonies and other flowering perennials.

Kingwood Center is located in the western section of the City of Mansfield, Ohio. It is easily reached from the north and south by Interstate 71, from the east and west by U.S. Route 30, and from the Ohio Turnpike by Ohio Route 13.

Community Drill team to 'march'

Sixty-five girls have been practicing and practicing with batons twirling and on marching routines for the Bicentennial Parade to be held in Washington C.H. July 4. This is the Community Education Drill Team.

The group, under the direction of Patty Smith and Sharon Slager, marched for the first time, wearing their new uniforms, in the Hospital Day Parade at the VA Hospital, Chillicothe, May 2.

They have been invited to participate in the following parades: Memorial Day in Washington C.H. and New Holland, Sabina June 26, Ashville and Bloomingburg, July 3, Washington C.H. Bicentennial, July 4, Greenfield in July, and in October will be in a competition contest in Circleville.

Former AFS student is betrothed

Senora Francisco deCastro of Barcelona, Spain, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Beatriz Grau deCastro, to Francisco M. Farinas Perez.

Beatriz Grau graduated in 1970 from Washington Senior High School. Both Beatriz and her future husband graduated from the University of Barcelona with majors in English.

After their June wedding, the couple will spend their honeymoon in Ireland.

Beatriz resided with the Samuel Sauer family while in Washington C.H. Miss Elizabeth Sauer of Sidney, Australia, attended Bea and Francisco's engagement party in Barcelona.

Nutrition group to have sale

The Senior Nutrition Group, under the direction of Mrs. George (Edna) Naylor, will sponsor a garage sale from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Friday and Saturday. The sale will be held at 421 W. East St. All proceeds from the sale will go to the Senior Nutrition Building Fund.

Camper shower honors 'Boots'

Mrs. Anna "Boots" Anderson was recently given a surprise miscellaneious "camper" shower by her friends at Craig's.

Decorations were of pink streamers suspended over a table which held many lovely gifts. The most outstanding gift was a box of corncobs.

Refreshments were served.

Youth Activities

SPOONS AND SPOONS

The seventh meeting of the Spoons and Spools 4-H Club was called to order by the president in the home of Mrs. Parker. Diane Altop led the Pledge of Allegiance and Tricia Robinson the 4-H Pledge.

Roll call was taken and minutes from the previous one were read and approved. We discussed the community project, and decided to do something for a nursing home.

The meeting was adjourned and Dana Cate and Loraine Moore made a pizza for the demonstration. Denise Taylor and Teresa Johnson showed the group how to make rice krispy treats. Dianne Altop, Doreen Marks, Kelly Knox, Christy Cutlip and Loraine Moore served refreshments.

The group played softball for recreation following the meeting. The next meeting will be at 7 p.m. May 24 in the home of Mrs. Parker.

Dana Cate, reporter

YATESVILLE PRODUCERS

The seventh meeting of the Yatesville Producers 4-H Club was called to order by Randy Beekman and Bret Baker led the pledges. Bart Baker called the roll and read the minutes. Randy Lewis gave the treasurer's report. The club discussed a tour and chose a committee to plan it. They are Scott Halterman, Jim Mossbarger, Lisa Cook, and Sandy Beekman. The club then discussed their projects. The advisers will mark lambs and pigs May 22 and members were asked to have their livestock penned.

Lisa Cook gave a health report on "How to Take care of your Teeth." Ben Iden will have a safety report at the next meeting. The club also discussed 4-H Camp.

The next meeting will be held at Randy and Sandy Lewis'. Refreshments were served by the Bakers and Millers.

Sandy Beekman, reporter

LADS AND LASSIES 4-H

"Fitting and Showmanship of Sheep," was the topic of the talk given by Rob Frost, local sheep breeder when he spoke at the regular meeting of the Lads and Lassies 4-H Club held at Eber School.

Important points given by Mr. Frost were, 1. when to have lambs sheared for fair, 2. when and how to wash the animal and 3. the proper equipment needed to fit the sheep. A few showmanship pointers he gave the first year members were; 1. when showing always keep the lamb between you and the judge, 2. how to set up your lamb properly so that it is square on all four feet. 3. Keep eye on the judge and know what he wants you to do with your lamb. Alan Thompson arranged for the program.

Jim McCoy had arranged for the program on Selection of Animals given recently by Mr. Charlie Andrews.

During the business session conducted by Brenda Steinhauser, president, the pledges were given and the secretary's and treasurer's reports were submitted. The balance in the treasury is $50.65.

Roger Donohoe, Advisor told about the proposed improvements for Camp Clifton. A member of the Camp Awareness Team will show slides of camp at the next meeting.

Two tour were planned for the club. The first tour will be held June 15. All are to meet at the home of Beth Shaw at 3:00 p.m. Following the tour the group will return to her home for a swimming party. The other tour will be July 13th and will start at the home of Mike Campbell, Advisor.

Recreation was enjoyed and refreshments were served by Tony and David Seitz and Kevin Haithcock.

The next meeting will be June 1 at 8:00 p.m. and refreshments will be by Chris Hagler and Chip Wilt.

JANET VanBIBBER

JOHN SCHLICHTER

DAN LeBEAU

Miami Tracer

Seniors of the Week

Our first senior this week is Janet Kay VanBibber, daughter of Thomas and Jo Ann VanBibber of 1593 Ohio 41-S. She has an older brother Tom, and two older sisters, Diane and Linda.

Janet's courses this year are office practice, business law, consumer economics, speed reading, family living, government, embryology, and Art I. Her activities include being a home economics lab assistant and a biology lab assistant. She has also been a library assistant and a member of Y-Teens.

Janet has been a member of FHA for four years, holding the positions of public relations, secretary and class representative, mini chapter. She also attends the Grace United Methodist Church. Janet enjoys swimming, skating, riding motorcycles and bicycles, playing tennis and softball and going to basketball and football games.

Her future plans are to work for a year then attend a business school and go into accounting. Her ambition is to someday travel around to different countries.

"I have enjoyed my years at Trace, and it's been a lot of fun, but I am looking forward to getting out in the world," stated Janet. "To underclassmen: enjoy your years at Trace and get involved in the activities because they will soon be over."

John Schlichter is our next featured senior. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Schlichter of 7320 Myers Road. John has an older sister Dawn, and a younger brother Arthur.

His courses this year include bookkeeping, business law, journalism, family living, symphonic choir, and consumer economics. John has been on the basketball team for four years, track team for two years, and two Miami Trace championship football teams the past two years.

He is a member of Folksingers, Cyndakated Singers, Varsity "M" Club, Key Club, Future Teachers of America, and 4-H. He performed the lead parts in the past two Miami Trace spring musicals, "Music Man" and "South Pacific," and he attended the 1975 Buckeye Boy's State. John enjoys participating in sports such as basketball, football, tennis, and golf, singing, and having a good time.

His future plans are to major in Business Administration and play football at Otterbein College. He advises underclassmen, "Enjoy your high school years at Miami Trace while you can for they will be remembered as the most enjoyable years of your life."

Dan LeBeau, is the son of George and Thelma LeBeau. He resides at 11981 Cook-Yankeetown Road and has a brother George and a sister, Dianna.

Dan's classes this year are business law, American government, machine shop, American literature, short story, phys. ed. assistant, speed reading, sociology, and family living. He is the treasurer of the Key Club, treasurer of Varsity "M" Club, and treasurer of the Library Club. He has been a member of the football team, and he is a member of the Madison Mills United Methodist Church.

Dan enjoys listening to music, being with friends, playing football, basketball, softball, and tennis, boating and swimming.

As of now, Dan is unsure of his plans for the future. "Get into as many activities and make as many friends as possible. Have fun while you can because the years fly by faster than you think," remarked Dan.

Cheerleaders selected

The 1976-77 cheerleaders for Miami Trace High School were recently selected. They are freshman, Julie Bloomer, Lisa Cremeans, Jill Dorn, Kim Bryant, Diane Hennesy, and Melanie Free; reserves Michelle Deskins, Kathy Kirkpatrick, Debbie Thompson, Teri Vermillion, Sonja Stewart, and Tammy Arnold, and varsity, Linda Merritt, and Toni Smith, Sandi Hughes, Barbara Johnson, Debbie Persinger, Tery Helsel, and Christy Tarbutton.

They were scored by eight judges on overall ability, spirit, appearance, and enthusiasm.

MT names majorettes

Recently six girls were picked for their twirling abilities to make up the 1976-77 squad of majorettes for Miami Trace High School. Members of the squad were scored by points according to the United States Twirling Association rules.

They were judged on poise, twirling skills, ability to keep together, and marching ability; and they are also required to play an instrument throughout the school year.

Those selected were head majorette Nancy Rapp; Kathy Junk; Nancy Elzroth; Christy Cutlip; Sandy Cockerill; and Brenda Arledge.

Judges for tryouts were Mrs. Sue Evans, Mrs. Judy Kelley, Mrs. Tana Roberts, and Miss Cathy Newbrey.

Criminal record erasure urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Council of Churches says it supports provisions that would erase the criminal records of juveniles after two years.

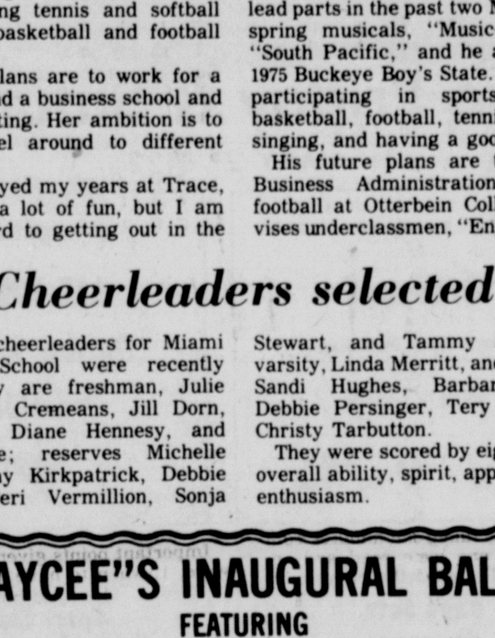

The council's general board voted to support mandatory expungement of juvenile records, acting on the belief that forgiveness should be a factor in the criminal justice system.

The council's general board, representing 86 denominations, also voted to continue supporting the purpose and work of the United Nations and to support negotiations toward a treaty that would permit Panama to recover control of the Canal Zone.

'Anniversary' phone books now being distributed here

Ohio Bell has made some important changes in its 1976 "anniversary" phone books which are being distributed in Washington C.H. this week.

Helpful time-and-money-saving telephone tips and more detailed information on long distance rates have been added to the "Call Guide" pages, preceding the customer listings.

"We wanted to make the directory a more valuable tool for consumers," said Mrs. Susan Link, Ohio Bell customer services manager. "And with these additions, we think we've taken a giant step in that direction," she added.

The new book's "anniversary" cover features 32 mini-portraits of famous Americans—all talking on various types of telephones. New Jersey Artist Stanley Meltzoff designed it as a salute to the nation's bicentennial and the telephone's centennial.

The artist's cast of characters and the telephones they use are identified on the inside back cover.

More than 12,100 books will be delivered here this year by special carriers, according to Mrs. Link.

"If, by May 24, you still haven't received the new book," she said, "call our business office, and we will get one to you."

Again this year, Ohio Bell has continued its efforts to maintain the Yellow Pages as a reliable shopping guide for the many people who use them to locate goods and services.

Mrs. Link said Ohio Bell "has a standing invitation for the public to call us if they feel an ad contains incorrect or misleading information."

Other helpful information in the directory includes—

—Emergency numbers for fire, police and other public safety agencies listed on the inside front cover,

—Areas codes for most cities in the United States and Canada in the pages preceding customer listings, —Suggestions on dealing with harassing calls in the Call Guide pages in the front section of the book,

—A history of Washington C.H. civic statistics, city map and postal zip codes in the blue pages.

CIA out of Italy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Central Intelligence Agency is not funnelling secret funds to Italian politicians for next month's elections, CIA Director George Bush reportedly has assured a congressional panel.

After listening to Bush Tuesday, one congressmen told a reporter, "He's stated we have nothing going in Italy."

Bush testified in private at a regular briefing on current U.S. covert operations to the House international relations monitoring subcommittee, one of six groups in Congress that the CIA director is required to brief on all covert operations.

Former CIA Director William Colby told the six subcommittees last October that a covert operation had been approved by President Ford for supplying $6 million to Italian political parties and politicians.

Later Colby said publicly that no U.S. money was being supplied to Italian politicians, but he did not state that the operation had been dropped and would not be carried out in the future.

Two congressmen said Tuesday they felt Bush's testimony meant the $6 million plan has been dropped.

WASHINGTON REPORT

From

WILLIAM H. HARSHA

Representative To Congress
6th District, Ohio

Each year for the past decade, the month of May has been a designated time for the nation to pay tribute to its senior citizens.

Our bicentennial adds special significance to this year's salute to America's senior citizens for their contributions to our history of progress and prosperity. It affords us the opportunity to recognize not only their deeds, but their needs as well.

The more than 22 million Americans who are 65 or over find that factors largely beyond their control threaten to place them out of reach of those fruits of economic prosperity enjoyed by most of their fellow citizens.

Inflation, government restrictions, and age discrimation have made it difficult for this growing segment of our population to cintinue as contributing members of society and to enjoy the rich quality of life they deserve.

Progress has been made at the federal level toward meeting some of the needs of the elderly. The Older Americans Act of 1965 opened new doors of assistance, and the 1975 amendments to that act, now public law, will provide help in the priority areas of transportation, home services, legal and other counseling services, and home repair and renovation. Part-time employment opportunities in community service for low-income persons age 55 and older are also provided.

The amendments extend the Foster Grandparent and Retired Senior Volunteer programs and prohibit unreasonable discrimination based on age in programs or activities receiving federal financial assistance.

The needs of the elderly have always been a special concern of mine. I felt particularly honored earlier this year when the National Alliance of Senior Citizens inducted me into the Golden Age Hall of Fame for my efforts on behalf of senior persons.

This group of Americans, limited to fixed incomes, is hurt most by inflation. Earlier in this Congress, I introduced legislation to exempt the first $5,000 of pension benefits from federal income tax. This would provide every retiree an equal chance to share in this benefit which now applies only to federal social security and railroad retirees. I also introduced legislation to increase the base for computing retirement income credit.

In signing the proclamation designating May as Older Americans Month, President Ford has urged all organizations concerned with employment and volunteer services to hold forums for discussion of the "Bicentennial Charter of Older Americans".

The charter, prepared by the Presidentially-appointed Federal Council on Aging, sets forth principles to guide our nation in evaluating its response to the problems facing older Americans.

As we face this challenge at the start of our third century as a nation, a statement of the "Rights of Older Americans", as outlined in the Bicentennial Charter, are well worth out consideration. They are —

—The right to freedom, independence and the free exercise of individual initiative;

—The right to an income in retirement which would provide an adequate standard of living;

—The right to an opportunity for employment free from discriminaroty practices because of age;

The right to an opportunity to participate in the widest range of meaningful civil, educational, recreational and cultural activities.

—The right to suitable housing;

—The right to the best level of physical and mental health service needed;

—The right to ready access to effective social services;

—The right to appropriate institutional care when required;

—The right to a life and death with dignity.

Our nation has demonstrated growing compassion in recognizing and meeting the needs of its older citizens. Some programs have been very effective, although there is much yet to do.

However, the federal government can best help our nation's senior citizens by the restoration of fiscal responsibility through an end to runaway deficit spending and the ravaging inflation that it spawns.

Victor Borge set for Ohio speech

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Musician and humorist Victor Borge will be keynote speaker Tuesday at the Governor's Conference on Aging at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Borge, 67, will join a group of senior citizens in an exercise session after speaking on the topic "Grow Older-Feel Younger." Borge is honorary chairman of the senior citizen physical fitness program sponsored by the National Association for Human Development.

The two-day conference on aging is sponsored by the state Commission on Aging.

Typhoon toll increases

MANILA, The Philippines (AP) — Typhoon Olga swept across the Phillippines' eastern coast today, causing seven deaths in the worst flooding in the Manila area in 30 years, authorities said.

At least 10,000 persons were forced from their homes in neighboring Quezon City after the storm dumped more than 16 inches of rain on the city. Tens of thousands of commuters were stranded in Manila and emergency refugee centers were set up in churchs and schools.

Navy frogmen rescued 71 persons from a swamped residential area just outside Manila. Ten persons were reported missing in the metropolitan area.

More than 1,500 persons were trapped by six feet of water in their homes in suburban Mandaluyong.

President Ferdinand Marcos declared the Manila area and five Luzon island provinces to be in a state of emergency and ordered all but essential businesses closed in Manila and Quezon City.

Communications to many areas outside Manila were cut and officials said they had no reports on damage outside the metropolitan area.

Set Senate intelligence committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is ready to establish a new intelligence committee as its first major response to allegations the CIA and FBI abused their authority by widespread spying on private citizens.

A final vote on a resolution establishing the new monitoring committee is scheduled for midafternoon today.

Opponents of the proposed new panel, led by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, plan an attempt to limit its authority.

But backers of the new committee, including the Democratic and Republican leaders, are expected to have more than enough votes to defeat the Stennis amendment.

The Stennis amendment would strip the new committee of jurisdiction over the National Security Agency and other intelligence agencies within the Defense Department.

The new panel would retain jurisdiction over the CIA and FBI.

The new committee would have 15 members, two each from the four committees holding jurisdiction over intelligence activities and the other seven from the rest of the Senate.

Creation of the panel was one of the major recommendations of the special Senate committee that conducted a 15-month investigation of the alleged abuses.

Ohio Supreme Court upholds utility rate boost

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The legality of emergency rate hikes implemented by the Ohio Edison Co. last year have been upheld by the Ohio Supreme Court.

In a 6-1 decision Wednesday, the court rejected arguments that the rates were incompatible with rate schedules set by city ordinance.

The court ruled that a utility does not necessarily forfeit its right to emergency rate relief when it elects to charge a new rate schedule established by municipalities.

Ohio Edison asked for the emergency rate relief on Oct. 10, 1974, and the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio approved the emergency rates on Feb. 18, 1975.

But between those two dates, 19 cities passed rate ordinances giving Ohio Edison new electric rate schedules.

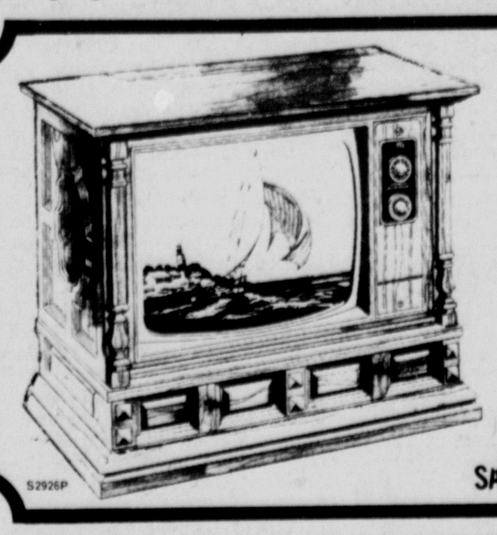

Ohio Edison decided to charge the new ordinance rates in the cities, but also moved for higher rates on two fronts.

It filed an appeal with the PUCO, arguing the cities did not grant a high enough rate increase. It also continued its earlier request for emergency rate relief.

The cities, led by Amherst and Canal Fulton, appealed the emergency rate hike, arguing that Ohio Edison had legally accepted the ordinance schedule by charging it and had surrendered its right to emergency rate relief.

In rejecting that argument the court said the utility's appeal of the rate ordinance showed it did not legally "accept" the rate ordinance.

If the utility had accepted the ordinance, the court said, it would have formed a contract with the city.

Willing of body parts to appear on auto licenses

"Ohio, by merit of the 111th General Assembly's passage of House Bill 650" according to Mrs. Mary Jo Hunter, Secretary of the Fayette County Automobile Club, "recently joined the ranks of several other states enacting anatomical donation legislation."

The new bill, which went into effect last month, amends the existing license law by adding another question to those that were already on present drivers license application forms. Now, when a motorist applies for a license, new or renewal, the deputy registrar will ask him if he will consent to, upon his death, making a donation of one or more of his body organs. (Examples might include: eyes, heart or kidneys).

"The anatomical gift bill is an important first step," noted Mrs. Hunter, "toward extending and saving lives. It enables hospital officials to take immediate action in removing useful organs. No longer will medical personnel waste precious minutes, while vital cells deteriorate, in obtaining permission from next-of-kin." This does not mean, however, that the donor's cause of death must be an auto accident. The new legislation simply provides for the availability of a consent statement on a piece of identification that is carried most of the time.

"An anatomical donation is entirely optional," stressed Mrs. Hunter "The applicant is free to answer 'yes' or 'no' to the registrar's question." The reply is then recorded in the small box now printed on the face of all drivers licenses. If he answers "yes," the applicant will be asked further questions as to the type of donation he is interested in making. The donor can also, if he desires, name a recipient (either an individual or an institution) and-or give specific instructions as to how he wishes the donation be to be implemented. In addition, the potential donor may indicate his blood type. The completed anatomical gift statement, signed by the applicant and by two witnesses, is then inserted into the back of the drivers license, beneath the transparent plastic cover.

"Your decision is not final or irreversible," added Mrs. Hunter. "For a instance, a motorist, at the time of renewal of his next license, may choose to answer 'no' to the anatomical donor question. When that drivers license expires the motorist may then want to indicate that, effective upon his death, he would like to donate a kidney or other vital organ, to an ailing relative."

Licensed drivers under the of 18 are not permitted to be donors.

The anatomical gift statement is, in essence, a will — motorists are willing body parts. The section of Ohio state law which deals with such matters stipulates that the legal age at which a person can draw up a will is 18.

The Fayette County Auto Club advises that, if anyone whose drivers license does not expire soon is interested in having the anatomical donor statement affixed to the back of his license now, the procedure is the same as for a lost or stolen license.

The applicant must surrender his current license to the deputy registrar and request a "special duplicate." The newly-coded license, for which a $1.50 fee will be charged, expires on the same date as the original.

Haykel Supply, the wholesale operation of Associated plumbers and heaters, had Harry Thrailkill and Max Lawrence in attendance. The convention included 150 exhibits of products in the plumbing, heating, air conditioning fields as well as appliances, tools, and kitchen products.

Discussion topics included marketing, management and product displays.

County surveyor certified

James L. Grim, of 922 Broadway St., has been awarded the professional surveyor certificate by the Ohio State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Surveyors during the statewide certificate presentation this month.

Grim is employed by Fayette County as an engineer and is a member of the Professional Land Surveyors of Ohio.

Fertilizer said bargain

WASHINGTON (AP) — While things that farmers buy generally are costing more than they did a year ago, fertilizer has turned into a relative bargain when compared with 1974 and 1975.

By mid-April, the Agriculture Department's fertilizer price index was down 19 per cent from a year earlier, including an 8 per cent drop from last Oct. 15 when the previous survey was made.

For example, the average price nationally of anhydrous ammonia used as a nitrogen source for corn and other crops was $191 a ton on April 15. Last fall it was $219 a ton and on April 15 of last year it was $265 a ton, on the average.

Fertilizer prices soared following the Arab oil embargo in late 1973 as fuel costs ctimbed and sent shock waves through the petrochemical indusry. Natural gas, for example, plays an important role in making the nitrogen used in fertilizer.

With the decline in fertilizer prices from their peaks, farmers may be inclined to use more on key crops and thus boost production this year. This could have a significant impact on total corn output, providing farmers get good weather during the crop's growing season over the next few months.

In a current "agricultural outlook" report, the department's Economic Research Service says that "except for spot shortages caused by transportation tie-ups during the height of the season" farmers can expect ample fertilizer supplies.

Commerce finally gets funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Commerce has an additional $1.7 million to carry on its regulatory duties and will retain responsibility for consumer protection under a bill signed, but vetoed in part, by Gov James. A. Rhodes.

Rhodes line-item vetoed Wednesday a section of the appropration bill that would have transferred the consumer protection division from the commerce department to the attorney general's office.

He approved language that releases funds immediately for regulation of banks, savings and loans institutions, securities and real estate.

Commerce Director J. Gordon Peltier had threatened to shut down the agency's regulatory duties for two weeks in mid-June if majority Democrats did not provide the money. His was the only state department cut from its previous expenditure level when the present 1975-77 budget was approved.

The bill also grants $224,000 for the Fire Marshal's office and $308,000 for work on the new Fire Academy in suburban Reynoldsburg, near Columbus.

In agreeing to Peltier's demands for an increase, Democratic legislators attempted to deny him responsibility for the consumer protection division and move it to the office of Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, a Democrat.

"The functions of the division of consumer protection are an integral part of the responsibilities of the Director of Commerce in the regulation of specific business activities," Rhodes said in vetoing the transfer. His action was expected.

Rhodes also rejected sections that would have granted the Democratic-dominated Controlling Board some authority over certain commerce activities.

The feud between Peltier and Democratic lawmakers dates back to Rhodes' previous administration. Questions were raised about real estate brokers' licenses Peltier issued to himself and Rhodes shortly before the governor's last term ended in 1970. Some Democrats also questioned Peltier's enthusiasm for consumer causes.

While the consumer office will remain under Peltier's jurisdiction, Legislative Budget Officer Richard Sheridan noted that no money was available in the 1977 fiscal budget for the division. Brown, meanwhile, has gone ahead and expanded the duties of his consumer fraud division.

Ford prods Rhodesia on blacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration is stepping up its efforts to prod Rhodesian President Ian Smith into negotiations for a peaceful takeover by the African nation's black majority.

The administration has been working through African and European countries in its indirect contacts with the Rhodesian government. Talks between Smith and President Ford have been all but ruled out.

Meanwhile, the White House has reached a tentative decision not to step up pressure on Congress now for an immediate vote to nullify the Byrd amendment, which permits the import of chrome from Rhodesia in defiance of a United Nations embargo.

"It's a very emotional issue and we're not sure we have the votes," said one official, denying at the same time that politics are a consideration in shaping U.S. policy toward southern Africa.

Ronald Reagan, battling Ford for the GOP presidential nomination, has criticized the administration's pledge to support black rule in Rhodesia as misdirected and possibly as an encouragement to violence.

On the other hand, to many black African nations, initially skeptical of the administration's new support for the black majority movement in southern Africa, the intensity of the campaign against the Byrd amendment is a pivotal test of U.S. resolve.

AIRPORT NEWS

By SANDY WOODMANSEE

Many things going on out here the past few weeks - one of which is formulation of plans for the annual Fayette County Pilot's Association fly-in to be held June 20th beginning at 8:00 a.m. when breakfast will be served for a reasonable charge.

The public is invited and most welcome. There is no charge for parking. The program committee has listed the following events that will be taking place during the day - bomb drop and spot landing contests, model airplane demonstration, aerobatic demonstrations, hopefully a jet fly-by and possibly a balloonist, sky divers, and airplane and helicopter rides all day for a reasonable charge.

Remember, this is the association's annual money making project and all proceeds will go to airport improvements so come on out and spend the day - and don't forget Dad, cause it's his day too.

All association members (and friends are welcome too) are asked to participate in clean-up day on June 19th and perhaps we can all have a weiner roast or pizza party afterwards. . . .

Eddie Pendergraft and Maurice Hopkins recently returned from Tuscon, Ariz. They made the trip by air, flying their Cessna 172. Eddie visited his son and daughter in Tuscon while Hoppy visited his aunt and cousin in Phoenix.

Flying over the desert and mountains in Arizona was a different experience and quite interesting to these Ohio pilots. The flight went very smoothly with only minor interruptions caused by weather on the outgoing flight. The return flight was accomplished in perfect weather.

Many of you are probably aware we have a helicopter now based at the airport, and it is being used for sightseeing rides on the weekends. There is also a contest being held for children ages 6 to 16 to name the helicopter and the winner will receive a free ride in it. Contest ends May 31, and entry blanks may be obtained here at the airport.

The trip to Hagerstown, Ind. for dinner was finally completed this past Sunday. Those able to go along were Norman Merritt, Jim Patton, John and Sandy Woodmansee, Gene and Ruth Pfaff, Mr. and Mrs. Bill DaRif and friends, Steve and Pam Gilliland and Doug and Betsy Smith.

Other local pilots in the news are Steve Gilliland who has received his Commercial pilot's rating; Karen Yeager who has soloed; and Walt Gooldin, who recently completed his biennial flight reviews.

Noted music teacher to retire

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — In 36 years of teaching music in the Madison Township school system, Ward Zerkle has amassed an impressive record.

Under Zerkle's direction, Trotwood-Madison bands and orchestras have earned the highest possible ratings at 50 competitions sponsored by the Ohio Music Education Association.

Zerkle, 58, will retire at the end of the school year and some of the 2,000 students he has taught plan to thank him for his efforts.

Former and present students, as well as teachers and administrators, will pay tribute to Zerkle at an appreciation dinner on May 29 at the Convention Center.

"I don't know of any other music teacher in the state who can even compete with (Zerkle's) record," said Clair Miller, director of music at the University of Dayton and one of his former students.

"He's kept a low profile over the years—it's his nature," said Miller. "But the people who have come under his influence know that when you talk of Ward Zerkle, you're talking about the best."

Three years ago, Zerkle stepped down as high school band director to work with elementary school students. "I felt that the elementary students needed more time and attention," Zerkle said.

Another former student is Diane Gilley, flutist in the Dayton Philharmonic. "If it hadn't been for the initial training I got under Zerkle, I wouldn't have been able to go on," she said. "He was all business; that's how I really think of him."

Blame birds for crash of big jet

CINCINNATI (AP) — Friction dust produced by the ingestion of birds caused engine failure in the crash of an Overseas National Airways plane at Kennedy International Airport last November, two General Electric engineers testified Wednesday.

The National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) conducted hearings on the crash here Tuesday and Wednesday.

The plane crashed shortly after takeoff, but the 139 passengers aboard were evacuated before the airliner exploded.

Irwin Mendelson, manager of GE's CF6 engine division, said the company has determined the problem of the engines overheating stemmed from a phenolic resin material that shrouds the interior of the engine.

Mendelson said GE is now replacing the shrouds with honeycombed aluminum.

GE engineer James W. Tucker said the ingestion of the birds produced friction, permitting resin to enter the engine's interior. The result was overheating, which led to engine failure.

Rudy Kapustan, NTSB hearing officer, said at the conclusion of testimony here that the investigation into the crash remains open.

Tucker said the engine manufacturer's conclusions were based on new tests duplicating the conditions of the engines at the time of the crash.

Solons seek solution to Medicaid cuts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Brushing aside at least temporarily a Rhodes Administration proposal, Democratic legislators are considering borrowing from next year's funds to meet this year's state Medicaid payments.

"This will solve the shortterm, so-called crisis that we're in now," House Finance Chairman Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, told the Joint Select Committee on Medicaid Wednesday.

Shoemaker wants to take $47 million from a $138.5 million supplemental bill introduced Tuesday to provide a grant, mostly for welfare, in the 1977 fiscal year starting July 1.

The advance would be used to pay health care providers over the remaining six weeks of the current fiscal period. Although a federal judge here has barred the welfare department from cutting off Medicaid payments, the agency says its fund is depleted.

The joint panel approved Shoemaker's resolution 4-1, a move tantamount to majority leadership support when the General Assembly convenes on June 9 for a three-day session. Shoemaker did not say how the 1977 money would be replaced.

"All that does is put the problem off," said Thomas J. Moyer, executive assistant to Gov. James A. Rhodes. Moyer said Rhodes would not support any effort to advance money from funds budgeted for welfare next year.

Rhodes' budget Director William W. Wilkins earlier told the committee $40 million could be slashed from existing state programs that "I guess I would have to consider a lower priority than the current problem." Wilkins' plan for the 1977 fiscal period would attract $40 million in federal funds, but would still leave a deficit of at least that much, he said.

In addition to cutting back on programs, Wilkins said $14.3 million could be taken from an anticipated $20 million surplus at the end of the biennium. He emphasized that the surplus would only materialize if the governor's two per cent across-the-board spending restraint remains in effect.

Kissinger influence fading?

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Concern about Henry A. Kissinger's campaign-weakened effectiveness as a diplomat clouded today's opening of a North Atlantic Treaty Organization ministerial meeting here.

A senior U.S. official admitted to reporters during the secretary of state's flight from Washington on Wednesday that the U.S presidential election campaign had slowed Kissinger's diplomatic initiatives, particularly toward the Russians.

He said European officials think that campaign attacks on Kissinger by President Ford's opponents may have weakened the secretary's ability to carry out policy.

But the official said Kissinger will keep U.S. foreign policy on a steady course.

He added that the significance of Kissinger's stated desire to retire by January has been overblown, since the secretary had said months ago that he felt eight years in office was enough.

Former President Richard M. Nixon made Kissinger head of the National Security Council in 1969 and secretary of state in 1973.

Kissinger arranged a meeting today with Greek Foreign Minister Dimitri Bitsios to discuss Cyprus and was to meet later with Turkish Foreign Minister Ishan Caglayangil.

But the senior American official said Kissinger didn't expect much progress because both sides have submitted unacceptable proposals.

MISS CHRISTI

Local singer to perform benefit show

SINKING SPRING — The Brushcreek Township Fire Department will present its second annual Country Concert Wednesday at the Sinking Spring gymnasium.

Headlining the show this year is Steve Lake and the Swingmasters featuring Chubby Howard on steel guitar. The Swingmasters are fresh from appearing on coast to coast television as the guests of the Phil Donahue Show. Dayne Puckett, a country-western performer will be with the Swingmasters.

A Washington C.H. women, Christi Shoemaker, will appear Wednesday in the benefit concert. She goes by the name of Miss Christi and sings country-rock favorites. She is also a teacher in the Washington C.H. school district and has performed locally with the Zugg Brothers.

Also appearing will be the ventriloquism act of Mort and Marty, Ronnie Thurman and Nashville singer Jack Arwood.

WSRW radio disc jockey Herb Day along with Cincinnati Reds pitcher Will McEnaney will be present. A Sinking Spring native Gary Waits, who is the Reds bullpen catcher will accompany McEnaney.

All proceeds from the concert will go to the construction of the Brushcreek Township Fire Station. A new site has been chosen and ground has been broken for the building according to fire chief Phil Tong.

The concert will start at 8 p.m., and refreshments will be served at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Tickets are $2 in advance and $3 at the door. Advanced tickets can be purchased at the Sundry Store in Hillsboro and Peebles and at Satterfield's Grocery in Sinking Spring.

The population of the United States reached 200 million in 1967.

Concorde landings OKd by courts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal appeals court decision apparently clears the way for the controversial supersonic Concorde jet to start scheduled flights from London and Paris to Washington on Monday.

The decision also has provided new legal ammunition for Concorde's lawyers in their upcoming battles with the Port Authority of New York-New Jersey, which has banned the French-British plane from landing at John F. Kennedy Airport for six months.

The three-judge panel Wednesday refused to overturn the Feb. 4 decision by Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman Jr. that allowed Air France and British Airways to operate limited Concorde flights into two U.S. airports for up to 16 months.

"This court is in agreement with the secretary that in the circumstances of this case, his order for such a trial period is within his authority and competence and is not arbitrary or capricious or otherwise in violation of law," the judges ruled after hearing more than two hours of legal arguments from attorneys representing various sides in the dispute.

The ruling was a setback to environmental groups which had hoped the court would overturn Coleman's ruling allowing the two airlines each to offer two daily flights into Kennedy and one daily flight into Washington's Dulles International Airport during the test period.

An attorney for the Environmental Defense Fund, which brought the suit against Coleman's order, said his organization planned to ask the full appeals court to review the ruling but said the petition probably would not be filed in time to halt the first flights.

Both Air France and British Airways plan to start Concorde service Monday with the planes landing at Dulles within minutes of each other.

The airlines originally had hoped to start their service to New York first, but the Port Authority ban there forced those flights to be suspended indefinitely. The airlines currently are challenging the Kennedy ban in a district court in New York.

Fairfax County, Va., which contains part of Dulles, also has passed a local ordinance banning the Concorde from that airport. A spokesman for the county said Wednesday there had been no decision on how the law could be enforced. Dulles is owned by the federal government.

TRACKS, BUT NO TEARS—Bennie B. Paradise, 4016 Palmer Road, inspects his lawn after unwelcome county vehicles were removed. He points to one gouge in the landscape while looking at another in front of him. Although Paradise shed no tears, he was very upset about the tracks on his lawn.

Humphrey sees chanceof open convention

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Tuesday's Democratic primary results in Maryland and Michigan reopen the party's national convention but noncandidate Hubert H. Humphrey still sees only an outside chance he would emerge with the nomination, he said Wednesday night.

The former vice president, his political adrenalin obviously flowing again after the brakes had been put on former Gov. Jimmy Carter's bandwagon, told a news conference here "we're about where we were prior Pennsylvania. An open convention."

Humphrey, appearing with veteran Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, prior to a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, said the Maryland victory of California Gov. Jerry Brown "did a great deal in the sense of opening up the convention. The so-called bandwagon theory has been slowed down, let me say, to a sensible movement and speed."

But equally significant, the Minnesota senator said, was the race in Michigan between Carter, the former Georgia governor who emerged as the undisputed front runner after sweeping Pennsylvania late last month, and Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz. Humphrey noted that their contest ended in "a virtual dead heat, they shared the delegates."

The senator reiterated that his own stance has not changed—that he is available for the nomination in the event of a convention deadlock—but he added that he regards such a development as having only "an outside chance." He said that possibility depends on what happens in big primaries yet to be held in Ohio, California, New Jersey, and elsewhere. "The big game has yet to be played," he said.

Hays, an outspoken Humphrey supporter, is running favorite son presidential delegate slates of his own in six of Ohio's 23 congressional districts. Those candidates are seeking 27 delegate slots, and the 14-term congressman indicated those who are successful would be Humphrey's for the asking. "The convention might well turn to him," the congressman said.

In his speech, Humphrey sounded more like an announced candidate than a standby. He reeled off a long list of national ills which he laid at the doorstep of the Republican administration. "Seven sad years of the Nixon-Ford team have been more than enough," he said.

The senator hit particularly hard at the administration for the nation's still sluggish economy and unemployment rate."In the last three years, the Nixon-Ford team has been able to increase employment by barely one million jobs. . .they managed to push the official unemployment rate to an 8.5 per cent average in 1975," he said, adding that it stood at only 3.6 per cent in 1968.

"The Nixon-Ford team has laid waste to the American economy with its 19th Century economic thinking," he said.

Today, Vice President Nelson Rockefeller planned to address the Queen City Club and a private, fund-raiser for President Ford during a four-hour visit to Cincinnati. He'll arrive about 5 p.m.

The President's son, Jack Ford, makes his first visit to Ohio during a whirlwind tour that takes him from Piqua in the southwest section of the state to Canton in the northeast.

He'll talk primarily with students at the Upper Valley Vocational School, Bowling Green State University, Ohio State University and then open campaign headquarters for his father in Mansfield.

He'll visit a reception of the Ohio Republican Women's Federation in Canton before calling it a night. The following morning he'll open President Ford's campaign headquarters in that city, where his Republican opponent, Ronald Reagan, has his campaign headquarters for the state.

Another Ford supporter was in Ohio Wednesday night. Rogers C.B. Morton, the Ford national campaign manager, spoke in Columbus to Republican delegates and alternates pledged to Ford.

"I think that the President's position has been regained," Morton told reporters. Ford defeated opponent Ronald Reagan in two primaries on Tuesday after losing to the former California governor in a half-dozen other elections earlier in the month.

"It is apparent in this campaign there is a swing back and forth. The President's campaign has regained its momentum.

And then Morton predicted: "The President will surge ahead steadily."

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Wednesday there may be a record turnout for the primary. The anticipated large number of voters prompted Brown to warn that persons ineligible to vote or who vote more than once will be prosecuted.

Presidential contender Morris Udall of Arizona promised to come "roaring into Ohio" to campaign for the June 8 primary during an airport news conference in Cleveland Wednesday. He was between flights from Michigan to Kentucky, site of the next primary.

In Ohio, he says voters will show disillusionment with Jimmy Carter on June 8 and possibly give Udall a long-awaited primary victory.

Udall called Ohio the key state in his drive to block a Carter nomination in the Democratic national convention. He said that his narrow loss to Carter in the Michigan primary has reintensified his belief that when he is pitted "one-on-one" with Carter, voters will reject the former Georgia governor's "smile and promise" campaign.

Votes opposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Sens. John Glenn and Robert Taft Jr. cast opposite votes Wednesday when the Senate approved 72-22 creation of a permanent committee to oversee the intelligence community.

Glenn voted with the majority while Taft opposed the measure.

Landowner upset over use of lawn

A Palmer Road resident became irate Wednesday afternoon when he returned to his home to find three mowing tractors parked on his front lawn.

Bennie B. Paradise, 4016 Palmer Road was returning from a Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting when he sighted the large yellow tractors in the yard.

He called the Fayette County Sheriff's Department and asked to have a deputy come to his residence to remove the unwanted vehicles, but the department called county engineer Charles Wagner, who handled the matter.

Paradise said he was disgusted with the entire situation. County employes who had been mowing grass along Palmer Road during the afternoon parked the vehicles on his property at the end of their work day.

Paradise said his stepdaughter Sally Gaylord, 18, was in the house at the time, but no effort was made to seek her permission to leave the vehicles on the lawn overnight.

Even before he called the sheriff's department, Paradise took the rotors from the engines of two of the vehicles. "I would have taken the third," he said, "but it was a diesel engine."

He informed sheriff's deputies of what he had done and said he would return the rotors, only to Wagner personally.

When two men from the engineer's office came to the property to retrieve the vehicles, Paradise ordered them off and threatened charges of trespassing. They left.

Wagner appeared a short time later, and Paradise also told him to leave. He was still waiting for a sheriff's deputy to arrive.

Paradise then called the sheriff's department for a second time and was told to return the engine parts. Paradise says he was told to return the parts or theft charges would be filed against him. He handed over the rotors and Wagner removed the vehicles.

Sheriff's dispatcher John Hyer, with whom he spoke, said he simply told Paradise that it would avoid problems if he would just return the rotor.

All he said he wanted was to have the mowers removed, Hyer added. He added that he felt Paradise and Wagner could "work out" their differences without a deputy being present.

Wagner said the county frequently leaves vehicles at work sites to avoid cost of returning them to the county barns daily.

He said they are pulled onto private property away from the road to lessen the chance of theft of tractor parts during the night.

Overtime cut in state agency

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Overtime in the state Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation has been reduced by more than 40 per cent since the beginning of 1975, the department's director said.

Dr. Timothy B. Moritz said the savings amounted to $3.2 million and enabled the department to employ 214 fulltime employes.

Reds edge Giants, 5-4

Big Red Machine off to best start in five years

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The powerful Cincinnati Reds, off to their best start in five years at 21-13, have yet to play their best baseball, according to Manager Sparkie Anderson.

"As soon as the weather gets warmer, you'll see a pretty good club," promised Anderson following Wednesday night's 5-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants, who plunged to their 19th loss in their last 23 games.

"It's our best start in a long time, but we still aren't playing well," added Anderson. "Our defense hasn't been as strong as it should be, and our hitting has tailed off after a good start."

It would be difficult to convince the Giants, who succumbed to two-run doubles by Johnny Bench and Tony Perez before rallying for a pair of runs in the bottom of the ninth to make it close.

"Fortunately, our pitching is coming along," noted Anderson. "Sandy Alcala was supposed to be in the bullpen at the start of the season, but he's showing us he can do the job as a starter."

Alcala, a rookie right-hander, allowed two runs in six and one-third innings while raising his record to 3-0. He has won all three of his starts, previously beating the Chicago Cubs and the New York Mets.

"Sandy is a big, strong kid with a lot of stuff. I have plenty of confidence in him," said Pete Rose, who lifted his batting average to .379 with a pair of singles, giving him 2,600 career hits.

"I also got my 2,000th at Candlestick," Rose recalled. "But you can be sure I'll get No. 3,000 at home. My biggest goal, though, is Frankie Frisch's 2,880 hits as a switch hitter. I know how much work that takes."

The Giants' first half-price promotion in their San Francisco history attracted 23,591 customers who watched John Montefusco pitch against the world champions.

Montefusco, 4-2, allowed three runs in seven innings and was taken to a hospital after being struck on the left shin by Cesar Geronomimo's grounder in the fifth. X-rays proved negative.

"The Count was hit solid by that ball, but he's tough. He pitched well enough to win," said Manager Bill Rigney. "It was a good game We're getting better. At least we're playing some baseball now."

Bench's two-run double gave the Reds a lead in the fourth and Perez' pinch-double off Gary Lavelle in the eighth made it 5-2.

Rawley Eastwick worked out of the Giants' two-run ninth to record his fifth save.

Tommy John's left elbow was a sore point last year for the Los Angeles Dodgers. This year, his right ankle is a sore spot.

John, who lost all of last season because of elbow surgery and cost the Los Angeles Dodgers one of their top pitchers, has been tattooed by batted balls two games running now.

"Don't laugh if you see me wearing shin guards next time out," said the left-hander after his ankle was belted by a Ken Henderson drive during Wednesday night's 4-1 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

John, pitching well at the time, wasn't seriously hurt but was removed from the game after the seventh inning as a precuationary measure. The last time out, a smash from the bat of Al Oliver chased him from the game with Pittsburgh.

In the other National League games, the Houston Astros beat the San Diego Padres 9-4; the Pittsburgh Pirates nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 7-6; the Philadelphia Phillies nudged the New York Mets 2-1 and the Cincinnati Reds outscored the San Francisco Giants 5-4.

Steve Yeager slugged a two-run homer to back the combined six-hit pitching of John and Mike Marshall. The Braves had taken a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a run-scoring single by Ken Henderson. But in the second Steve Garvey singled, stole second and two outs later, Yeager homered into the center field pavilion off loser Dick Ruthven, 4-5. It was the fifth home run for the Los Angeles catcher.

The Dodgers added a run in the third when Ron Cey was hit with a pitch with the bases loaded. The Dodgers added a fourth run in the fifth inning on doubles by Bill Buckner and Dusty Baker.

John, 2-2, scattered five hits over seven innings and Marshall worked the last two innings and earned his eighth save of the season.

Astros 9, Padres 4

Bob Watson's three-run homer in the eighth inning highlighted a five-run rally that sparked Houston over San Diego. After Rob Andrews broke a 4-4 tie with a basesloaded single off Padre reliever Mike Dupree, Watson iced the game with his second home run of the year.

Singles by Ken Boswell and pinch-hitter Larry Milbourne and a walk to pinch-hitter Leon Roberts loaded the bases in the eighth and set the stage for Andrews and Watson to put the game away.

Yaz, Bosox smash Tigers

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

Carl Yastrzemski has played more games than any other man wearing Boston's red sox but that doesn't mean he's slowing down.

Yastrzemski, the man with the marathon name, set a longevity mark Tuesday night by playing in his 2,293rd game, surpassing the record held by Ted Williams.

If you think that game was one to remember, then what about No. 2,294?

The 36-year-old Boston slugger slammed three home runs Wednesday night to power the Red Sox to a 9-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers. Yastrzemski, now in his 16th year in the major leagues, had never hit three homers in one game before.

In fact, he hadn't hit three homers this season and was batting .198 entering Wednesday night's game, embarrasing figures for a lifetime .291 hitter.

Yastrzemski finished with four hits, four runs batted in and four runs scored.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Baltimore Orioles beat the Milwaukee Brewers 5-3; the New York Yankees nipped the Cleveland Indians 3-2; the Kansas City Royals downed the Oakland A's 5-2, and the Chicago White Sox trimmed the Minnesota Twins 4-1.

The victory was the seventh in the last eight games for the Red Sox, while Detroit lost its fourth straight.

The Red Sox, defending American League champions, are now in fourth place, six games behind the frontrunning New York Yankees. They play the Yankees four games beginning tonight in New York.

"I'm glad to see us playing well because we're running into those dudes," said Boston Manager Darrell Johnson.

Ron LeFlore tripled for the Tigers to extend his hitting streak to 22 games, equalling a streak by Al Kaline in 1961. But the Tiger record is 40 consecutive games set by Ty Cobb in 1911.

Blue Lions finish season with loss

Light pole darkens contest

WILMINGTON — "I've lost because of 13 errors, I've lost because of mental mistakes. . .but that was the first game I ever lost because of a light pole," Washington C.H. baseball coach Dwight Garrett lamented after dropping a 4-3 contest to Wilmington Wednesday.

The Blue Lions went into the seventh inning Wednesday leading the Hurricane 3-2, but after a double-which according to Garrett hit a light pole in right field-by Duane Earley the Hurricane finished out the Blue Lions' season with a 4-3 decision.

Joe Melvin was under the high fly ball when it apparently glanced off a light fixture on the pole and landed in fair territory. Second baseman Mark Fisher had to retrieve the ball, but by that time the winning run had crossed the plate.

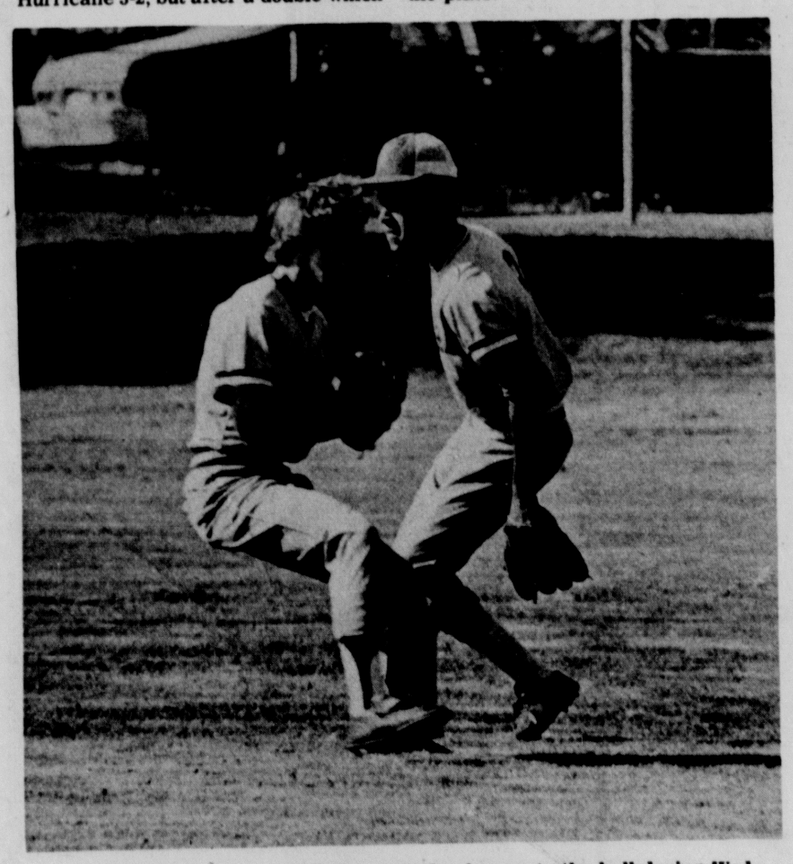

The loss left the Blue Lions with a 10-14 overall record and a 5-9 league mark.

The Blue Lions took an early 1-0 lead in the third inning, but the Hurricane came back with two in the fourth inning. Washington C.H. took the lead with two runs in the fifth giving the Lions a 3-2 lead.

Jeff Elliott took the loss giving up just six hits but five of those hits were for extra bases including a home run by Swindler.

Brian Williams went the distance and got the win for the Hurricane.

Jeff Estep led the Lions' eight-hit attack with three safeties. Randy Sparkman had two hits including a triple. Jeff DeWees scored two of the Lions three runs.

Mi-De wins

Mi-De Trophy topped Warners Sport Shop, 7-6, in Fayette County slow pitch softball league action Wednesday night.

Keith Guthrie, the winning pitcher, had two hits and teammates Mike Henry, Danny Dodds and Rick Bell each doubled.

Tom Kelley had three hits for Warners and Steve Satchell took the loss.

Gymnastic meet

A gymnastics exhibition will be put on by sixth, seventh and eighth graders as well as kindergarten students at the Washington Middle School Gymnasium Saturday at 7 p.m.

The boys and girls will be working on vaulting, the parallel bars and other gymnastic exercises. A 50-cent donation will be accepted at the door.

Hanners doubtful

Seven class AAA sectional track qualifiers from Miami Trace High School will begin district action Friday afternoon at Columbus Whitehall-Yearling High School.

The meet which combines qualifiers from three sectionals will get underway at 4 p.m. with the field events. Preliminaries in all running events will begin at 4:30 p.m. with the finals set for Saturday at 2 p.m.

Panther tracksters competing for a state meet berth are Art Schlichter and Dan Gifford in the high jump, Greg Cobb in the 100-yard dash, Bill Warnock in the quarter mile, Bill Hanners in the half mile and the mile relay team of Warnock, Cobb, Frank Dunn and Bruce Ervin.

Hanners, the sectional half-mile champion, is listed as questionable for the meet by coach Bill Beatty. The Miami Trace sophomore has an acute case of tendonitis in his right knee.

Cage clinic

The registration deadline for a summer basketball camp to be held at Miami Trace High School is Monday.

The camp will run in two sessions, June 14-19 and June 21-26. It will be directed by the Miami Trace coaching staff and it is for any area cagers in the sixth through the eighth grades.

Interested persons should contact John Woolums at Miami Trace High School for more information.

Jr. Champ set

The Washington C.H. Jaycees will be holding their annual Junior Champ competition at Gardner Park Sunday.

Youths interested in competing in the track and field events should register at noon at Gardner Park. Competition will begin at 1 p.m.

Something has to give this weekend

See crunch near on Indy qualifying

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Something has to give this weekend when 25 drivers try to cram their cars into one of the 10 spots left in the 33-car starting lineup for the Indianapolis 500.

"It's like trying to put six gallons into a five-gallon bucket," said one veteran track observer. "It's just not going to fit."

One driver almost sure to qualify is 1969 winner Mario Andretti. The dark-haired Pennsylvanian missed the first round of qualifications last weekend when he was in Belgium, driving in that country's Grand Prix.

Andretti has been consistently running his car between 183 and 188 miles an hour, well above the 180 mark expected to be good enough to qualify. He turned in two laps over 187 m.p.h. on Wednesday.

Janet Guthrie's fortunes are not nearly as certain.

The 38-year-old New York physicist has yet to run anywhere near 180 m.p.h. and there are growing doubts about the firepower of her blue Vollstedt-Offenhauser racer. Her top speed this week has been 171 m.p.h. Wednesday she managed just 168.161.

Changes have been ordered.

"We're going to put a laterstyled motor in the car," said Rex Hutton, chief mechanic on Miss Guthrie's car. "This motor has about 600 miles on it. It's getting tired."

Hutton admits Miss Guthrie's time is limited, but he says she can still increase her speed in time to qualify over the weekend. "We wanted to start her off slower so she could get used to the track."

"She's been very consistent — now she should have some speed, too."

Which is not to say her path into the race will be easy if she does.

Looking to get into the race to compete for some $1 million are a flock of other less-publicized drivers. Seven cars not yet qualified have been clocked over 180 m.p.h., and at least 10 more are thought to have a good chance also to top that speed. Track observers say there are others who cannot be completely discounted.

Among those given a chance of cracking the lineup are 16-year-veteran Lloyd Ruby, Salt Walther, Jerry Grant, Mike Hiss, Eldon Rasmussen and rookie Spike Gehlhausen.

Few, if any, of the drivers who qualify this weekend are given a good chance to win the race — not with Johnny Rutherford consistently averaging 189 m.p.h. and Bobby and Al Unser, A.J. Foyt, Gordon Johncock and Tom Sneva all comfortably above 185. But that shouldn't dull the competition.

Salt Lake City new Spirits home

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — The Spirits of St. Louis of the American Basketball Association, leaving their home because of financial losses and nonsupport from the fans, are moving here where six months ago the Utah Stars folded for the same reasons.

"We're here to stay," announced a confident Harry Weltman, club president and general manager, to a Wednesday news conference.

He said St. Louis "is not really a basketball town." He later said a study by club owners indicated pro basketball could succeed in Salt Lake City with adequate "community involvement."

The question now, however, is how much does the community — the ABA's smallest market — want to get involved with pro basketball? Stars owner Bill Daniels repeatedly tried to sell his team before it folded in December. Declining attendance, personnl problems and a losing record were among problems blamed for the demise.

Earl D. Walters, a businessman who says he has raised more than $600,000 in order to get the Spirits moved here, has said Salt Lake City "is one of the better franchise cities in the nation." On Wednesday, he said the folding of the Stars was not a major concern since he believed it had been more because of inadequate financing than lack of public support.

The Spirits have several attractions for Utah fans. Moses Malone, Ron Boone, Randy Denton and Steve Green played here with the Stars before Daniels sold them to St. Louis. Young Malone and Boone, a playmaker, were favorites.

The Spirits also have temperamental and high-priced Marvin Barnes to lure crowds into the Salt Palace next season.

Spirits officials, who reportedly lost $4 million in the past two seasons, negotiated with Utah business interests to share ownership of the team, which had a 35-49 record last season and was trailed only by the now-defunct Virginia Squires.

Palmer sets new mark

DENVER (AP) — "It feels good to set a record of this kind," proclaimed golfing superstar Arnold Palmer after he and his crew smashed the old mark for an around-the-world flight in a small business jet.

Palmer and three companions completed the journey which took them to six countries in less than three days Wednesday night.

The 23,000-mile flight took 57 hours, 25 minutes and 42 seconds, breaking the record of 86 hours, nine minutes set 10 years ago by entertainer Arthur Godfrey.

Palmer, wearing the same yellow sport shirt and brown suit he wore when he began the flight in his Learjet 36 Monday, embraced his wife, Winnie, after embarking from the aircraft Wednesday night.

He called the trip "exciting and enjoyable."

"The highlight? I guess it is right now," Palmer said.

Palmer's twin-engine jet, called the Yankee 200, averaged 479 miles per hour on the global flight, a spokesman for the Aviation-Space Writers Association, which sponsored the trip, said.

The jet made stops in Boston, Mass.; Paris, France; Tehran, Iran; Colombo, Sri Lanka; Jakarta, Indonesia; Wake Island and Honolulu, Hawaii.

"At Colombo, we started getting a little tired," Palmer said.

The only hitch came when bad weather forced an unplanned landing in Wales.

Computers become hobby for many

By RHONDA SEEGAL
Associated Press Writer

BURLINGTON, Mass. (AP) — "One day at school I saw this funny-looking thing with blinking lights," said 17-year-old Roger Walker of his first encounter with the nation's newest hobby: the digital computer.

"I dropped in to see what it was, then I just kept coming back. I really got hooked on it," added Walker.

Computers — for a long time highly sophisticated and vastly expensive machines requiring platoons of technicians, programers, mathematicians and engineers to run — now are being sold and used by amateurs. It's happening just the way ham radios and high-fidelity sets passed into the hands of hobbyists of earlier generations.

The nation's first electronic computer, developed at the University of Pennsylvania's Moore school in the 1940s, took several years to build and cost close to $20 million. But technological developments have made it possible to build an equivalent computer for as little as $500.

The advance which makes possible hobby computers is the "microprocessor," a device which does everything the room-sized original at the University of Pennsylvania could do — yet fits on the area of a fingernail and is only millimeters thick.

"This hobby didn't exist five years ago," said Douglas Callihan, 35, a network radio technician in Boston. "Except for the very wealthy, no one had them in his house."

"We used to consider ourselves fortunate when freshmen had calculus. Now we are getting students who have already built their own computers," said Peter Jessel, a computer scientist at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge.

These small, inexpensive and versatile computers can be used for many things, from playing games to solving very technical problems.

"You can connect the computers to your television to play video games, like ping-pong, or you can connect it to a speaker to play music," Jessel explained.

Walker uses his to grade students' tests.

Geoffrey Feldman, 24, a freelance engineer from Amherst, says he's pursuing more sophisticated goals.

"I dropped out of school, and I'm using the computer to educate myself. I'm getting about 10 times the education for the cost," Feldman says.

"Electronic music is getting very involved, and the computer can take over some of the work," he explains. "I had known people were making microprocessors, and I knew it was just a matter of time before the prices began to drop."

"I play games — like backgammon or chess; store some tax information and eliminate a lot of paperwork from my life," Callihan says. "I'm also using it for a lot of common garden variety things, like watching the house with devices that act as eyes."

Until recently, inexpensive computer equipment was not readily available to the general public. But now Massachusetts hobbyists have their own specialty shop, "The Computer Store," here.

BURLINGTON: Store," here.

Sidney Halligan, 45, and Dick Brown, 43, are owners of the store, one of about a dozen computer hobbyshops in the nation.

"With the low cost and the availability of these computers, they are going to be as much a part of everyday life as the toaster," Halligan believes. "The younger people are going to be in the computer age whether they like it or not.

"Now that there are low-cost computers, the pressure is mounting to develop programs to do domestic tasks," said Dr. Steve Ward, an MIT professor. "They have become cheap enough so that we can expect them to have a serious impact on household management within the next decade."

"It's not a freak idea. It is the second revolution for computers: computers for the people. It is the beginning of a new kind of computer marketing," according to Halligan. "It is a new retail distribution method of what used to be a very complicated product."

His customers, ranging from age 10 to 65, can buy all kinds of computer parts, including the processing unit, the memory, and connections to hook computers to items already in the home. Halligan says an entire system runs from $700 to $1,200. When completed it looks like a small box and can sit on a table.

"The 'biggies' are starting to catch up to this thing," Feldman adds, referring to the computer "kits" being sold by large computer firms, including Intel, Signetics and MOS Technology.

"It's an exploding marketplace," says a spokesman for Intel, the nation's largest producer of microprocessors. Intel's sales last year totalled $137 million.

U. S. losing defense edge

CLEVELAND (AP) — Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld says that while the Soviet Union has been expanding its military capability, this country has been downgrading its defense budget.

Rumsfeld told the Cleveland Council on World Affairs Wednesday this country is capable of defending itself now, but added that if the trend continues, a future defense secretary might not be able to make that statement.

Rumsfeld said the defense establishment has a larger budget today, but, "it represents the smallest percentage of the gross national product, the smallest percentage of the labor pool and the smallest percentage of the budget of any time since before Pearl Harbor."

He said the Defense Department probably was "more efficient than any other element of U.S. government."

Boy requires stitches for bite

Approximately 15 stitches were required to mend a New Holland youth's leg after he had sustained a dog bite Tuesday.

George R. Smith, 10, of New Holland, was treated at Fayette Memorial Hospital after reportedly being attacked by a dog in front of 214 S. North Street at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The owner was advised by Washington C.H. police officers to confine his dog.

Numerous concrete blocks and tiles belonging to Armbrust Concrete Co., 1000 Armburst Ave., were reported to have been thrown by vandals down a ledge in front of the main office. The items are valued at $4.78. The incident is believed to have occured sometime between 4:30 p.m. Tuesday and 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Fayette County sheriff's deputies reported.

Eddie Pendergraft, 51, of 508 Carolyn Rd., twisted his ankle, sheriff's deputies said, after attempting to slow his motorcycle on North Street near Mace Street at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday. He was treated and released from Fayette Memorial Hospital.

No injuries reported in three local mishaps

Three accidents, each of which resulted in no more than moderate damage to the vehicles, were investigated Wednesday by Fayette County sheriff's deputies and Washington C.H. police officers.

Joseph T. Gentry, 57, of 424 Forest St., was driving a truck northbound on the Stuckey Road when he went too far to the right and overturned. Damage was sustained to a small portion of fencing located about a half mile south of the Washington-Waterloo Road. The 8:10 a.m. Wednesday accident caused slight damage to the truck, which had to be righted by a wrecker.

Backing from a space in the Days Inn motel parking lot, a car driven by Nellie L. Whiteside, 53, of 910 Rawlings St., reportedly struck a car proceeding through the lot. The second car, which sustained moderate damage, was driven by Clifford G. Horton, 76, of Elmira, N.Y. Ms. Whiteside's car received slight damage as a result of the 3:45 p.m. Wednesday accident.

Washington C.H. police officers reported that a car driven by Roy O. Sturgill, 51, of 707 Maple St., attempted to turn left from Washington Avenue onto Elm Street. He was struck by a car travelling east on Washington Avenue which was driven by Linda L. Thomas, 26, of 615 Carolyn Ave. Sturgill was charged with failing to yield in the 3:21 p.m. Wednesday accident. Both cars were slightly damaged.

Pistol team takes 2 tops

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department pistol team of Deputy Robert Russell and auxiliary deputies Alan Yeoman and Jerry Coffey recently won five awards at pistol matches held in Springfield and Urbana.

The combined sheriff and police combat match drew 200 of the best police marksmen from Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

The matches were sponsored by the Clark County Police Association and the Champaign County Ranger Officer Association.

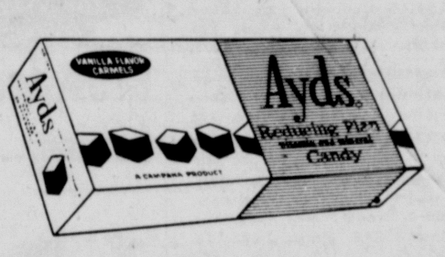

Despite 50 m.p.h. wind guests, deputies Russell, Yeoman and Coffey managed to hang on to one fourth place individual award, two first place and two fourth place team awards. Deputy Russell took three awards, while Deputy Yeoman and Deputy Coffey took one each.

A total of 15 trophies have been secured by the pistol team this year.

According to deputies Russell, Yeoman, and Coffey, their main goal in competing is to "bring the Fayette County Sheriff's Department national awards as a result of competition in the respective classifications."

Some area businesses closing

First day of county fair to host community picnic

Special measures have recently been taken in an attempt to make the first full day of the Fayette County Fair a memorable occassion.

The Fayette County Fair Board, in conjunction with the Fayette County Bicentennial Commission, has billed July 26 as "Bicentennial Day at the Fair." Many events have been scheduled for that Monday, and Fair Board Chairman Eddie Kirk hopes that the day will become part of "the biggest fair ever held in the county."

The chairman of the Fayette County commissioners, Robert Mace, noted that his office will close at noon that day.. Letters have been sent to all other Courthouse offices informing them that they may also observe "Bicentennial Day at the Fair" in this manner if they so desire.

According to Kirk, all Washington C.H. banks will be participating in the holiday, and many local businesses will also close for all or part of the day.

It is hoped that a large turnout of area residents will be present on the fairgrounds for a noon picnic on the special day. It is asked that all participants in the picnic dress in old fashioned garb. Those who follow this recommendation will be presented with certificates by the fair board, and a "best dressed" judging will take place later. Prizes will be awarded according to age categories.

A horseshoe pitching contest is slated for later in the afternoon, and then during the evening, an old-fashioned, big-wheel sulky race has been planned. Six of these antique type sulkies will be entered.

To fill an afternoon time gap between the horseshoe contest and sulky race, Kirk has suggested that anyone who has any ideas may contribute by calling him or George Finley. Musical groups, singers, or dancers are a few types of entertainers that Kirk hopes will participate in the open time a slot.

Admission to the fairgrounds is free dailiy until 4 p.m.

WSHS girl captures top state honor in science test

School's first ever, officials believe

Recently released results of the Ohio High School Scholastic Achievement Tests show a Washington Senior High School freshman achieved first place in the general science category.

Kim Elcess, the daughter of Washington Senior High School English teacher Ann Elcess, placed first in the general science individual competition. The test was taken by 1100 high school students statewide.

According to school officials, this is the first time a Washington Senior High School student has gained the state's top spot in a scholastic achievement test. The school has placed student teams in the first position for district achievement test competitions, but has never had a statewide winner.

The fifth annual individual and team awards program tested a total of 22,000 Ohio high school students in 16 subjects. Other categories besides general science were those dealing with English, foreign languages, mathematics, and social sciences.

Although the competition program has gone through many changes in the past, this was the 48th year the Ohio Tests of Scholastic Achievement have been offered to outstanding Ohio high school students.

Other Washington Senior High School students took honors in district competition within the different categories.

Jinnie Harper, 19th in Biology; Debbie Kingery, state honorable mention in general science; Kurt Smith, ninth in general science and 19th in state for this category. Bret Wilson, 19th in American history.

John Walker, 12th in American history.

John Walker, 12th in American history; Becky Wheat, 11th in American history, State honorable mention; Galen Bock, 12th in American government; Andy Merritt, ninth in American government; David Thompson, fifth in American government, state honorable mention.

TOPS IN STATE — Washington Senior High School freshman Kim Elcess placed first in the general science category of the Ohio Scholastic Achievement Tests held recently. She is flanked on the left by her mother, Mrs. Ann Elcess, English teacher at the high school. Ken Higgins, representing the State Department of Education presents Kim with her trophy.

Levi move may bring political heat

Busing may become hot campaign issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi is moving toward a lonely decision that could make school busing a major issue in yet another national political campaign.

But Levi's decision will have no immediate impact on court orders imposing busing in Boston and other cities. It's doubtful that the course Levi is considering could actually lead to any changes in local school districts until next year — after the 1976 elections.

White House and Justice Department officials insisted Wednesday that Levi alone will decide whether to use the Boston school case as a vehicle for the federal government to seek new Supreme Court guidelines limiting the use of busing to integrate schools. His decision is expected this week.

The debate has split the Ford administration and the Justice Department itself as various officials lined up on opposite sides.

Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman, the only black Cabinet member and a former civil rights lawyer, discussed the matter with Levi privately. He declined comment on the discussion, but he has said he supports the Boston school busing order.

The chairman of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, the League of Women Voters, a leader of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and 500 delegates to the National Conference on Desegregation Without Turmoil all urged the department not to seek new busing guidelines, particularly in the Boston case.

The national controversy may push the issue toward the forefront of the political campaign. It's already a major issue in Kentucky, where President Ford faces a primary election on Tuesday.

But department officials insist that Levi will not be swayed by partisan considerations.

And Ford tried to brush off any hint that the timing of the move might be aimed at gaining antibusing support in upcoming primaries. Ford said, "We have made a major effort not to inject busing into the campaign. We hope we can keep this type of matter away from the emotional involvement of this problem and the primary elections."

Ford said he has asked Levi and David Mathews, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, to look for alternatives to busing.

Whatever course Levi takes may change votes, but it won't change court orders imposing busing any time soon, if ever.

If Levi proceeds with the plan he is considering, he would simply file a friend-ofthe-court brief asking the Supreme Court to review the Boston busing order.

Department motions are believed to carry considerable weight with the justices, but there's no guarantee that Levi could persuade the court to take the case.

And if the court should decide to hear the case, there's no guarantee that the justices could be persuaded to accept the Ford administration's proposals on how busing should be limited.

Furthermore, a decision would be unlikely before next year. Until then, court-ordered busing would continue under present rules.

Busing to cut across district

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Some of the 23,000 students in Wilmington's city and suburban school systems will be bused to classes beginning in 1977 under a court-ordered desegregation plan that cuts across school district boundaries.

It wasn't known immediately how many of the pupils in the mostly black city system and the primarily white suburban districts will be affected by the order issued Wednesday by a panel of three federal court judges.

Federal courts in at least two instances have required busing across current school district lines to meet the 1954 U.S. Supreme Court ruling banning separate-but-equal schools systems.

Louisville, Ky., is operating under a court-ordered busing plan which cut across school district boundaries and led to the merger of city and county school systems. A court-ordered desegregation plan for Indianapolis has been stayed for an appeal.

The Supreme Court ruled in 1974 in a case involving Detroit that cross-district busing is a valid tool for integration only when it has been proven that the suburban school districts also were intentionally and illegally segregated. In that case, the court found that only Detroit's school system was illegally segregated.

Other major desegregation plans, ordered for Boston, Denver and Charlotte-Mecklenburg County, N.C., do not cross government boundaries for integration.

In the Wilmington case, the court's order follows by more than a year a decision by the panel that the rights of city school students were violated through a variety of policies which fostered segregated city and suburban New Castle County schools.

Brown: new face, new politics?

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Jerry Brown has been a political mix of liberal and conservative in 16 months as California governor. He has made few sweeping changes in state government, but he has made an impact in areas ranging from sex laws to education spending.

Brown, who put a dent in the Jimmy Carter bandwagon by beating him in Maryland's Democratic presidential primary on Tuesday, rarely affects people in a neutral way. He is often viewed as representing the best or the worst of the "new politics" in the United States.

A leader of people, Brown says, must set a tone. He talks a lot about "lowered expectations" and limits on what government can do for people. "I see nothing wrong with a creative pause," he says.

Many columnists describe the 38-year-old governor as the most interesting politician in the country today. Provocative, flashy, bright, anti-big government, young, on the move, moving up.

But his foes say he has implemented a "politics of drift" in California since he took over from GOP presidential contender Ronald Reagan. They find him ambitious, cold, shallow, sanctimonious.

Much of the debate centers on the record of this tall, thin, animated politician who often tells reporters about his 16-hour-a-day, six-day work week and calls campaigning his idea of "a perfect day."

Brown, a former seminarian who is fond of Biblical quotes and philosophical dialogue, doesn't do much to clarify his record. He says he is not a sixpoint program man.

Brown's stance — offering more questions than answers — gives fuel to his critics. But he has retained his unprecedented high in popularity polls.

Brown, the son of former California Gov. Edmund G. "Pat" Brown, has taken a conservative tack on several grounds: keeping a no-new taxes pledge and signing bills imposing mandatory prison terms for heroin pushers and for the use of a gun in the commission of some crimes.

The state budget, now $11.8 billion, increased by 10.6 per cent in Brown's first year in office. That compares to an average annual increase of 12.2 per cent in the Reagan years. Brown worked with legislators last year to cut a proposed school finance bill from $220 to $115 million, then used his veto power to cut another $27 million. His finance department officials have testified against proposed spending increases for other social services, including Medi-Cal.

At the same time, he signed a bill sought by liberals abolishing a $40 million annual oil depletion allowance for major oil companies. He issued an executive order forbidding state-chartered savings and loan associations from redlining ghetto areas and denying loans to the poor or members of minority groups.

He also pushed for a constitutional amendment, now on the June 8 ballot, which would make it possible to increase bank and corporation taxes on a majority rather than twothirds legislative vote. And he signed bills liberalizing marijuana penalties and repealing sex laws used against homosexuals.

Eye ground bone in meat products

WASHINGTON (AP) — There will be some finely ground chips from pig and cow bones in your hot dogs if the Agriculture Department carries through with its plan to let food processors use machines to gnaw meat closer to the bone.

But those bone chips should not be noticeable and, besides, they are a good source of calcium, the department says.

The plan is to allow deboning machines to scrape the bones of processed livestock carcases. Deboning machines are used now by the industry but not in the final bone scraping manner being urged by the Agriculture Deprtment for processed meat products.

The department's plan would allow processors to include up to one pound of bone chips in every 100 pounds of meat to make such things as pork sausage, canned beef stew and frozen pizza.

Officials say the technique could add nearly one billion pounds of meat a year to the U.S. food supply, about five pounds per American.

The department, explaining the new approach, said, "Under traditional hand deboning methods, loss of meat typically occurs when packing house employees attempt to cut the meat from neck bones, ribs and backbones. Mechanical deboning machines can strip such bones clean of all meat that otherwise would not be gotten by hand deboning."

In the process, however, the department said that "a small amount of very finely ground bone" would be left in the meat. The proposed regulations would allow up to one per cent "calcium content" in mechanically deboned meat for processing.

The plan was criticized by Rodney E. Leonard, director of the private Community Nutrition Institute, who said "there are no microbiological standards" in the proposal and that there is a greater threat of bacterial contamination when such scrapings are processed into food.

Leonard is a former USDA executive who during the 1960s was head of a consumer and marketing agency which included federal meat inspection.

Officials said they recognize the issue is controversial and therefore will hold "consumer briefings" on the proposal, which will be opened for public comment at least through August 25.

The first briefing will be at the department's headquarters on May 26. Others will be in Sacramento, Calif., June 11; New York, June 23; and Chicago, July 8. Anyone wishing to submit written comments can send them in duplicate to the Hearing Clerk, Room 112-A, USDA, Washington, D.C. — 2050.

New Kennedy in politics

BOSTON (AP) — Joseph P. Kennedy III, oldest of the new generation of Kennedy men, is getting his baptism in politics by managing the re-election campaign of his uncle, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

The son of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy says he will use the experience to decide whether to run for office himself someday.

Though only 23, Kennedy emphasizes that he alone directs the statewide campaign for the Democratic senator, whom he calls "Uncle Ted."

"He's let me have a pretty free hand in this," Kennedy said in an interview. "I'm running this operation."

Kennedy, tall and rugged, presides over a small paid staff in a barren suite of offices in a downtown Boston office building.

With his boyish face and bushy hair, he looks so much like his father and uncles that people approach him on the street and ask if he's a Kennedy.

Asked if he would like to seek office, Kennedy said, "Certainly it interests me. That's why I'm involved here.

Intelligence panel has same old faces

WASHINGTON (AP) — A majority of the Senate's new intelligence committee will be members of existing panels whose failure to curb spy agency abuses provided a principal argument for creation of the new committee.

Under terms of a resolution establishing the new panel, at least eight of its 15 members must come from the four Senate panels that traditionally have monitored the CIA, FBI and other spy agencies. The resolution won overwhelming Senate approval Wednesday.

Majority leader Mike Mansfield will pick eight Democrats to serve on the panel and minority leader Hugh Scott will tap seven Republicans.

The resolution originally called for a 17-member panel but the number was cut to 15 under an amendment by Sen. Howard Cannon, D-Nev.

Keeping the number at 17 "would not give due representation to the senators who make up the standing committees on Appropriations, Armed Services, Foreign Relations and the Judiciary," which currently oversee the intelligence agencies, Cannon said.

Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., contended reducing the number would put the eight members of existing panels "in the driver's seat" and would represent "a vote of confidence" in their past performance.

"I do not see how the track record is deserving of any vote of confidence by this body in the existing committees," Weicker said. "They have been in the driver's seat and the track record is an unmitigated disaster."

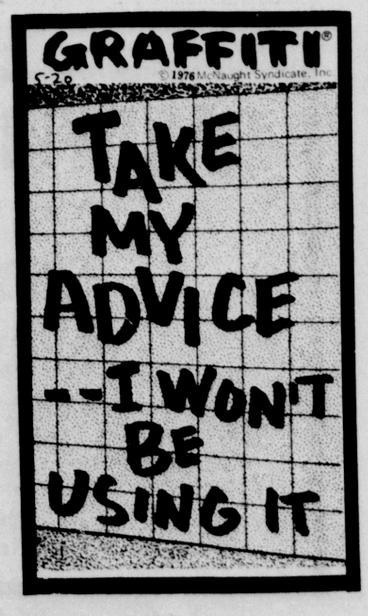

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the current intelligence committee now winding up a 15-month probe of the spy agencies, said the new panel would become the focal point for action on many of the nearly 200 recommendations made by his committee's final report.

Governor defends side trip

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes' appearance at a Wendy's International Inc. convention in Atlanta was described by the governor Wednesday "a very minor stopover" in a trip devoted to state business.

Rhodes, a Wendy's stockholder and unabashed promoter of the hamburger chain, was questioned about the Tuesday visit during a news conference. He maintained it represented no conflict of interest.

But he also said he has no plans to begin making his travel schedules public. The Atlanta trip was not announced, and Rhodes' office as late as Tuesday morning was saying only that he was in Atlanta regarding "industrial development."

Rhodes said he flew to Atlanta to talk with representatives of Italian manufacturing firms who are exploring the possibility of leaving Italy if the Communist party wins national elections there next month.

He said he met with "six or seven" industrial representatives, whom he declined to identify. Rhodes said he also met with representatives of the federal Energy Research and Development Agency, urging a $2.5 billion addition to the present uranium enrichment plant at Piketon as an option to a new center in Dothan, Ala.

PASS-IN-REVIEW — A final pass by graduating seniors was part of the Naval Junior ROTC awards ceremony held Tuesday in Washington C.H. Senior High School. The NJROTC ceremony is held annually to honor seniors and other outstanding cadets.

Coldiron named 'Cadet of Year'

NJROTC awards ceremony

Numerous awards were issued Tuesday in Washington Senior High School as students in the Naval Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps (NJROTC) were recognized.

This year's top prize, the "Cadet of the Year" award went to Cadet Commander Russell Coldiron, graduating Company Commander. Some of the qualifications required of the recipient were that Coldiron be "tops in leadership, in personal and military appearance, a service to the unit, and the one cadet involved in the most NJROTC activities."

Twice each year, the Washington Senior High School's NJROTC joins ranks in company formation with all members present.

One of these company-sized formations is the annual NJROTC awards day ceremony held each May to honor graduating cadets and individual cadets who have distinguished themselves within the unit during the course of the school year.

The seventh annual NJROTC awards day was held in the high school gymnasium. The event is always well-attended by parents of the cadets.

The farewell pass-in-review in honor of this year's senior cadets was not one of the Unit's best, according to Senior Chief Petty Officer Ken Hays, the assistant naval science instructor at Washington Senior High School. Plans had been made for the awards day ceremonies to be held on the tennis courts, because of the larger area for troop formations. The instructors' decision to move the formation inside was made reluctantly at the 11th hour.

Also, for the first time ever, Superintendent Edwin Nestor was unable to arrange his busy schedule to allow his active participation in the awards day ceremonies. He has traditionally awarded the Reserve Officers Association Medal to the distinguished second year cadet.

Nestor's presence was sorely missed since he was influential in establishing a NJROTC unit at Washington Senior High School in 1969, and he remains one of the units strongest supporters.

NJROTC cadet commander Russell Coldiron, commanding the company for the last time, called the formation to "attention" as Retired Navy Commander H.W. Vail, naval science instructor at Washington Senior High School, escorted officials to the reviewing area to commence the ceremonies.

The following cadets were singled out for individual recognition—

—Most outstanding in personal appearance, female cadet Rene' Johns and male cadet Phillip Russell.

—Most professional presentation of a platoon by a cadet officer, Devik Hargo.

—Seven special Commendation Certificates for sustained superior performance, Kevin Earp; David Hollar, Rene' Johns; Brance Johnson; Keith McCoy; Gary Penwell; Rick Roberts.

—Distinguished Marksman Medal, cadet Mike Hughes.

—Distinguished first year cadet Richard Humphrey was presented the "Daughters of the American Revolution Medal."

—The Distinguished second year cadet Phillip Russell received the "Reserve Officers Association Medal."

—The Distinguished third year cadet Vicki Straley was presented the "Military Order of the World Wars Medal."

Following presentation of the awards, Commander Vail named Brad Tolle to replace Coldiron as leader of the 100 member Unit for the first semester of the 1976-77 academic year.

After a pass-in-review was conducted by Tolle, the 85 underclass cadets formed a long cordon. As the graduating NJROTC cadets filed through their ranks, they rendered a final "hand salute."

Hays expressed gratitude for the support given to the NJROTC by members of the community, school board officials, school administrators, faculty members, and fellow students. A special thank you was expressed to all cadet parents.

He added, "Without the professional coverage and continuing support of the Record-Herald staff, nearly all the NJROTC activities which take place would go unnoticed by the residents of Washington C.H. and Fayette County."

The chief said, "to the best of my knowledge, the Record-Herald is the only newspaper anywhere in Ohio to be officially commended by Navy Department officials." He was referring to ceremonies in Columbus on Aug. 9, 1972, when the late editor Robert S. Rochester accepted a special award from the Navy "for service to the community, the Navy and country."

Skateboard fever worrying doctors

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — Twelve-year-old Michael Lolla knows how dangerous skateboards can be. His mother broke her leg on one.

But Police Chief Charles McLaughlin hasn't convinced other kids here that skateboarding is dangerous on streets and sidewalks, especially since the town's 51-year-old mayor rides one.

Mayor John Carey, figuring that seeing is believing, stepped on his daughter's red skateboard Wednesday night and zipped several hundred feet down a mild slope, dodging cheering kids.

His form was beautiful — even when he landed on his behind, unscathed and his suit unsmudged.

"All sports are risky," he commented after brushing his hands off.

But some doctors are saying that the sport is too risky.

"There's really no way you can make a skateboard safe," said Dr. James Rector, chief resident in orthopedic surgery at Denver's Childrens Hospital.

"Several years ago skateboards were taken off the market because of the danger, but they supposedly were improved and came back on. But just as many injuries are being reported ...," said Dr. Harvey Kravitz, a Morton Grove, Ill., member of the American Academy of Pediatrics Committee on Accident Prevention.

In Seattle, Dr. Abe Bergman of Children's Orthopedic Hospital, said the accident ratio is much higher than the rate for bicycles or skiing. Doctors said leg, elbow, wrist and arm fractures are the most common injuries from spills or collisions with cars, dogs or pedestrians.

"Young children don't have the developed balance or muscular control to use them. It's not like skiing, for instance, where proper instruction is given and the sport is organized and watched over," added Kravitz.

ELIZABETH FLETCHER

Write-in Democrat

The only person running for the position of committeewoman in Jasper Township, Seldon Precinct, is a write-in candidate. Mrs. Elizabeth Fletcher, who lives at 5770 U.S. 22, will be representing the Democrats in the June primary.

The Republicans have no candidate.

Mrs. Fletcher, who is employed at Colonial Paint Store, is very active in politics. She is also vying for the post of Fayette County Clerk of Courts in the upcoming election.

Abundant sunshine and west to southwest winds will send temperatures into the upper 70s to near 80 over most of Ohio this afternoon.

Skies were mostly clear overnight, with lows ranging from 45 at Cleveland to 55 at Toledo.

Some cloudiness will prevail over extreme northern Ohio today as a cold front moves southeastward across the western sections of the great lakes. The front will continue southeastward across Ohio tonight, possibly setting off some showers or thundershowers over northern sections. There is a chance of thundershowers Friday over the extreme northeast.

Fair and near seasonal temperatures Saturday through Monday. Highs in the upper 60s to mid 70s. Lows in the mid 40s to low 50s.

Stocks open unchanged

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market showed little movement today, as traders failed to react to some favorable economic news from Washington.

The opening Dow Jones industrial average was unchanged, and gainers held a slight edge over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

As the market opened, the government reported the growth rate of the Gross National Product in the first quarter was revised upward to 8.5 per cent from 7.5 per cent, and the rate of inflation based on the GNP was revised downward to 3.5 per cent from 3.7 per cent.

In a separate report, the Commerce Department said after-tax corporate profits in the first quarter were up 5.5 per cent.

But traders failed to respond to the news as Wall Street remained preoccupied with the Federal Reserve's credit tightening actions, and the resulting rise in several key interest rates.

Among today's prices, American Telephone & Telegraph declined ¾ to 55½, while McDermott added ¾ to 49, and Schlumberger was up ¾ to 80.

On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average declined 0.55 to 988.90.

Traffic Court

A Washington C.H. man's license was suspended for two years following his conviction of driving while under the influence of alcohol. Acting Judge John P. Case presided in Wednesday's Washington C.H. Municipal Court traffic session.

George T. Alexander, 48, of 118½ W. Market St., was fined $250, sentenced to 10 years in jail, and had his driver's license suspended for two years for driving while under the influence of alcohol. For driving without a license, he was fined $100 and sentenced to 10 days in jail.

John F. Swift, 32, of Laurelville, waived his rights to a trial for speeding and paid $25.

Georgia M. Walker, 23, of Akron, waived her rights to a trial for speeding, and paid $25.

Greenfield man jailed for shooting

HILLSBORO — Frank Beatty Jr., 38, of Greenfield was sentenced to a two-to-five year term at the state penitentary Thursday in connection with a shooting of a Washington C.H. man in January.

Beatty was found guilty Friday of a lesser included charge of aggravated assault in Highland County Common Pleas Court. He was found innocent of an attempted murder charge.

He was charged with the Jan. 5 shooting of James Fillmore, 35, in the Diamond Grill in Greenfield. Fillmore was not seriously injured in the shooting.

The state contended that Beatty had threatened to kill Fillmore and that the shot which struck Fillmore's side was intended to kill. The defense argues that Beatty had acted under extreme emotional stress.

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 1,700 striking NBC technicians, newswriters and other employes vote tonight on a new four-year contract. If they approve it, they'll end their seven-week strike and return to work Monday.

That's the word from Ed Lynch, head of the National Association of Broadcast Employes and Technicians (NABET), whose members at NBC walked off the job April 1 after failing to reach agreement on a new contract.

"I hope they accept it," says Lynch of the proposed contract that would give most of NBC's engineers and newswriters $500 a week in the final year of the pact. Balloting is to end by midnight Friday.

The union, whose members struck NBC facilities here and in Washington, D.C.; Cleveland; Chicago; San Francisco, and Burbank, Calif., has recommended approval of the proposed contract.

But there could be a snag. Lynch says the contract could be turned down for the entire membership if any of NABET's 14 units at NBC facilities vote to reject the proposed agreement.

He said the agreement to which NABET and NBC say they've tentatively agreed "simply says neither party is obliged to sign (the contract) if any unit doesn't ratify it."

The majority of NABET members at NBC are technicians. But the union's jurisdiction also includes all newswriters, as well as building maintenance men here, air conditioning technicians here and in Burbank, and mailroom staffers and messengers in Chicago, Lynch says.

If any NABET unit rejects the proposed contract, he said, the union's negotiators will try to learn why and resolve any differences. Asked what happens if the unit still balks, he only would say, "Anything can happen."

On Wednesday a week ago, NABET members rejected an NBC contract offer on which the union had made no recommendations.

The main issues in the strike have centered around operation of the new light, hand-held TV cameras called "minicams" used in news coverage, additional fees paid NABET crews when they aren't given a full hour for lunch when in the field covering news stories, and work schedules.

However, "in recent weeks it has been money," said Lynch, whose troops are being offered a total increase in pay of 38 per cent over four years.

NBC's technical supervisors and management personnel have filled in for the strikers since the labor dispute began, occasionally with obvious technical difficulties.

But the network says the strike only has forced one program change — postponement of a new daytime game show, "The Fun Factory," scheduled to premiere in mid-April. Its planned time slot currently is being filled with repeats of "Magnificient Marble Machine," which it was to replace.

Opinion And Comment

New funding for LEAA

The Senate Judiciary Committee has opted for investing another 5.4 billion dollars over the next five years in a federal undertaking to bolster state and local attacks on crime. The goal is admirable, but a question must be asked: whether the bill makes adequate provision for reform of the controversial agency that would distribute this money, the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

The LEAA has come under heavy fire. Most recently, the Center for National Security Studies published a report which declared that "the nation is in no better position today than it was when the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 was enacted," and concludes that the LEAA should be abolished.

Legislation authorizing additional LEAA funding deals with some of the objections raised by critics. It provides for stricter LEAA evaluation of state anti-crime plans, and requires greater emphasis on the courts in the agency's allocation of funds. Most importantly, perhaps, it provides for closer oversight of LEAA operations by Congress.

This being the case, there is sound reason to hope that the LEAA can be made to function more effectively in the years ahead. This is something of a gamble — but then, so is the entrustment of large funds to any agency of the government. The Law Enforcement Assistance Administration has not succeeded in reversing the upward trend of crime, but it has had some impact on crime. On balance, it makes sense to give the agency a further chance to show its worth.

Letters from R-H readers

EDITOR-RECORD-HERALD:

After the recent death of Bill Dennis prominent pilot, instructor, and airport manager of Fayette, County, the Fayette County Pilots Association proposed that the county commissioners vote to change the name of our county airport. They wish to include Mr. Dennis's name in the name of the airport. Personally, I feel Bill Dennis did more for aviation in Fayette County than the small change would involve.

In a sheer stroke of repressive genius the County Commissioners voted against the change. This move is typical of the 1930's attitude of the political cast of our county. When will we start to honor those who have truly afforded to bring us out ot the dark-ages? Bill stood for better transportation and transportation is progress, and in order to keep this county under mid-Victorian propaganda rule, we ignore progress.

I hope the county commissioners will reconsider their decision and try to see the effort put forth by Mr. Dennis to develop a link with the rest of the world. Is a name all change all that involved?

Have you written your County Commissioners lately?

EDITOR, Record-Herald:

On behalf of the Washington C.H. Optimist Club I would like to extend my thanks to you and your paper for the fine coverage and support of our first Bicycle Safety Program.

It was mostly due to the paper's publication and generosity that enabled so many youngsters and adults to partake in this program and make it such a huge success.

Again, thanking you and hoping that next year we can count on your support.

EDITOR, Record-Herald:

Another year has passed so very quickly and once again the girls of Alpha Theta of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority are busy getting ready for the Bike Ride to benifit St. Jude Children's Research Hospital for leukemia and other catastrophic diseases.

The members of the Fayette County professional Nurse's Association would like to endorse the bike ride as a worthwhile project. The money realized from the bike rides such as the one held in Washington C.H. enables the doctors at St. Jude Hospital to more effectively treat the children who are stricken with the once fatal leukemias and other allied diseases. The research that has been carried on there has given hope to the parents of these children and enabled many of these children to live to adulthood. This was not the story several years ago. All this has been made possible in part by contributions from individuals just like the one who so graciously and generously donated to the bike ride last year and helped make it so successful.

Since we as nurses are concerned with optimum health for everyone, it is a consolation to know that St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tenn., is available to the children of our community if ever the need should arise. The hospital is nonsectarian and interracial and accepts patients upon referral from their physician without charge.

We would like to ask you to support this worthwhile project in anyway you are able — either by making a cash donation which is tax deductible and sponsoring a rider: or as rider yourself which would be a very healthy way of spending a Sunday afternoon.

Remember our little children and "Ride for the Life of a Child." The date to remember is Sunday, May 23, at 3 p.m. at the Huntington Bank parking lot.

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

We are writing this letter to show our appreciation to Mr. Malcolm Bloomer and Mr. Arthur Cobb.

For the last nine years, the Washington C.H. kindegartens have visited Mr. Bloomer's farm where he has taken the time to put baby kittens, pigs, ducks, and lambs in special pens, so that each child gets to hold the animals.

Also, each year we have visited the Fair Chance Horse Farm where Mr. Cobb has shown us Adios Butler and impressed the children with his famous racing records. Mr. Cobb also sees that each child gets a close view of many of the newest colts.

We do appreciate this day at the farm. Many thanks to Mr. Bloomer and Mr. Cobb.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Marten

The Indians in the early frontier days of Ohio were never as numerous as many supposed, perhaps as many as 15,000 of which only 3,000 might have been fighting braves. But their guerilla type of warfare kept the frontier in a turmoil for many decades.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FRIDAY, MAY 21

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

Tone down your innte agressiveness and self-will now. Certain associates will be oversensitive; will resent interference of any kind.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21)

A good day for dealing with superiors, with persons in authority generally. Any or all should be receptive to your ideas.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

Mecury restrictions lift. A favorable report now gives you the "green light" to go ahead with important plans, decisions.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

Stimulating influences now heighten your ambitions and energies, but don't overtax yourself. Delegate some tasks to associates.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

A more or less routine day, but some slightly unconventional and off-beat activities during the evening hours could be fun.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

A top performance needs only your good management and will power — rarely found wanting in the Virgoan. Don't waste time on nonessentials and, above all, don't underestimate minor gains.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

This could be a livelier day than anticipated, and YOU can meet all situations with grace and agility. Romance favored.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

A fine outlook. Avoid the unconventional, hasty or erratic, however. You have real opportunity to achieve; don't spoil it through indifference or sporadic effort.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Some interesting activities indicated, but certain "dull" matters will require attention nonetheless. Attack with determination and a realistic point of view.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

An appropriate time for reconnaissance. Make sure of all procedures. Review precedents and experiences of others for enlightenment.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

You must recognize your limitations, of course, but DO strive to widen your boundaries, broaden your horizons. Your imagination at a peak now.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

Your intuition is one of the strongest in the zodiacal spectrum. If you get a hunch now, act on it. Stars are on your side.

YOU BORN TODAY, as a Taurus-Gemini cuspal (one born at the change of Signs), are highly competent, extremely verstaile and the possessor of a most engaging personality. Always "on your toes" mentally, you never pass up an opportunity, and your eager enthuriasm for accomplishment is rarely dimmed. Thus you usually achieve eminently high plateaus of success while others are still dawdling along and indulging in wishful thinking. You have a geat love of knowledge and a lively curiosity which usually attracts you to the extraodinary in life. Many scientists, writers, musicians, architects, inventors and physicians have been born in this zodiacal sector.

Ohio Perspective

Rhodes to decide taxes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democratic House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr. says it will be up to GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes to recommend new taxes or say where cuts can be made in state spending in the next biennium.

Riffe, D-89 New Boston, responded Tuesday to comments by the governor's budget director, William W. Wilkins, that $600 million is necessary to continue spending at current levels after the next fiscal period starts July 1, 1977.

A letter from Wilkins to Rhodes, which the governor released to the news media late last week, sparked the controversy 13½ months before the end of the current two-year fiscal period.

The speaker and other majority Democrats said they viewed the letter and its release as continued pressure from the governor for the legislature to raise taxes and face the political consequences.

The governor is under a 1974 campaign pledge not to propose new or additional taxes in his present term which runs until January 1979. However Wilkins said in his letter, which Rhodes released without comment, that the legislature faces "tough decisions" within the next several months.

"They can either reduce their spending to live withtin their income, or they can recommend new and additional taxes to be levied upon the people of Ohio," the letter said.

Riffe's reaction was that "we're going to wait and see what the governor recommends. It's up to him to submit a balanced budget to the legislature." Riffe said that unless Rhodes suggests in his 1977 budget message where new income can be found, he will have to recommend cuts in services.

Wilkins said Tuesday that the speaker is "exactly right." And he acknowledged that the administration will have to go first in making recommendations for cuts. But he said the budget process for the next biennium is just getting under way and "I have no idea what cuts could be made."

The director said Rhodes has told him to put together a budget that doesn't contain any new or increased taxes.

Riffe, who has been mentioned as a possible contender for governor in 1978, is no more anxious than Republicans to be blamed for increased taxes.

The controversy is certain to grow in coming months as the state strains to meet its obligations. Wilkins said this can be accomplished only if spending cuts already implemented by Rhodes are maintained during the remainder of the current biennium.

Even then, he said, July 1977 will arrive with the state "barely in the black."

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Blessed be the backyard playground

DEAR ABBY: Some people seem to think that just because we have a large family, our yard is a public playground.

At this moment I have 16 kids playing ball in my backyard and only seven of them are mine. My problem is that the kids aren't allowed to play in other yards because they ruin the grass and fall in the flowers. I really don't mind, but it wouldn't hurt some of the other parents to let the kids play in their yard once in a while.

At night, the kids ask me to turn on my yard lights so they can play after supper. The yelling and the screaming can be heard for blocks.

When, oh when, will I have peace and quiet again?,

MOM WITH PUBLIC PLAYGROUND

DEAR MOM: Too soon. Count your blessings, Mom. You're lucky your children are occupied in a healthy, wholesome sport. You don't have to worry about where they are, what they're doing and with whom. Anybody can raise grass. It takes special people to raise children.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married to a good-looking cross-country truck driver for 10 years. I'm not the suspicious type, but Friday night he came off the road with two long scratches on his left hip. They are fairly deep scratches, yet neither his shorts or his trousers were ripped. Rather peculiar, right?

When I asked him where the scratches came from, he said they were probably from a feather in one of the motel beds.

Now, Abby, I'd like to believe my husband, but do they still have feather bedding in modern motels? And could anybody get scratches like this from a feather?

NOT DUMB

DEAR NOT: It's unlikely that the scratches came from a feather. It was probably the whole chick. Keep your eyes open.

DEAR ABBY: I am 22 and my fiance is 21. Mary (not her real name) was raised from infancy by her aunt, whom she calls Mother." She never explained the reason for this, but Mary's real mother, who is this aunt's sister, has suddenly come into the picture, and she sometimes introduces Mary as "my daughter." Not that it matters, but Mary is the image of her real mother.

However, Mary never calls her real mother "Mother"; she calls her "Aunt," which is very confusing.

When I introduce Mary, her "real" mother and her aunt to my family, how shall I introduce them?

ON THE SPOT

DEAR ON: Mary has the right to address both her mother and her aunt any way she wishes, but you should explain to Mary that the discrepancy is confusing, so she should clarify the relationship.

DEAR ABBY: We have three children, ages 4, 8 and 10. Do you think my wife and I should sleep with our bedroom door closed or not?

YOUNG AT HEART

DEAR YOUNG: If you want company, keep it open. If you want privacy, keep it closed. If you want securty, keep it LOCKED.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, May 20th, the 141 day of 1976. There are 225 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1862, President Abraham Lincoln signed the Homestead Act, providing millions of acres of free land to settlers in the American West.

On this date:

In 1506, Christopher Columbus died in Spain.

In 1861, North Carolina voted to secede from the Union.

In 1834, the French hero of the American Revolution, Marquis de Lafayette, died.

In 1927, Charles Lindbergh began his solo flight across the Atlantic to Paris.

In 1943, during World War II, the U.S. and Britain ratified a treaty abolishing extraterritorial rights in China.

In 1946, Britain's House of Commons passed a bill to nationalize the nation's coal mines.

Ten years ago: Buddhists and labor unions demonstrated in Saigon to protest government action against Buddhist dissidents in Da Nang.

Five years ago: President Richard Nixon announced that the United States and the Soviet Union would try to reach an agreement to limit antiballistic missiles and offense nuclear weapons.

One year ago: President Ford vetoed a bill putting limits on strip-mining, saying it would eliminate jobs and increase dependence on foreign oil.

Today's birthdays: Actor James Stewart is 68. Hockey star Stan Mikita is 36.

Thought for today: The secret of success is constancy of purpose — Benjamin Disraei, British prime minister, 1804-1881.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, two delegates from Georgia were seated in the Continental Congress in Philadelphia. The two, Lyman Hall and Button Gwinnett, had instructions to use their own judgment in voting on any measures.

Ohio mine tragedy forecast

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio is long overdue for a deep mine disaster, a state safety official has advised legislators considering a bill to upgrade a 35-year-old mine safety law.

"We've been fortunate in the last 27 years," mine rescue Supt. Fred Gaskins told a Senate committee Tuesday. "We're going to have these fatalities. We're way, long overdue."

One miner was killed underground this year, continuing a relatively low fatality rate in Ohio since the early 1950s. Twelve miners lost their lives underground in 1953 and 23 perished in 1951, according to the division of mines.

From 1940 to 1950, 548 deep mine deaths were recorded. The death rate tapered off to 91 between 1950 and 1960, 56 between then and 1970, and 23 over the first six years of this decade.

Gaskins said more and better state mine inspectors were need to enforce safety rules.

"It's laying in your fellas' laps to get us good men, experienced men," he told the Senate Energy and Environment Committee. "We can't get them off the streets."

The mine division has been unable to attract its full allotment of 26 inspectors, largely because of the $14,000 annual base pay scale, officials say.

The bill, approved 98-0 last month by the House, would increase the complement of state inspectors to 30 and establish a $17,000 pay scale for some positions.

Dog collars called back

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration today announced a nationwide recall of about 3,000 batterypowered pet collars that shock dogs with 1,800 volts to keep them from barking.

The FDA said electrical charges from the collars have burned holes in the skin of some dogs and could burn children if they are playing with their pets when the collars are activated.

The "Sound-Off Bark Restrainer and Training Collars" were sold nationwide through pet stores and by mail order, the FDA said.

The collars were manufactured by Hal O. Knutson of Chatsworth, Calif., the FDA said.

The agency said Knutson, under threat of court action, sent voluntary recall letters to distributors and wholesalers and to about 150 known purchasers of the collars.

Mini-musical set Friday

Eber School students involved in bicentennial

If success of the bicentennial depends upon interest and involvement by the young people of this community, then the musical program to be presented by the seventh and eighth graders of the Miami Trace School District may make a noteworthy contribution.

A mini-musical, "Tall Tom Jefferson" will be performed at 8 p.m. Friday in the Miami Trace High School auditorium. Many hours of practice have gone into the production of this play.

In conjunction with the vocal program, arts crafts, and books will be on display. The items reflect "A Bicentennial Salute" and represent the work of all Miami Trace elementary school grades from kindergarten through eighth. The youths have been working on the numerous items during the past school year.

Since the vocal program, with the arts festival, is the last program which involves all the elementary schools, the Miami Trace School Board has asked that any person who has any type of "bicentennial garb" to wear it to the play.

Workshop slated on trails plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A workshop will be held Thursday on state plans to form nonmotorized trails on abandoned canal paths and railroad beds.

The Department of Natural Resources is sponsoring the program with the Ohio Parks and Recreation Association and the U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

The workshop will be held in Blacklick Woods Metropolitan Park.

Set busing program in Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — About 14,000 students in Dayton are receiving letters this week telling them whether they will be bused next fall in a desegregation plan established under a court order.

The mailing of the letters by school officials is the first step in the Dayton desegregation plan, pairing students in two predominantly white and two all-black high schools to achieve racial balance.

Next week, students who enrolled in 37 elementary schools being paired in September will receive letters telling them which schools they will attend.

The desegregation plan is a result of an agreement between school administrators and a court-appointed master which was approved by a federal judge.

Human relations committees have been formed at the four paired high schools to discuss the program, but representatives say reaction from students and parents has been slight.

One community member of a human relations committee said there was little participation in a meeting scheduled at one of the high schools. A teacher on the committee said he has not heard community reaction for or against the busing program.

The plan is one of a series of court actions brought by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in school systems in Ohio.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that United Telephone Company of Ohio has filed with The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio an Application stating that the Company is entitled, because of the reasons set forth in said Application, to reasonable and equitable increases and adjustments in its rates and charges for local exchange telephone service, to change the regulations and practices affecting the same, and to cancel and withdraw portions of its existing tariffs, General Exchange Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 3 and Local Exchange Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 4, and to substitute therefore proposed portions of its General Exchange Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 3 and Local Exchange Tariff P.U.C.O. No. 4, to effect such increases, adjustments and changes, all as more fully set forth in the Application on file with the Commission and in the exhibits thereto attached and made a part thereof.

The proposed schedule of rates and charges and the changes and revisions applied for in the Application will, if approved by the Commission, provide the Company approximately $17,500,000 in additional annual gross revenue or a 7.9% rate of return on the Company's rate base. The proposed schedule of rates and charges, if approved, will result in an average 33.7% increase in basic exchange rates for residential services and an average 35.4% increase in basic exchange rates for business services. Certain proposed increases or types of increases are greater or less than such averages. For example, residential one-party service is proposed to be increased 38.2% on the average, while residential four-party service would increase 29.8% on the average. Private branch exchange, key system, and miscellaneous equipment rates are also increased and details are available at any public business office of the Company.

The proposed changes and revisions include classification of certain exchanges under a different rate schedule due to a significant growth in main telephone stations since the last approved classification. In addition, the Company proposes increases and adjustments in many other of its communication services. For example, installation charges are proposed to be increased 17%, and local pay station calls are proposed to be increased from 10 cents to 20 cents per call. The Company also proposes a charge for directory assistance for those customers who use the service more than three times per month, in the amount of 20 cents per call. Listed below are the Company's present rates, proposed rates, and proposed rate increases by rate schedule and class of service, and a classification of exchanges by present and proposed rate schedules.

The proposed tariff revisions will effect increases and adjustments in rates and charges and changes in the regulations and practices affecting the same throughout the territory in which the Company operates.

The prayer of the Application requests the Commission to do the following:

A. Find that the present rates and charges are insufficient to yield reasonable compensation for the service rendered and are unjust and unreasonable;

B. Find that proposed rates and charges and the changes, adjustments and revisions applied for in said Application are just and reasonable and approve the same;

C. Approve the filing of the proposed tariffs in the form attached to and incorporated in the Application, modified to reflect such revisions thereof as may become effective, pursuant to orders of the Commission, during the interim between the filing of this Application and the date upon which said proposed tariffs become effective;

D. Make said proposed tariffs effective as soon as it is practical and lawful to do so; and

E. Grant such other and further relief as Applicant is reasonably entitled to in the premises.

A copy of the Application, including a copy of the present and proposed tariffs, a statement showing the amount of proposed increase or decrease in each changed rate or charge, and a statement describing the proposed changes in regulations and practices affecting rates and charges, may be inspected by any interested party at the offices of the Commission, 111 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio, and at any public business office of the Company.

The form of this notice has been approved by The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

'Memories of the Way We Were' is theme of M-D banquet

"Memories of the Way We Were" was the theme of the South Side Church of Christ Mother-Daughter Banquet held Saturday night in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. Kathy Cool Taylor, Youth Minister of the Loveland Church of Christ in Stubenville, Ohio was the keynote speaker.

As the 200 guests arrived and registered, each one received a sun bonnet or rag doll name tag. Mrs. Paul Pettit, mistress of ceremonies, welcomed everyone and introduced Mrs. John G. Jordan who then gave the Invocation.

The Fellowship Hall was delightfully decorated as a "Memory Garden" with "trees of life" representing the various stages of a woman's maturation as center-pieces. Each place setting was marked by a floral nut cup favor atop a bar of scented soap and a cologne sample. One wall was a mural of "Women's Fashions of Yesteryear." The decoration committee consisted of Mrs. Richard Wade, Mrs. Dan Kelley, Mrs. James Pitzer, Mrs. James Eakins, and Mrs. Eddie Cobb II.

After the dinner was served by the men of the church, Mrs. Pettit lead the group in the song "Gettin to Know You". "Happy Birthday" was sung for Mrs. Jon Creamer, and Mrs. Frank Creamer was the accompanist.

The phases of womanhood was then dipicted in reading and song by "Little Girl" — Little Misses Krista Creamer, Julie Hooks, and Kami Campbell; "Sweet-heart" — Miss Mary Lee Warning; "Wife" — Mrs. James Pitzer; "Mother" — Mrs. Ed Warning; and "Grandmother" — Mrs. Alfred Cornell Jr.

A medley of favorite songs was led by Mrs. Pettit. To set the mood for the speaker, a trio consisting of Mrs. Creamer, Mrs. Kelley, and Mrs. Pettit sang "If My People Will Pray."

Mrs. Taylor stated that it is important that children see their parents love each other. Children need an ideal and the only ideal some children have is a godly woman. There are three points that illustrate a woman's godliness, she said: love and understanding under any and all circumstances, being able to condemn sin without condemning the sinner, and setting the mood of the home by rejoicing in all things.

A woman should teach her children to pray, read the Bible, and love God before they leave home. Mrs. Taylor concluded her talk with this challenge: Your child may be president or first lady. Maybe he or she may be a great religious reformer. What have you done and what will you to do to prepare them for their future?"

Mrs. Richard Wade made and presented articifical planters to the following special guests: Mother of the youngest child, Mrs. Rick Williams (nine month old baby;) mother of four generations present; Mrs. James Blair, Mrs. Warren Marine - Mrs. Phil Campbell and Miss Kami Campbell; Mrs. Margaret Emerick, Mrs. Beryl Smith, Mrs. Keith Osborne and Miss Tracy Osborne; and Mrs. Arminta Chaney (oldest mother present), Mrs. John McDowell, Mrs. James Pitzer, Misses Michell, Melanie and Mindy Pitzer; mother or daughter who came the greatest distance, Mrs. Pat Wisecup of Cambridge.

After the group sang "We Honor Mother", Mrs. Amy Kennedy gave the closing benediction.

Baptist Women have m-d buffet

The Women's Class of Immanuel Baptist Church sponsored the mother-daughter candlelight buffet. Mrs. Arvella Ault was the toastmistress. Her committee was composed of Mrs. Jolene Gregory, Mrs. Ault, Mrs. Faye Underwood and Mrs. Pat Duffy.

Mrs. Gregory presented the prelude and postlude, and Mrs. Una Buecler gave the invocation. Jill and Stacy Gregory greeted each guest with homemade corsages. A yellow and spring green theme prevailed.

Poems and readings were by Mrs. Anna Ruth Baker, Mary Jeffries and Cheryl Duffy. Special music was by Becky Baker, an original solo, Dora Williams, a solo, Janet Duvall, sign language, and Patsy Lively, piano solo.

Corsages were presented to JoAnne McCoy, Millie Jeffries, Maria Donahue, and Immogene Cassell.

Guests came from Chillicothe, Dayton, Cedarville and Columbus, as well as Washington C.H.

Those present were Arvella Ault, Midge Ault, Myrtle Troute, Pat Bennett, Robin Hass, Ruthie VanWinkle, Patti Duffy, Cheryl Duffy, Tricia Duffy, Anna Ruth Baker, Becky Baker, Mildred Duvall, Janet Duvall, Joleen, Stacy, Jill and Leslie Gregory, Una Beucler, Dora, Terri and Trina Williams, Norma Stump, Faye and Rhonda Underwood, Immogene Cassell, Bertha Thomas, JoAnne McCoy, Lisa McCoy, Patsy, Lisa and Tammy Lively, Maria Donahue, Mary, Shannon and Millie Jeffries, and Lee and Teresa Hill.

Mrs. Fred Tracy new president

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the Hickory Lane Church of Christ met at the church, when Mrs. Rusty Bainter gave the opening prayer. Each present gave a Scripture verse containing the word mother,' "My Psalm" was the theme for devotions.

Mrs. Fred Tracy was elected the new president; Mrs. Frank Kinzer, vice president; Mrs. Merlin Kaser, secretary; Mrs. William Briggs, treasurer; and Mrs. Willard Bainter, mission treasurer.

The new project of the ladies is the cupboards in the church kitchen.

Mrs. Victor Slutz, wife of the minister of the New Holland Church of Christ, was guest speaker for the evening. She presented a program concerning hand crafts for all ages of children.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Briggs and Mrs. Kaser to Mrs. Slutz, Mrs. Keith Wooley, Mrs. Robert Johnson and Chris, Mrs. Larry Baker and Tim, Mrs. Kinzer, Mrs. Tom VanDyke, Mrs. Tracy and Lorna, Mrs. Rusty Bainter, Mrs. Willard Bainter, Mrs. George Pierce, Mrs. Bertha Riley, Mrs. Rosa Brannon, Mrs. Ethel Long, Mrs. Margaret DeWeese, Mrs. Eddie Foy and Jenny, Mrs. Paul Keller and Tina Kaser

Class meets at Fergusons

The Kings Daughters Class of First Christian Church met at the lovely Ferguson home at 324 Highland Ave., for the May birthday meeting, which was opened by Mrs. Carl Meriweather, president. Miss Margaret Gibson assistant hostess, gave devotions entitled "Pursuits of Happiness," a hymn, "Come We That Love the Lord," and a prayer.

Mrs. Naomi Helm, class teacher, conducted the lesson concerning Ezekiel, a major prophet. Eleven members answered roll call with a patriotic saying. Mrs. Fannie Maddux was a guest.

Reports were made and future plans for a tea for the choir, a program for a nursing home and a potluck dinner for the next meeting in the home of Mrs. Clark Gossard were made.

Class will honor seniors

The Crusaders Class of Sugar Creek Baptist Church met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ellars, and devotions were based on "Mother's Love, Father's Love and God's Love."

Harry Campbell conducted the meeting and reports were made by Mrs. Ellars and Mrs. Donald Breakfield. Having a church directory was the topic for discussion.

Activities announced were the mother and daughter banquet for May 22, honoring the graduating seniors on May 30, church picnic for June 13, and Bible School from June 21 to 27.

Refreshments were served by the hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Breakfield, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mills Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Olan Bentley, Mrs. Floris Sprague, Mr. and Mrs . Thurman Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carman.

Miss Waterman tells of mission life

The regular meeting of the Good Hope United Methodist Church Women was held in the home of Mrs. Eugene Thompson. Miss Linda Waterman presented slides of her life and experiences as a missionary in Zaire, Africa. Mrs. Pearl Breakfield introduced her.

Mrs. Lee Reisinger conducted the brief business meeting and each answered roll call by naming a favorite spice. Mrs. Earl Russell gave devotions..

It was announced that The Reflections from Oral Roberts University will sing at the church at 8 p.m. May 31. A free-will offering will be taken.

Members were reminded of the reading program, and a donation was presented to Miss Waterman to defray expenses upon her return to Africa in September.

The School of Missions was announced for July 6-9 and 9-11, and a silent auction will be held at the September meeting.

Miss Johnson complimented at bridal shower

A bridal shower was given in honor of Miss Rebecca Sue Johnson, bride-elect of Mike Oyer, by Mrs. Glen D. Mathews.

Kingwood Center Iris show set

Some of the best iris grown in Ohio can be seen at the annual Central Ohio Iris Society show at Kingwood Center, Mansfield, Ohio. The show is open free to the public on Saturday, May 29, from 2 to 8:00 p.m. and on Sunday, May 30, from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. It will be held in the air-conditioned Meeting Hall opposite the Kingwood Greenhouses.

This show will be a fine opportunity to see many choice, well-grown varieties of irises in one location, and will feature specimens of all colors of the rainbow. All classes of iris will be on exhibit, including Tall Bearded, Siberian, Spuria, Dutch, Table, and Border Iris. A special division for New Exhibitors and one for Juniors under the age of 19 will be provided.

There will also be a section of the show for artistic arrangements demonstrating the usefulness of these elegant flowers in floral displays. The theme for the Artistic Arrangements Section this year is "America The Beautiful". Everyone is welcome to enter their iris in any of these classes. All entries must be made between 7 and 11 a.m. on Saturday, May 29. Schedules for this iris show are available from Kingwood Center.

Kingwood has over 800 varieties of iris planted in its garden beds this year, which are all accurately labeled. They will provided a colorful and beautiful outdoor display. In addition to the iris there are displays of peonies and other flowering perennials.

Kingwood Center is located in the western section of the City of Mansfield, Ohio. It is easily reached from the north and south by Interstate 71, from the east and west by U.S. Route 30, and from the Ohio Turnpike by Ohio Route 13.

Youth Activities

SPOONS AND SPOONS

The seventh meeting of the Spoons and Spools 4-H Club was called to order by the president in the home of Mrs. Parker. Diane Altop led the Pledge of Allegiance and Tricia Robinson the 4-H Pledge.

Roll call was taken and minutes from the previous one were read and approved. We discussed the community project, and decided to do something for a nursing home.

The meeting was adjourned and Dana Cate and Loraine Moore made a pizza for the demonstration. Denise Taylor and Teresa Johnson showed the group how to make rice krispy treats. Dianne Altop, Doreen Marks, Kelly Knox, Christy Cutlip and Loraine Moore served refreshments.

The group played softball for recreation following the meeting. The next meeting will be at 7 p.m. May 24 in the home of Mrs. Parker.

Dana Cate, reporter

LADS AND LASSIES 4-H

"Fitting and Showmanship of Sheep," was the topic of the talk given by Rob Frost, local sheep breeder when he spoke at the regular meeting of the Lads and Lassies 4-H Club held at Eber School.

Important points given by Mr. Frost were, 1. when to have lambs sheared for fair, 2. when and how to wash the animal and 3. the proper equipment needed to fit the sheep. A few showmanship pointers he gave the first year members were; 1. when showing always keep the lamb between you and the judge, 2. how to set up your lamb properly so that it is square on all four feet. 3. Keep eye on the judge and know what he wants you to do with your lamb. Alan Thompson arranged for the program.

Jim McCoy had arranged for the program on Selection of Animals given recently by Mr. Charlie Andrews.

During the business session conducted by Brenda Steinhauser, president, the pledges were given and the secretary's and treasurer's reports were submitted. The balance in the treasury is $50.65.

Roger Donohoe, Advisor told about the proposed improvements for Camp Clifton. A member of the Camp Awareness Team will show slides of camp at the next meeting.

Two tour were planned for the club. The first tour will be held June 15. All are to meet at the home of Beth Shaw at 3:00 p.m. Following the tour the group will return to her home for a swimming party. The other tour will be July 13th and will start at the home of Mike Campbell, Advisor.

Recreation was enjoyed and refreshments were served by Tony and David Seitz and Kevin Haithcock.

The next meeting will be June 1 at 8:00 p.m. and refreshments will be by Chris Hagler and Chip Wilt.

JANET VanBIBBER

JOHN SCHLICHTER

DAN LeBEAU

Miami Tracer

Seniors of the Week

Our first senior this week is Janet Kay VanBibber, daughter of Thomas and Jo Ann VanBibber of 1593 Ohio 41-S. She has an older brother Tom, and two older sisters, Diane and Linda.

Janet's courses this year are office practice, business law, consumer economics, speed reading, family living, government, embryology, and Art I. Her activities include being a home economics lab assistant and a biology lab assistant. She has also been a library assistant and a member of Y-Teens.

Janet has been a member of FHA for four years, holding the positions of public relations, secretary and class representative, mini chapter. She also attends the Grace United Methodist Church. Janet enjoys swimming, skating, riding motorcycles and bicycles, playing tennis and softball and going to basketball and football games.

Her future plans are to work for a year then attend a business school and go into accounting. Her ambition is to someday travel around to different countries.

"I have enjoyed my years at Trace, and it's been a lot of fun, but I am looking forward to getting out in the world," stated Janet. "To underclassmen: enjoy your years at Trace and get involved in the activities because they will soon be over."

John Schlichter is our next featured senior. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Schlichter of 7320 Myers Road. John has an older sister Dawn, and a younger brother Arthur.

His courses this year include bookkeeping, business law, journalism, family living, symphonic choir, and consumer economics. John has been on the basketball team for four years, track team for two years, and two Miami Trace championship football teams the past two years.

He is a member of Folksingers, Cyndakated Singers, Varsity "M" Club, Key Club, Future Teachers of America, and 4-H. He performed the lead parts in the past two Miami Trace spring musicals, "Music Man" and "South Pacific," and he attended the 1975 Buckeye Boy's State. John enjoys participating in sports such as basketball, football, tennis, and golf, singing, and having a good time.

His future plans are to major in Business Administration and play football at Otterbein College. He advises underclassmen, "Enjoy your high school years at Miami Trace while you can for they will be remembered as the most enjoyable years of your life."

Dan LeBeau, is the son of George and Thelma LeBeau. He resides at 11981 Cook-Yankeetown Road and has a brother George and a sister, Dianna.

Dan's classes this year are business law, American government, machine shop, American literature, short story, phys. ed. assistant, speed reading, sociology, and family living. He is the treasurer of the Key Club, treasurer of Varsity "M" Club, and treasurer of the Library Club. He has been a member of the football team, and he is a member of the Madison Mills United Methodist Church.

Dan enjoys listening to music, being with friends, playing football, basketball, softball, and tennis, boating and swimming.

As of now, Dan is unsure of his plans for the future. "Get into as many activities and make as many friends as possible. Have fun while you can because the years fly by faster than you think," remarked Dan.

Cheerleaders selected

The 1976-77 cheerleaders for Miami Trace High School were recently selected. They are freshman, Julie Bloomer, Lisa Cremeans, Jill Dorn, Kim Bryant, Diane Hennesy, and Melanie Free; reserves Michelle Deskins, Kathy Kirkpatrick, Debbie Thompson, Teri Vermillion, Sonja Stewart, and Tammy Arnold, and varsity, Linda Merritt, and Toni Smith, Sandi Hughes, Barbara Johnson, Debbie Persinger, Tery Helsel, and Christy Tarbutton.

They were scored by eight judges on overall ability, spirit, appearance, and enthusiasm.

MT names majorettes

Recently six girls were picked for their twirling abilities to make up the 1976-77 squad of majorettes for Miami Trace High School. Members of the squad were scored by points according to the United States Twirling Association rules.

They were judged on poise, twirling skills, ability to keep together, and marching ability; and they are also required to play an instrument throughout the school year.

Those selected were head majorette Nancy Rapp; Kathy Junk; Nancy Elzroth; Christy Cutlip; Sandy Cockerill; and Brenda Arledge.

Judges for tryouts were Mrs. Sue Evans, Mrs. Judy Kelley, Mrs. Tana Roberts, and Miss Cathy Newbrey.

Criminal record erasure urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Council of Churches says it supports provisions that would erase the criminal records of juveniles after two years.

The council's general board voted to support mandatory expungement of juvenile records, acting on the belief that forgiveness should be a factor in the criminal justice system.

The council's general board, representing 86 denominations, also voted to continue supporting the purpose and work of the United Nations and to support negotiations toward a treaty that would permit Panama to recover control of the Canal Zone.

'Anniversary' phone books now being distributed here

Ohio Bell has made some important changes in its 1976 "anniversary" phone books which are being distributed in Washington C.H. this week.

Helpful time-and-money-saving telephone tips and more detailed information on long distance rates have been added to the "Call Guide" pages, preceding the customer listings.

"We wanted to make the directory a more valuable tool for consumers," said Mrs. Susan Link, Ohio Bell customer services manager. "And with these additions, we think we've taken a giant step in that direction," she added.

The new book's "anniversary" cover features 32 mini-portraits of famous Americans—all talking on various types of telephones. New Jersey Artist Stanley Meltzoff designed it as a salute to the nation's bicentennial and the telephone's centennial.

The artist's cast of characters and the telephones they use are identified on the inside back cover.

More than 12,100 books will be delivered here this year by special carriers, according to Mrs. Link.

"If, by May 24, you still haven't received the new book," she said, "call our business office, and we will get one to you."

Again this year, Ohio Bell has continued its efforts to maintain the Yellow Pages as a reliable shopping guide for the many people who use them to locate goods and services.

Mrs. Link said Ohio Bell "has a standing invitation for the public to call us if they feel an ad contains incorrect or misleading information."

Other helpful information in the directory includes—

—Emergency numbers for fire, police and other public safety agencies listed on the inside front cover,

—Areas codes for most cities in the United States and Canada in the pages preceding customer listings, —Suggestions on dealing with harassing calls in the Call Guide pages in the front section of the book,

—A history of Washington C.H. civic statistics, city map and postal zip codes in the blue pages.

CIA out of Italy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Central Intelligence Agency is not funnelling secret funds to Italian politicians for next month's elections, CIA Director George Bush reportedly has assured a congressional panel.

After listening to Bush Tuesday, one congressmen told a reporter, "He's stated we have nothing going in Italy."

Bush testified in private at a regular briefing on current U.S. covert operations to the House international relations monitoring subcommittee, one of six groups in Congress that the CIA director is required to brief on all covert operations.

Former CIA Director William Colby told the six subcommittees last October that a covert operation had been approved by President Ford for supplying $6 million to Italian political parties and politicians.

Later Colby said publicly that no U.S. money was being supplied to Italian politicians, but he did not state that the operation had been dropped and would not be carried out in the future.

Two congressmen said Tuesday they felt Bush's testimony meant the $6 million plan has been dropped.

WASHINGTON REPORT

From

WILLIAM H. HARSHA

Representative To Congress

6th District, Ohio

Each year for the past decade, the month of May has been a designated time for the nation to pay tribute to its senior citizens.

Our bicentennial adds special significance to this year's salute to America's senior citizens for their contributions to our history of progress and prosperity. It affords us the opportunity to recognize not only their deeds, but their needs as well.

The more than 22 million Americans who are 65 or over find that factors largely beyond their control threaten to place them out of reach of those fruits of economic prosperity enjoyed by most of their fellow citizens.

Inflation, government restrictions, and age discrimination have made it difficult for this growing segment of our population to cintinue as contributing members of society and to enjoy the rich quality of life they deserve.

Progress has been made at the federal level toward meeting some of the needs of the elderly. The Older Americans Act of 1965 opened new doors of assistance, and the 1975 amendments to that act, now public law, will provide help in the priority areas of transportation, home services, legal and other counseling services, and home repair and renovation. Part-time employment opportunities in community service for low-income persons age 55 and older are also provided.

The amendments extend the Foster Grandparent and Retired Senior Volunteer programs and prohibit unreasonable discrimination based on age in programs or activities receiving federal financial assistance.

The needs of the elderly have always been a special concern of mine. I felt particularly honored earlier this year when the National Alliance of Senior Citizens inducted me into the Golden Age Hall of Fame for my efforts on behalf of senior persons.

This group of Americans, limited to fixed incomes, is hurt most by inflation. Earlier in this Congress, I introduced legislation to exempt the first $5,000 of pension benefits from federal income tax. This would provide every retiree an equal chance to share in this benefit which now applies only to federal social security and railroad retirees. I also introduced legislation to increase the base for computing retirement income credit.

In signing the proclamation designating May as Older Americans Month, President Ford has urged all organizations concerned with employment and volunteer services to hold forums for discussion of the "Bicentennial Charter of Older Americans".

The charter, prepared by the Presidentially-appointed Federal Council on Aging, sets forth principles to guide our nation in evaluating its response to the problems facing older Americans.

As we face this challenge at the start of our third century as a nation, a statement of the "Rights of Older Americans", as outlined in the Bicentennial Charter, are well worth out consideration. They are —

—The right to freedom, independence and the free exercise of individual initiative;

—The right to an income in retirement which would provide an adequate standard of living;

—The right to an opportunity for employment free from discriminaroty practices because of age;

The right to an opportunity to participate in the widest range of meaningful civil, educational, recreational and cultural activities.

—The right to suitable housing;

—The right to the best level of physical and mental health service needed;

—The right to ready access to effective social services;

—The right to appropriate institutional care when required;

—The right to a life and death with dignity.

Our nation has demonstrated growing compassion in recognizing and meeting the needs of its older citizens. Some programs have been very effective, although there is much yet to do.

However, the federal government can best help our nation's senior citizens by the restoration of fiscal responsibility through an end to runaway deficit spending and the ravaging inflation that it spawns.

Victor Borge set for Ohio speech

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Musician and humorist Victor Borge will be keynote speaker Tuesday at the Governor's Conference on Aging at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Borge, 67, will join a group of senior citizens in an exercise session after speaking on the topic "Grow Older-Feel Younger." Borge is honorary chairman of the senior citizen physical fitness program sponsored by the National Association for Human Development.

The two-day conference on aging is sponsored by the state Commission on Aging.

Typhoon toll increases

MANILA, The Philippines (AP) — Typhoon Olga swept across the Phillippines' eastern coast today, causing seven deaths in the worst flooding in the Manila area in 30 years, authorities said.

At least 10,000 persons were forced from their homes in neighboring Quezon City after the storm dumped more than 16 inches of rain on the city. Tens of thousands of commuters were stranded in Manila and emergency refugee centers were set up in churchs and schools.

Navy frogmen rescued 71 persons from a swamped residential area just outside Manila. Ten persons were reported missing in the metropolitan area.

More than 1,500 persons were trapped by six feet of water in their homes in suburban Mandaluyong.

President Ferdinand Marcos declared the Manila area and five Luzon island provinces to be in a state of emergency and ordered all but essential businesses closed in Manila and Quezon City.

Communications to many areas outside Manila were cut and officials said they had no reports on damage outside the metropolitan area.

Set Senate intelligence committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is ready to establish a new intelligence committee as its first major response to allegations the CIA and FBI abused their authority by widespread spying on private citizens.

A final vote on a resolution establishing the new monitoring committee is scheduled for midafternoon today.

Opponents of the proposed new panel, led by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, plan an attempt to limit its authority.

But backers of the new committee, including the Democratic and Republican leaders, are expected to have more than enough votes to defeat the Stennis amendment.

The Stennis amendment would strip the new committee of jurisdiction over the National Security Agency and other intelligence agencies within the Defense Department.

The new panel would retain jurisdiction over the CIA and FBI.

The new committee would have 15 members, two each from the four committees holding jurisdiction over intelligence activities and the other seven from the rest of the Senate.

Creation of the panel was one of the major recommendations of the special Senate committee that conducted a 15-month investigation of the alleged abuses.

Ohio Supreme Court upholds utility rate boost

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The legality of emergency rate hikes implemented by the Ohio Edison Co. last year have been upheld by the Ohio Supreme Court.

In a 6-1 decision Wednesday, the court rejected arguments that the rates were incompatible with rate schedules set by city ordinance.

The court ruled that a utility does not necessarily forfeit its right to emergency rate relief when it elects to charge a new rate schedule established by municipalities.

Ohio Edison asked for the emergency rate relief on Oct. 10, 1974, and the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio approved the emergency rates on Feb. 18, 1975.

But between those two dates, 19 cities passed rate ordinances giving Ohio Edison new electric rate schedules.

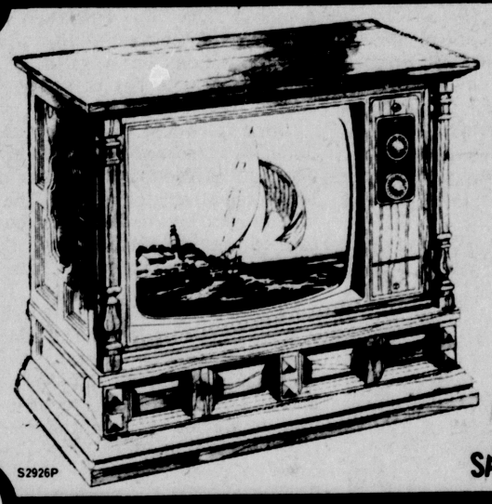

Ohio Edison decided to charge the new ordinance rates in the cities, but also moved for higher rates on two fronts.

It filed an appeal with the PUCO, arguing the cities did not grant a high enough rate increase. It also continued its earlier request for emergency rate relief.

The cities, led by Amherst and Canal Fulton, appealed the emergency rate hike, arguing that Ohio Edison had legally accepted the ordinance schedule by charging it and had surrendered its right to emergency rate relief.

In rejecting that argument the court said the utility's appeal of the rate ordinance showed it did not legally "accept" the rate ordinance.

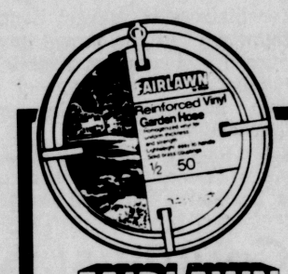

If the utility had accepted the ordinance, the court said, it would have formed a contract with the city.

Willing of body parts to appear on auto licenses

"Ohio, by merit of the 111th General Assembly's passage of House Bill 650" according to Mrs. Mary Jo Hunter, Secretary of the Fayette County Automobile Club, "recently joined the ranks of several other states enacting anatomical donation legislation."

The new bill, which went into effect last month, amends the existing license law by adding another question to those that were already on present drivers license application forms. Now, when a motorist applies for a license, new or renewal, the deputy registrar will ask him if he will consent to, upon his death, making a donation of one or more of his body organs. (Examples might include: eyes, heart or kidneys).

"The anatomical gift bill is an important first step," noted Mrs. Hunter, "toward extending and saving lives. It enables hospital officials to take immediate action in removing useful organs. No longer will medical personnel waste precious minutes, while vital cells deteriorate, in obtaining permission from next-of-kin." This does not mean, however, that the donor's cause of death must be an auto accident. The new legislation simply provides for the availability of a consent statement on a piece of identification that is carried most of the time.

"An anatomical donation is entirely optional," stressed Mrs. Hunter "The applicant is free to answer 'yes' or 'no' to the registrar's question." The reply is then recorded in the small box now printed on the face of all drivers licenses. If he answers "yes," the applicant will be asked further questions as to the type of donation he is interested in making. The donor can also, if he desires, name a recipient (either an individual or an institution) and-or give specific instructions as to how he wishes the donation be to be implemented. In addition, the potential donor may indicate his blood type. The completed anatomical gift statement, signed by the applicant and by two witnesses, is then inserted into the back of the drivers license, beneath the transparent plastic cover.

"Your decision is not final or irreversible," added Mrs. Hunter. "For a instance, a motorist, at the time of renewal of his next license, may choose to answer 'no' to the anatomical donor question. When that drivers license expires the motorist may then want to indicate that, effective upon his death, he would like to donate a kidney or other vital organ, to an ailing relative."

Licensed drivers under the of 18 are not permitted to be donors.

The anatomical gift statement is, in essence, a will — motorists are willing body parts. The section of Ohio state law which deals with such matters stipulates that the legal age at which a person can draw up a will is 18.

The Fayette County Auto Club advises that, if anyone whose drivers license does not expire soon is interested in having the anatomical donor statement affixed to the back of his license now, the procedure is the same as for a lost or stolen license.

The applicant must surrender his current license to the deputy registrar and request a "special duplicate." The newly-coded license, for which a $1.50 fee will be charged, expires on the same date as the original.

Grim is employed by Fayette County as an engineer and is a member of the Professional Land Surveyors of Ohio.

Fertilizer said bargain

WASHINGTON (AP) — While things that farmers buy generally are costing more than they did a year ago, fertilizer has turned into a relative bargain when compared with 1974 and 1975.

By mid-April, the Agriculture Department's fertilizer price index was down 19 per cent from a year earlier, including an 8 per cent drop from last Oct. 15 when the previous survey was made.

For example, the average price nationally of anhydrous ammonia used as a nitrogen source for corn and other crops was $191 a ton on April 15. Last fall it was $219 a ton and on April 15 of last year it was $265 a ton, on the average.

Fertilizer prices soared following the Arab oil embargo in late 1973 as fuel costs ctimbed and sent shock waves through the petrochemical indusry. Natural gas, for example, plays an important role in making the nitrogen used in fertilizer.

With the decline in fertilizer prices from their peaks, farmers may be inclined to use more on key crops and thus boost production this year. This could have a significant impact on total corn output, providing farmers get good weather during the crop's growing season over the next few months.

In a current "agricultural outlook" report, the department's Economic Research Service says that "except for spot shortages caused by transportation tie-ups during the height of the season" farmers can expect ample fertilizer supplies.

Commerce finally gets funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Commerce has an additional $1.7 million to carry on its regulatory duties and will retain responsibility for consumer protection under a bill signed, but vetoed in part, by Gov James. A. Rhodes.

Rhodes line-item vetoed Wednesday a section of the appropration bill that would have transferred the consumer protection division from the commerce department to the attorney general's office.

He approved language that releases funds immediately for regulation of banks, savings and loans institutions, securities and real estate.

Commerce Director J. Gordon Peltier had threatened to shut down the agency's regulatory duties for two weeks in mid-June if majority Democrats did not provide the money. His was the only state department cut from its previous expenditure level when the present 1975-77 budget was approved.

The bill also grants $224,000 for the Fire Marshal's office and $308,000 for work on the new Fire Academy in suburban Reynoldsburg, near Columbus.

In agreeing to Peltier's demands for an increase, Democratic legislators attempted to deny him responsibility for the consumer protection division and move it to the office of Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, a Democrat.

"The functions of the division of consumer protection are an integral part of the responsibilities of the Director of Commerce in the regulation of specific business activities," Rhodes said in vetoing the transfer. His action was expected.

Rhodes also rejected sections that would have granted the Democratic-dominated Controlling Board some authority over certain commerce activities.

The feud between Peltier and Democratic lawmakers dates back to Rhodes' previous administration. Questions were raised about real estate brokers' licenses Peltier issued to himself and Rhodes shortly before the governor's last term ended in 1970. Some Democrats also questioned Peltier's enthusiasm for consumer causes.

While the consumer office will remain under Peltier's jurisdiction, Legislative Budget Officer Richard Sheridan noted that no money was available in the 1977 fiscal budget for the division. Brown, meanwhile, has gone ahead and expanded the duties of his consumer fraud division.

Ford prods Rhodesia on blacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration is stepping up its efforts to prod Rhodesian President Ian Smith into negotiations for a peaceful takeover by the African nation's black majority.

The administration has been working through African and European countries in its indirect contacts with the Rhodesian government. Talks between Smith and President Ford have been all but ruled out.

Meanwhile, the White House has reached a tentative decision not to step up pressure on Congress now for an immediate vote to nullify the Byrd amendment, which permits the import of chrome from Rhodesia in defiance of a United Nations embargo.

"It's a very emotional issue and we're not sure we have the votes," said one official, denying at the same time that politics are a consideration in shaping U.S. policy toward southern Africa.

Ronald Reagan, battling Ford for the GOP presidential nomination, has criticized the administration's pledge to support black rule in Rhodesia as misdirected and possibly as an encouragement to violence.

On the other hand, to many black African nations, initially skeptical of the administration's new support for the black majority movement in southern Africa, the intensity of the campaign against the Byrd amendment is a pivotal test of U.S. resolve.

AIRPORT NEWS

By SANDY WOODMANSEE

Many things going on out here the past few weeks - one of which is formulation of plans for the annual Fayette County Pilot's Association fly-in to be held June 20th beginning at 8:00 a.m. when breakfast will be served for a reasonable charge.

The public is invited and most welcome. There is no charge for parking. The program committee has listed the following events that will be taking place during the day - bomb drop and spot landing contests, model airplane demonstration, aerobatic demonstrations, hopefully a jet fly-by and possibly a balloonist, sky divers, and airplane and helicopter rides all day for a reasonable charge.

Remember, this is the association's annual money making project and all proceeds will go to airport improvements so come on out and spend the day - and don't forget Dad, cause it's his day too.

All association members (and friends are welcome too) are asked to participate in clean-up day on June 19th and perhaps we can all have a weiner roast or pizza party afterwards. . . .

Eddie Pendergraft and Maurice Hopkins recently returned from Tuscon, Ariz. They made the trip by air, flying their Cessna 172. Eddie visited his son and daughter in Tuscon while Hoppy visited his aunt and cousin in Phoenix.

Flying over the desert and mountains in Arizona was a different experience and quite interesting to these Ohio pilots. The flight went very smoothly with only minor interruptions caused by weather on the outgoing flight. The return flight was accomplished in perfect weather.

Many of you are probably aware we have a helicopter now based at the airport, and it is being used for sightseeing rides on the weekends. There is also a contest being held for children ages 6 to 16 to name the helicopter and the winner will receive a free ride in it. Contest ends May 31, and entry blanks may be obtained here at the airport.

The trip to Hagerstown, Ind. for dinner was finally completed this past Sunday. Those able to go along were Norman Merritt, Jim Patton, John and Sandy Woodmansee, Gene and Ruth Pfaff, Mr. and Mrs. Bill DaRif and friends, Steve and Pam Gilliland and Doug and Betsy Smith.

Other local pilots in the news are Steve Gilliland who has received his Commercial pilot's rating; Karen Yeager who has soloed; and Walt Gooldin, who recently completed his biennial flight reviews.

Noted music teacher to retire

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — In 36 years of teaching music in the Madison Township school system, Ward Zerkle has amassed an impressive record.

Under Zerkle's direction, Trotwood-Madison bands and orchestras have earned the highest possible ratings at 50 competitions sponsored by the Ohio Music Education Association.

Zerkle, 58, will retire at the end of the school year and some of the 2,000 students he has taught plan to thank him for his efforts.

Former and present students, as well as teachers and administrators, will pay tribute to Zerkle at an appreciation dinner on May 29 at the Convention Center.

"I don't know of any other music teacher in the state who can even compete with (Zerkle's) record," said Clair Miller, director of music at the University of Dayton and one of his former students.

"He's kept a low profile over the years—it's his nature," said Miller. "But the people who have come under his influence know that when you talk of Ward Zerkle, you're talking about the best."

Three years ago, Zerkle stepped down as high school band director to work with elementary school students. "I felt that the elementary students needed more time and attention," Zerkle said.

Another former student is Diane Gilley, flutist in the Dayton Philharmonic. "If it hadn't been for the initial training I got under Zerkle, I wouldn't have been able to go on," she said. "He was all business; that's how I really think of him."

Blame birds for crash of big jet

CINCINNATI (AP) — Friction dust produced by the ingestion of birds caused engine failure in the crash of an Overseas National Airways plane at Kennedy International Airport last November, two General Electric engineers testified Wednesday.

The National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) conducted hearings on the crash here Tuesday and Wednesday.

The plane crashed shortly after takeoff, but the 139 passengers aboard were evacuated before the airliner exploded.

Irwin Mendelson, manager of GE's CF6 engine division, said the company has determined the problem of the engines overheating stemmed from a phenolic resin material that shrouds the interior of the engine.

Mendelson said GE is now replacing the shrouds with honeycombed aluminum.

GE engineer James W. Tucker said the ingestion of the birds produced friction, permitting resin to enter the engine's interior. The result was overheating, which led to engine failure.

Rudy Kapustan, NTSB hearing officer, said at the conclusion of testimony here that the investigation into the crash remains open.

Tucker said the engine manufacturer's conclusions were based on new tests duplicating the conditions of the engines at the time of the crash.

Solons seek solution to Medicaid cuts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Brushing aside at least temporarily a Rhodes Administration proposal, Democratic legislators are considering borrowing from next year's funds to meet this year's state Medicaid payments.

"This will solve the shortterm, so-called crisis that we're in now," House Finance Chairman Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, told the Joint Select Committee on Medicaid Wednesday.

Shoemaker wants to take $47 million from a $138.5 million supplemental bill introduced Tuesday to provide a grant, mostly for welfare, in the 1977 fiscal year starting July 1.

The advance would be used to pay health care providers over the remaining six weeks of the current fiscal period. Although a federal judge here has barred the welfare department from cutting off Medicaid payments, the agency says its fund is depleted.

The joint panel approved Shoemaker's resolution 4-1, a move tantamount to majority leadership support when the General Assembly convenes on June 9 for a three-day session. Shoemaker did not say how the 1977 money would be replaced.

"All that does is put the problem off," said Thomas J. Moyer, executive assistant to Gov. James A. Rhodes. Moyer said Rhodes would not support any effort to advance money from funds budgeted for welfare next year.

Rhodes' budget Director William W. Wilkins earlier told the committee $40 million could be slashed from existing state programs that "I guess I would have to consider a lower priority than the current problem." Wilkins' plan for the 1977 fiscal period would attract $40 million in federal funds, but would still leave a deficit of at least that much, he said.

In addition to cutting back on programs, Wilkins said $14.3 million could be taken from an anticipated $20 million surplus at the end of the biennium. He emphasized that the surplus would only materialize if the governor's two per cent across-the-board spending restraint remains in effect.

Kissinger influence fading?

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Concern about Henry A. Kissinger's campaign-weakened effectiveness as a diplomat clouded today's opening of a North Atlantic Treaty Organization ministerial meeting here.

A senior U.S. official admitted to reporters during the secretary of state's flight from Washington on Wednesday that the U.S presidential election campaign had slowed Kissinger's diplomatic initiatives, particularly toward the Russians.

He said European officials think that campaign attacks on Kissinger by President Ford's opponents may have weakened the secretary's ability to carry out policy.

But the official said Kissinger will keep U.S. foreign policy on a steady course.

He added that the significance of Kissinger's stated desire to retire by January has been overblown, since the secretary had said months ago that he felt eight years in office was enough.

Former President Richard M. Nixon made Kissinger head of the National Security Council in 1969 and secretary of state in 1973.

Kissinger arranged a meeting today with Greek Foreign Minister Dimitri Bitsios to discuss Cyprus and was to meet later with Turkish Foreign Minister Ishan Caglayangil.

But the senior American official said Kissinger didn't expect much progress because both sides have submitted unacceptable proposals.

MISS CHRISTI

Local singer to perform benefit show

SINKING SPRING — The Brushcreek Township Fire Department will present its second annual Country Concert Wednesday at the Sinking Spring gymnasium.

Headlining the show this year is Steve Lake and the Swingmasters featuring Chubby Howard on steel guitar. The Swingmasters are fresh from appearing on coast to coast television as the guests of the Phil Donahue Show. Dayne Puckett, a country-western performer will be with the Swingmasters.

A Washington C.H. women, Christi Shoemaker, will appear Wednesday in the benefit concert. She goes by the name of Miss Christi and sings country-rock favorites. She is also a teacher in the Washington C.H. school district and has performed locally with the Zugg Brothers.

Also appearing will be the ventriloquism act of Mort and Marty, Ronnie Thurman and Nashville singer Jack Arwood.

WSRW radio disc jockey Herb Day along with Cincinnati Reds pitcher Will McEnaney will be present. A Sinking Spring native Gary Waits, who is the Reds bullpen catcher will accompany McEnaney.

All proceeds from the concert will go to the construction of the Brushcreek Township Fire Station. A new site has been chosen and ground has been broken for the building according to fire chief Phil Tong.

The concert will start at 8 p.m., and refreshments will be served at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Tickets are $2 in advance and $3 at the door. Advanced tickets can be purchased at the Sundry Store in Hillsboro and Peebles and at Satterfield's Grocery in Sinking Spring.

The population of the United States reached 200 million in 1967.

Concorde landings OKd by courts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal appeals court decision apparently clears the way for the controversial supersonic Concorde jet to start scheduled flights from London and Paris to Washington on Monday.

The decision also has provided new legal ammunition for Concorde's lawyers in their upcoming battles with the Port Authority of New York-New Jersey, which has banned the French-British plane from landing at John F. Kennedy Airport for six months.

The three-judge panel Wednesday refused to overturn the Feb. 4 decision by Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman Jr. that allowed Air France and British Airways to operate limited Concorde flights into two U.S. airports for up to 16 months.

"This court is in agreement with the secretary that in the circumstances of this case, his order for such a trial period is within his authority and competence and is not arbitrary or capricious or otherwise in violation of law," the judges ruled after hearing more than two hours of legal arguments from attorneys representing various sides in the dispute.

The ruling was a setback to environmental groups which had hoped the court would overturn Coleman's ruling allowing the two airlines each to offer two daily flights into Kennedy and one daily flight into Washington's Dulles International Airport during the test period.

An attorney for the Environmental Defense Fund, which brought the suit against Coleman's order, said his organization planned to ask the full appeals court to review the ruling but said the petition probably would not be filed in time to halt the first flights.

Both Air France and British Airways plan to start Concorde service Monday with the planes landing at Dulles within minutes of each other.

The airlines originally had hoped to start their service to New York first, but the Port Authority ban there forced those flights to be suspended indefinitely. The airlines currently are challenging the Kennedy ban in a district court in New York.

Fairfax County, Va., which contains part of Dulles, also has passed a local ordinance banning the Concorde from that airport. A spokesman for the county said Wednesday there had been no decision on how the law could be enforced. Dulles is owned by the federal government.

TRACKS, BUT NO TEARS—Bennie B. Paradise, 4016 Palmer Road, inspects his lawn after unwelcome county vehicles were removed. He points to one gouge in the landscape while looking at another in front of him. Although Paradise shed no tears, he was very upset about the tracks on his lawn.

Humphrey sees chanceof open convention

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Tuesday's Democratic primary results in Maryland and Michigan reopen the party's national convention but noncandidate Hubert H. Humphrey still sees only an outside chance he would emerge with the nomination, he said Wednesday night.

The former vice president, his political adrenalin obviously flowing again after the brakes had been put on former Gov. Jimmy Carter's bandwagon, told a news conference here "we're about where we were prior Pennsylvania. An open convention."

Humphrey, appearing with veteran Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, prior to a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, said the Maryland victory of California Gov. Jerry Brown "did a great deal in the sense of opening up the convention. The so-called bandwagon theory has been slowed down, let me say, to a sensible movement and speed."

But equally significant, the Minnesota senator said, was the race in Michigan between Carter, the former Georgia governor who emerged as the undisputed front runner after sweeping Pennsylvania late last month, and Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz. Humphrey noted that their contest ended in "a virtual dead heat, they shared the delegates."

The senator reiterated that his own stance has not changed—that he is available for the nomination in the event of a convention deadlock—but he added that he regards such a development as having only "an outside chance." He said that possibility depends on what happens in big primaries yet to be held in Ohio, California, New Jersey, and elsewhere. "The big game has yet to be played," he said.

Hays, an outspoken Humphrey supporter, is running favorite son presidential delegate slates of his own in six of Ohio's 23 congressional districts. Those candidates are seeking 27 delegate slots, and the 14-term congressman indicated those who are successful would be Humphrey's for the asking. "The convention might well turn to him," the congressman said.

In his speech, Humphrey sounded more like an announced candidate than a standby. He reeled off a long list of national ills which he laid at the doorstep of the Republican administration. "Seven sad years of the Nixon-Ford team have been more than enough," he said.

The senator hit particularly hard at the administration for the nation's still sluggish economy and unemployment rate."In the last three years, the Nixon-Ford team has been able to increase employment by barely one million jobs. . .they managed to push the official unemployment rate to an 8.5 per cent average in 1975," he said, adding that it stood at only 3.6 per cent in 1968.

"The Nixon-Ford team has laid waste to the American economy with its 19th Century economic thinking," he said.

Today, Vice President Nelson Rockefeller planned to address the Queen City Club and a private, fundraiser for President Ford during a four-hour visit to Cincinnati. He'll arrive about 5 p.m.

The President's son, Jack Ford, makes his first visit to Ohio during a whirlwind tour that takes him from Piqua in the southwest section of the state to Canton in the northeast.

He'll talk primarily with students at the Upper Valley Vocational School, Bowling Green State University, Ohio State University and then open campaign headquarters for his father in Mansfield.

He'll visit a reception of the Ohio Republican Women's Federation in Canton before calling it a night. The following morning he'll open President Ford's campaign headquarters in that city, where his Republican opponent, Ronald Reagan, has his campaign headquarters for the state.

Another Ford supporter was in Ohio Wednesday night. Rogers C.B. Morton, the Ford national campaign manager, spoke in Columbus to Republican delegates and alternates pledged to Ford.

"I think that the President's position has been regained," Morton told reporters. Ford defeated opponent Ronald Reagan in two primaries on Tuesday after losing to the former California governor in a half-dozen other elections earlier in the month.

"It is apparent in this campaign there is a swing back and forth. The President's campaign has regained its momentum.

And then Morton predicted: "The President will surge ahead steadily."

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Wednesday there may be a record turnout for the primary. The anticipated large number of voters prompted Brown to warn that persons ineligible to vote or who vote more than once will be prosecuted.

Presidential contender Morris Udall of Arizona promised to come "roaring into Ohio" to campaign for the June 8 primary during an airport news conference in Cleveland Wednesday. He was between flights from Michigan to Kentucky, site of the next primary.

In Ohio, he says voters will show disillusionment with Jimmy Carter on June 8 and possibly give Udall a long-awaited primary victory.

Udall called Ohio the key state in his drive to block a Carter nomination in the Democratic national convention. He said that his narrow loss to Carter in the Michigan primary has reintensified his belief that when he is pitted "one-on-one" with Carter, voters will reject the former Georgia governor's "smile and promise" campaign.

Votes opposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Sens. John Glenn and Robert Taft Jr. cast opposite votes Wednesday when the Senate approved 72-22 creation of a permanent committee to oversee the intelligence community.

Glenn voted with the majority while Taft opposed the measure.

Landowner upset over use of lawn

A Palmer Road resident became irate Wednesday afternoon when he returned to his home to find three mowing tractors parked on his front lawn.

Bennie B. Paradise, 4016 Palmer Road was returning from a Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting when he sighted the large yellow tractors in the yard.

He called the Fayette County Sheriff's Department and asked to have a deputy come to his residence to remove the unwanted vehicles, but the department called county engineer Charles Wagner, who handled the matter.

Paradise said he was disgusted with the entire situation. County employes who had been mowing grass along Palmer Road during the afternoon parked the vehicles on his property at the end of their work day.

Paradise said his stepdaughter Sally Gaylord, 18, was in the house at the time, but no effort was made to seek her permission to leave the vehicles on the lawn overnight.

Even before he called the sheriff's department, Paradise took the rotors from the engines of two of the vehicles. "I would have taken the third," he said, "but it was a diesel engine."

He informed sheriff's deputies of what he had done and said he would return the rotors, only to Wagner personally.

When two men from the engineer's office came to the property to retrieve the vehicles, Paradise ordered them off and threatened charges of trespassing. They left.

Wagner appeared a short time later, and Paradise also told him to leave. He was still waiting for a sheriff's deputy to arrive.

Paradise then called the sheriff's department for a second time and was told to return the engine parts. Paradise says he was told to return the parts or theft charges would be filed against him. He handed over the rotors and Wagner removed the vehicles.

Sheriff's dispatcher John Hyer, with whom he spoke, said he simply told Paradise that it would avoid problems if he would just return the rotor.

All he said he wanted was to have the mowers removed, Hyer added. He added that he felt Paradise and Wagner could "work out" their differences without a deputy being present.

Wagner said the county frequently leaves vehicles at work sites to avoid cost of returning them to the county barns daily.

He said they are pulled onto private property away from the road to lessen the chance of theft of tractor parts during the night.

Overtime cut in state agency

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Overtime in the state Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation has been reduced by more than 40 per cent since the beginning of 1975, the department's director said.

Dr. Timothy B. Moritz said the savings amounted to $3.2 million and enabled the department to employ 214 fulltime employes.

Reds edge Giants, 5-4

Big Red Machine off to best start in five years

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The powerful Cincinnati Reds, off to their best start in five years at 21-13, have yet to play their best baseball, according to Manager Sparkie Anderson.

"As soon as the weather gets warmer, you'll see a pretty good club," promised Anderson following Wednesday night's 5-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants, who plunged to their 19th loss in their last 23 games.

"It's our best start in a long time, but we still aren't playing well," added Anderson. "Our defense hasn't been as strong as it should be, and our hitting has tailed off after a good start."

It would be difficult to convince the Giants, who succumbed to two-run doubles by Johnny Bench and Tony Perez before rallying for a pair of runs in the bottom of the ninth to make it close.

"Fortunately, our pitching is coming along," noted Anderson. "Sandy Alcala was supposed to be in the bullpen at the start of the season, but he's showing us he can do the job as a starter."

Alcala, a rookie right-hander, allowed two runs in six and one-third innings while raising his record to 3-0. He has won all three of his starts, previously beating the Chicago Cubs and the New York Mets.

"Sandy is a big, strong kid with a lot of stuff. I have plenty of confidence in him," said Pete Rose, who lifted his batting average to .379 with a pair of singles, giving him 2,600 career hits.

"I also got my 2,000th at Candlestick," Rose recalled. "But you can be sure I'll get No. 3,000 at home. My biggest goal, though, is Frankie Frisch's 2,880 hits as a switch hitter. I know how much work that takes."

The Giants' first half-price promotion in their San Francisco history attracted 23,591 customers who watched John Montefusco pitch against the world champions.

Montefusco, 4-2, allowed three runs in seven innings and was taken to a hospital after being struck on the left shin by Cesar Geronomimo's grounder in the fifth. X-rays proved negative.

"The Count was hit solid by that ball, but he's tough. He pitched well enough to win," said Manager Bill Rigney. "It was a good game We're getting better. At least we're playing some baseball now."

Bench's two-run double gave the Reds a lead in the fourth and Perez' pinch-double off Gary Lavelle in the eighth made it 5-2.

Rawley Eastwick worked out of the Giants' two-run ninth to record his fifth save.

Tommy John's left elbow was a sore point last year for the Los Angeles Dodgers. This year, his right ankle is a sore spot.

John, who lost all of last season because of elbow surgery and cost the Los Angeles Dodgers one of their top pitchers, has been tattooed by batted balls two games running now.

"Don't laugh if you see me wearing shin guards next time out," said the left-hander after his ankle was belted by a Ken Henderson drive during Wednesday night's 4-1 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

John, pitching well at the time, wasn't seriously hurt but was removed from the game after the seventh inning as a precuationary measure. The last time out, a smash from the bat of Al Oliver chased him from the game with Pittsburgh.

In the other National League games, the Houston Astros beat the San Diego Padres 9-4; the Pittsburgh Pirates nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 7-6; the Philadelphia Phillies nudged the New York Mets 2-1 and the Cincinnati Reds outscored the San Francisco Giants 5-4.

Steve Yeager slugged a two-run homer to back the combined six-hit pitching of John and Mike Marshall. The Braves had taken a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a run-scoring single by Ken Henderson. But in the second Steve Garvey singled, stole second and two outs later, Yeager homered into the center field pavilion off loser Dick Ruthven, 4-5. It was the fifth home run for the Los Angeles catcher.

The Dodgers added a run in the third when Ron Cey was hit with a pitch with the bases loaded. The Dodgers added a fourth run in the fifth inning on doubles by Bill Buckner and Dusty Baker.

John, 2-2, scattered five hits over seven innings and Marshall worked the last two innings and earned his eighth save of the season.

Astros 9, Padres 4

Bob Watson's three-run homer in the eighth inning highlighted a five-run rally that sparked Houston over San Diego. After Rob Andrews broke a 4-4 tie with a basesloaded single off Padre reliever Mike Dupree, Watson iced the game with his second home run of the year.

Singles by Ken Boswell and pinch-hitter Larry Milbourne and a walk to pinch-hitter Leon Roberts loaded the bases in the eighth and set the stage for Andrews and Watson to put the game away.

Yaz, Bosox smash Tigers

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

Carl Yastrzemski has played more games than any other man wearing Boston's red sox but that doesn't mean he's slowing down.

Yastrzemski, the man with the marathon name, set a longevity mark Tuesday night by playing in his 2,293rd game, surpassing the record held by Ted Williams.

If you think that game was one to remember, then what about No. 2,294?

The 36-year-old Boston slugger slammed three home runs Wednesday night to power the Red Sox to a 9-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers. Yastrzemski, now in his 16th year in the major leagues, had never hit three homers in one game before.

In fact, he hadn't hit three homers this season and was batting .198 entering Wednesday night's game, embarrasing figures for a lifetime .291 hitter.

Yastrzemski finished with four hits, four runs batted in and four runs scored.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Baltimore Orioles beat the Milwaukee Brewers 5-3; the New York Yankees nipped the Cleveland Indians 3-2; the Kansas City Royals downed the Oakland A's 5-2, and the Chicago White Sox trimmed the Minnesota Twins 4-1.

The victory was the seventh in the last eight games for the Red Sox, while Detroit lost its fourth straight.

The Red Sox, defending American League champions, are now in fourth place, six games behind the front-running New York Yankees. They play the Yankees four games beginning tonight in New York.

"I'm glad to see us playing well because we're running into those dudes," said Boston Manager Darrell Johnson.

Ron LeFlore tripled for the Tigers to extend his hitting streak to 22 games, equalling a streak by Al Kaline in 1961. But the Tiger record is 40 consecutive games set by Ty Cobb in 1911.

Blue Lions finish season with loss

Light pole darkens contest

WILMINGTON — "I've lost because of 13 errors, I've lost because of mental mistakes. . .but that was the first game I ever lost because of a light pole," Washington C.H. baseball coach Dwight Garrett lamented after dropping a 4-3 contest to Wilmington Wednesday.

The Blue Lions went into the seventh inning Wednesday leading the Hurricane 3-2, but after a double-which according to Garrett hit a light pole in right field-by Duane Earley the Hurricane finished out the Blue Lions' season with a 4-3 decision.

Joe Melvin was under the high fly ball when it apparently glanced off a light fixture on the pole and landed in fair territory. Second baseman Mark Fisher had to retrieve the ball, but by that time the winning run had crossed the plate.

The loss left the Blue Lions with a 10-14 overall record and a 5-9 league mark.

The Blue Lions took an early 1-0 lead in the third inning, but the Hurricane came back with two in the fourth inning. Washington C.H. took the lead with two runs in the fifth giving the Lions a 3-2 lead.

Jeff Elliott took the loss giving up just six hits but five of those hits were for extra bases including a home run by Swindler.

Brian Williams went the distance and got the win for the Hurricane.

Jeff Estep led the Lions' eight-hit attack with three safeties. Randy Sparkman had two hits including a triple. Jeff DeWees scored two of the Lions three runs.

Area sports briefs

Mi-De wins

Mi-De Trophy topped Warners Sport Shop, 7-6, in Fayette County slow pitch softball league action Wednesday night.

Keith Guthrie, the winning pitcher, had two hits and teammates Mike Henry, Danny Dodds and Rick Bell each doubled.

Tom Kelley had three hits for Warners and Steve Satchell took the loss.

Gymnastic meet

A gymnastics exhibition will be put on by sixth, seventh and eighth graders as well as kindergarten students at the Washington Middle School Gymnasium Saturday at 7 p.m.

The boys and girls will be working on vaulting, the parallel bars and other gymnastic exercises. A 50-cent donation will be accepted at the door.

Hanners doubtful

Seven class AAA sectional track qualifiers from Miami Trace High School will begin district action Friday afternoon at Columbus Whitehall-Yearling High School.

The meet which combines qualifiers from three sectionals will get underway at 4 p.m. with the field events. Preliminaries in all running events will begin at 4:30 p.m. with the finals set for Saturday at 2 p.m.

Panther tracksters competing for a state meet berth are Art Schlichter and Dan Gifford in the high jump, Greg Cobb in the 100-yard dash, Bill Warnock in the quarter mile, Bill Hanners in the half mile and the mile relay team of Warnock, Cobb, Frank Dunn and Bruce Ervin.

Hanners, the sectional half-mile champion, is listed as questionable for the meet by coach Bill Beatty. The Miami Trace sophomore has an acute case of tendonitis in his right knee.

Cage clinic

The registration deadline for a summer basketball camp to be held at Miami Trace High School is Monday.

The camp will run in two sessions, June 14-19 and June 21-26. It will be directed by the Miami Trace coaching staff and it is for any area cagers in the sixth through the eighth grades.

Interested persons should contact John Woolums at Miami Trace High School for more information.

Jr. Champ set

The Washington C.H. Jaycees will be holding their annual Junior Champ competition at Gardner Park Sunday.

Youths interested in competing in the track and field events should register at noon at Gardner Park. Competition will begin at 1 p.m.

Boys and Girls between the ages of six and 16 are invited to participate.

Something has to give this weekend

See crunch near on Indy qualifying

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Something has to give this weekend when 25 drivers try to cram their cars into one of the 10 spots left in the 33-car starting lineup for the Indianapolis 500.

"It's like trying to put six gallons into a five-gallon bucket," said one veteran track observer. "It's just not going to fit."

One driver almost sure to qualify is 1969 winner Mario Andretti. The dark-haired Pennsylvanian missed the first round of qualifications last weekend when he was in Belgium, driving in that country's Grand Prix.

Andretti has been consistently running his car between 183 and 188 miles an hour, well above the 180 mark expected to be good enough to qualify. He turned in two laps over 187 m.p.h. on Wednesday.

Janet Guthrie's fortunes are not nearly as certain.

The 38-year-old New York physicist has yet to run anywhere near 180 m.p.h. and there are growing doubts about the firepower of her blue Vollstedt-Offenhauser racer. Her top speed this week has been 171 m.p.h. Wednesday she managed just 168.161.

Changes have been ordered.

"We're going to put a laterstyled motor in the car," said Rex Hutton, chief mechanic on Miss Guthrie's car. "This motor has about 600 miles on it. It's getting tired."

Hutton admits Miss Guthrie's time is limited, but he says she can still increase her speed in time to qualify over the weekend. "We wanted to start her off slower so she could get used to the track."

"She's been very consistent — now she should have some speed, too."

Which is not to say her path into the race will be easy if she does.

Looking to get into the race to compete for some $1 million are a flock of other less-publicized drivers. Seven cars not yet qualified have been clocked over 180 m.p.h., and at least 10 more are thought to have a good chance also to top that speed. Track observers say there are others who cannot be completely discounted.

Among those given a chance of cracking the lineup are 16-year-veteran Lloyd Ruby, Salt Walther, Jerry Grant, Mike Hiss, Eldon Rasmussen and rookie Spike Gehlhausen.

Few, if any, of the drivers who qualify this weekend are given a good chance to win the race — not with Johnny Rutherford consistently averaging 189 m.p.h. and Bobby and Al Unser, A.J. Foyt, Gordon Johncock and Tom Sneva all comfortably above 185. But that shouldn't dull the competition.

Salt Lake City new Spirits home

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — The Spirits of St. Louis of the American Basketball Association, leaving their home because of financial losses and nonsupport from the fans, are moving here where six months ago the Utah Stars folded for the same reasons.

"We're here to stay," announced a confident Harry Weltman, club president and general manager, to a Wednesday news conference.

He said St. Louis "is not really a basketball town." He later said a study by club owners indicated pro basketball could succeed in Salt Lake City with adequate "community involvement."

The question now, however, is how much does the community — the ABA's smallest market — want to get involved with pro basketball? Stars owner Bill Daniels repeatedly tried to sell his team before it folded in December. Declining attendance, personnl problems and a losing record were among problems blamed for the demise.

Earl D. Walters, a businessman who says he has raised more than $600,000 in order to get the Spirits moved here, has said Salt Lake City "is one of the better franchise cities in the nation." On Wednesday, he said the folding of the Stars was not a major concern since he believed it had been more because of inadequate financing than lack of public support.

The Spirits have several attractions for Utah fans. Moses Malone, Ron Boone, Randy Denton and Steve Green played here with the Stars before Daniels sold them to St. Louis. Young Malone and Boone, a playmaker, were favorites.

The Spirits also have temperamental and high-priced Marvin Barnes to lure crowds into the Salt Palace next season.

Spirits officials, who reportedly lost $4 million in the past two seasons, negotiated with Utah business interests to share ownership of the team, which had a 35-49 record last season and was trailed only by the now-defunct Virginia Squires.

Palmer sets new mark

DENVER (AP) — "It feels good to set a record of this kind," proclaimed golfing superstar Arnold Palmer after he and his crew smashed the old mark for an around-the-world flight in a small business jet.

Palmer and three companions completed the journey which took them to six countries in less than three days Wednesday night.

The 23,000-mile flight took 57 hours, 25 minutes and 42 seconds, breaking the record of 86 hours, nine minutes set 10 years ago by entertainer Arthur Godfrey.

Palmer, wearing the same yellow sport shirt and brown suit he wore when he began the flight in his Learjet 36 Monday, embraced his wife, Winnie, after embarking from the aircraft Wednesday night.

He called the trip "exciting and enjoyable."

"The highlight? I guess it is right now," Palmer said.

Palmer's twin-engine jet, called the Yankee 200, averaged 479 miles per hour on the global flight, a spokesman for the Aviation-Space Writers Association, which sponsored the trip, said.

The jet made stops in Boston, Mass.; Paris, France; Tehran, Iran; Colombo, Sri Lanka; Jakarta, Indonesia; Wake Island and Honolulu, Hawaii.

"At Colombo, we started getting a little tired," Palmer said.

The only hitch came when bad weather forced an unplanned landing in Wales.

Computers become hobby for many

By RHONDA SEEGAL
Associated Press Writer

BURLINGTON, Mass. (AP) — "One day at school I saw this funny-looking thing with blinking lights," said 17-year-old Roger Walker of his first encounter with the nation's newest hobby: the digital computer.

"I dropped in to see what it was, then I just kept coming back. I really got hooked on it," added Walker.

Computers — for a long time highly sophisticated and vastly expensive machines requiring platoons of technicians, programers, mathematicians and engineers to run — now are being sold and used by amateurs. It's happening just the way ham radios and high-fidelity sets passed into the hands of hobbyists of earlier generations.

The nation's first electronic computer, developed at the University of Pennsylvania's Moore school in the 1940s, took several years to build and cost close to $20 million. But technological developments have made it possible to build an equivalent computer for as little as $500.

The advance which makes possible hobby computers is the "microprocessor," a device which does everything the room-sized original at the University of Pennsylvania could do — yet fits on the area of a fingernail and is only millimeters thick.

"This hobby didn't exist five years ago," said Douglas Callihan, 35, a network radio technician in Boston. "Except for the very wealthy, no one had them in his house."

"We used to consider ourselves fortunate when freshmen had calculus. Now we are getting students who have already built their own computers," said Peter Jessel, a computer scientist at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge.

These small, inexpensive and versatile computers can be used for many things, from playing games to solving very technical problems.

"You can connect the computers to your television to play video games, like ping-pong, or you can connect it to a speaker to play music," Jessel explained.

Walker uses his to grade students' tests.

Geoffrey Feldman, 24, a freelance engineer from Amherst, says he's pursuing more sophisticated goals.

"I dropped out of school, and I'm using the computer to educate myself. I'm getting about 10 times the education for the cost," Feldman says.

"Electronic music is getting very involved, and the computer can take over some of the work," he explains. "I had known people were making microprocessors, and I knew it was just a matter of time before the prices began to drop."

"I play games — like backgammon or chess; store some tax information and eliminate a lot of paperwork from my life," Callihan says. "I'm also using it for a lot of common garden variety things, like watching the house with devices that act as eyes."

Until recently, inexpensive computer equipment was not readily available to the general public. But now Massachusetts hobbyists have their own specialty shop, "The Computer Store," here.

BURLINGTON: Store," here.

Sidney Halligan, 45, and Dick Brown, 43, are owners of the store, one of about a dozen computer hobbyshops in the nation.

"With the low cost and the availability of these computers, they are going to be as much a part of everyday life as the toaster," Halligan believes. "The younger people are going to be in the computer age whether they like it or not.

"Now that there are low-cost computers, the pressure is mounting to develop programs to do domestic tasks," said Dr. Steve Ward, an MIT professor. "They have become cheap enough so that we can expect them to have a serious impact on household management within the next decade."

"It's not a freak idea. It is the second revolution for computers: computers for the people. It is the beginning of a new kind of computer marketing," according to Halligan. "It is a new retail distribution method of what used to be a very complicated product."

His customers, ranging from age 10 to 65, can buy all kinds of computer parts, including the processing unit, the memory, and connections to hook computers to items already in the home. Halligan says an entire system runs from $700 to $1,200. When completed it looks like a small box and can sit on a table.

"The 'biggies' are starting to catch up to this thing," Feldman adds, referring to the computer "kits" being sold by large computer firms, including Intel, Signetics and MOS Technology.

"It's an exploding marketplace," says a spokesman for Intel, the nation's largest producer of microprocessors. Intel's sales last year totalled $137 million.

U. S. losing defense edge

CLEVELAND (AP) — Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld says that while the Soviet Union has been expanding its military capability, this country has been downgrading its defense budget.

Rumsfeld told the Cleveland Council on World Affairs Wednesday this country is capable of defending itself now, but added that if the trend continues, a future defense secretary might not be able to make that statement.

Rumsfeld said the defense establishment has a larger budget today, but, "it represents the smallest percentage of the gross national product, the smallest percentage of the labor pool and the smallest percentage of the budget of any time since before Pearl Harbor."

He said the Defense Department probably was "more efficient than any other element of U.S. government."

Boy requires stitches for bite

Approximately 15 stitches were required to mend a New Holland youth's leg after he had sustained a dog bite Tuesday.

George R. Smith, 10, of New Holland, was treated at Fayette Memorial Hospital after reportedly being attacked by a dog in front of 214 S. North Street at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The owner was advised by Washington C.H. police officers to confine his dog.

Numerous concrete blocks and tiles belonging to Armbrust Concrete Co., 1000 Armburst Ave., were reported to have been thrown by vandals down a ledge in front of the main office. The items are valued at $4.78. The incident is believed to have occured sometime between 4:30 p.m. Tuesday and 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Fayette County sheriff's deputies reported.

Eddie Pendergraft, 51, of 508 Carolyn Rd., twisted his ankle, sheriff's deputies said, after attempting to slow his motorcycle on North Street near Mace Street at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday. He was treated and released from Fayette Memorial Hospital.

No injuries reported in three local mishaps

Three accidents, each of which resulted in no more than moderate damage to the vehicles, were investigated Wednesday by Fayette County sheriff's deputies and Washington C.H. police officers.

Joseph T. Gentry, 57, of 424 Forest St., was driving a truck northbound on the Stuckey Road when he went too far to the right and overturned. Damage was sustained to a small portion of fencing located about a half mile south of the Washington-Waterloo Road. The 8:10 a.m. Wednesday accident caused slight damage to the truck, which had to be righted by a wrecker.

Backing from a space in the Days Inn motel parking lot, a car driven by Nellie L. Whiteside, 53, of 910 Rawlings St., reportedly struck a car proceeding through the lot. The second car, which sustained moderate damage, was driven by Clifford G. Horton, 76, of Elmira, N.Y. Ms. Whiteside's car received slight damage as a result of the 3:45 p.m. Wednesday accident.

Washington C.H. police officers reported that a car driven by Roy O. Sturgill, 51, of 707 Maple St., attempted to turn left from Washington Avenue onto Elm Street. He was struck by a car travelling east on Washington Avenue which was driven by Linda L. Thomas, 26, of 615 Carolyn Ave. Sturgill was charged with failing to yield in the 3:21 p.m. Wednesday accident. Both cars were slightly damaged.

Pistol team takes 2 tops

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department pistol team of Deputy Robert Russell and auxiliary deputies Alan Yeoman and Jerry Coffey recently won five awards at pistol matches held in Springfield and Urbana.

The combined sheriff and police combat match drew 200 of the best police marksmen from Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

The matches were sponsored by the Clark County Police Association and the Champaign County Ranger Officer Association.

Despite 50 m.p.h. wind guests, deputies Russell, Yeoman and Coffey managed to hang on to one fourth place individual award, two first place and two fourth place team awards. Deputy Russell took three awards, while Deputy Yeoman and Deputy Coffey took one each.

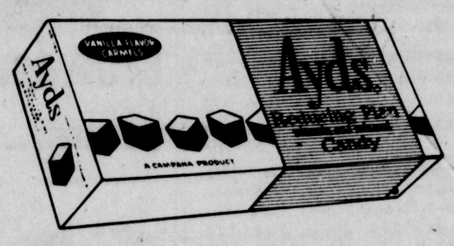

A total of 15 trophies have been secured by the pistol team this year.

According to deputies Russell, Yeoman, and Coffey, their main goal in competing is to "bring the Fayette County Sheriff's Department national awards as a result of competition in the respective classifications."
